Vol. XLVIII. FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 6, 1929. C DAILY, FIVE CENTS

CHURCHMEN TO GATHER HERE TODAY

United Brethren in Christ Will Hold Annual Session of Pacific Division

More than eighty clerical and lay delegates will assemble in Los Angeles today for the sixty-fourth annual session of the Pacific Division of the United Brethren in Christ. The convention, which is starting at 8 a.m. this morning, will continue through Sunday evening, and will be held in the Third Church on San Pedro and Sixty-Second streets. The church has a membership of 3000 in Southern California.

BISHOP IRA D. WARNER

The conclave will be opened officially by Bishop Ira D. Warner, who as head of the Pacific district comprising California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, will preside throughout the session. In addition to the election of a new superintendent to succeed the late Rev. T. W. Ringland, for the coming year and the reading of reports by the numerous committees, the meetings will be productive of addresses and sermons by Bishop Warner, Bishop Emeritus Wilbur Hamilton Hammaker, Rev. W. H. Widdoes of the Philippine Islands, and others.

Bishop Warner, elected at a general conference in Lancaster, Pa., last May, is one of the youngest ever elevated to the episcopacy. He is only 43 years of age. After graduation from Otterbein College, Westerville, O., in 1911, he pursued his seminary work at White Rose Training School, New York City. He has held pastorates in Cincinnati, Dayton, Canton and Akron, serving more than 3200 members in the church. Although he has been in Europe, Palestine and Egypt on religious missions, this marks his first visit to California.

Patrons of seventy theaters in Los Angeles and two at Las Vegas, Nev., were thrilled this week by the Times-Universal Newsreel which depicted the air stunts of Lindbergh at Cleveland and the race of the giant Zeppelin across the continent about the time it left Los Angeles.

Among other news picture shown at the great mass meeting at Exposition Square Garden to protest against the massacre of Jews in Palestine, Women were particularly interested in the gigantic baby parade held at Asbury Park, N. J., where 1200 cradle stars took part in a big parade.

Through special arrangement, the Times has been enabled to show this great newsreel for Los Angeles theater patrons. The Times also has access to photographs of events chronicled and they will appear from time to time in the newsreel.

Those who have seen the reel declare the stunt events of the Cleveland air races, participated in by army flyers and Col. Lindbergh, to be the best they ever saw. Those who saw the start of the Graf Zeppelin across the continent just a week ago were interested in seeing the culmination of the great event and the landing of the ship at the mooring station at Lakehurst.

NEW LEAGUE CALL MADE

Briand Acts to Merge Europe

French Premier at Geneva Urges United States to Meet on Federation

International Policing to Enforce Kellogg Pact Also Demanded

GENEVA, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—In an official step toward the union of a United States of Europe, was taken tonight when Premier Briand presented invitations convoking the chief delegates of all European nations represented here to a meeting Monday or Tuesday next.

At this meeting the French Premier will explain in detail his conception of a federation of European powers in economic and social matters in a rough draft for solidarity among European states and reciprocity between them.

It will stress the point that this federation is not against the interests of the United States of America.

Premier MacDonald, Premier MacDonald, Dr. Gustav Stresemann and other notables arrived tonight before the arrival of Mr. MacDonald for the purpose of discussing the scheme of the French statesman of Europe and Briand showed more sympathy than had been expressed at the German Foreign Office toward previous suggestions.

Tomorrow he is to have an interview with Premier MacDonald, when he will ask the delegates what they return to their countries and ask for suggestions and additional ideas for the completion of the federation.

The question of the security of the United States of America will be brought up in connection with the Kellogg pact, it is learned.

Briand's proposal is to establish a sort of international police force to enforce the pact.

GRAPE CROP STABILIZED

Market Program Adopted

Farm Board Action Hailed as Putting Growers on Feet at Last

Distribution Plan Will be Put in Motion for 1929 Yield

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—Adoption by the Federal Farm Board of the entire program for distribution of the California grape and raisin crop advocated by the Federal Fruit Stabilization Corporation was announced here today. Advices from Washington to the stabilization corporation, the California Vineyardists' Association, Fruit Industries, Inc., Sun Maid Raisin Growers and other leaders in the industry, said the stabilization program for the 1929 crop will be set in motion at once.

The action was hailed by Donald D. Conn, managing director of the California Vineyardists' Association, as "the greatest victory ever achieved at Washington by any branch of American agriculture."

Lloyd S. Tenny, head of the stabilization corporation, declared the working out of the details means that the contracts signed by the fresh grape growers last spring will be put into effect without further delay and the entire stabilization program will proceed as originally planned.

THREE FUNDS APPLIED

Action by the Farm Board follows its public announcement a month ago of the loan to finance the raisin crop. Now there is included in the relief program the means to finance the fresh and juice grape crops, allowing all three funds to be applied in co-ordination, with the primary objective the control of the muscat-grape production and distribution.

The Farm Board, it was said, was interested in making its relief program all inclusive upon the urgent request of grape growers, shippers and processors, who met at the offices of the California Vineyardists' Association a week ago today.

"Knowing," explained President Tenny of the stabilization corporation, "the desire of the Farm Board to assist the grape industry in a substantial way and feeling that the original idea of alloting the muscat crop properly between fresh shipments, by-products and raisins was not going to be accomplished, the entire organized grape industry requested additional steps toward restoring the original program.

PAYOUT EXPLAINED

"The result is approval of the complete Stabilization program. Its main features are: Since the well being of the industry requires that more grapes be turned into raisins or by-products and held, the Stabilization Corporation will make an advance of an additional 1 cent a pound on all muscats handled under Federal raisin loan in 1929.

"Inasmuch will pay to the grower the 2-cent advance provided by the Farm Board and the Stabilization Corporation will make an additional 1-cent advance in the form of an order that will be cashed at the stabilization office in Fresno.

"As the raisins are sold by Sunmaid, the first 3 cents released will be used to repay the Farm Board and the bankers, the next cent will repay the Stabilization Corporation and anything above will go to the grower.

"Likewise, by utilising Federal credits, the Fruit Industries, Inc., will buy a quantity of muscats for processing purposes this year. Withdrawal of a substantial portion of the muscat crop from the fresh-grape market, which is foreseen, will have the desired beneficial effect upon fresh-grape prices.

"Raisins, under the present statistical position, should be sufficiently high to reimburse the Stabilization Corporation in full for the 1-cent amounts advanced.

"This means the program will actually cost nothing to the Federal government or the fresh-grape grower, who has agreed to contribute, for his own protection, to the stabilization fund. The program is based upon co-operation of the grower with the Federal government and the total amount to be contributed by the grower is only a small fraction of the total advanced by the Federal government to make the co-ordinate arrangement possible this year.

"For next year, the Farm Board is making a complete restudy of the grape industry and the fact that an all-industry program goes into force for 1929 foreshadows a closer unity for 1930 and the succeeding years.

"The grape industry is on its feet at last."

Conn, managing director of the California Vineyardists' Association, will return from the East at once, it was said, to explain the details of the plan to growers at meetings to be held throughout the State.

Where Lost Liner May Have Met Its Fate

Arizona-New Mexico Border's Forbidding Terrain

This picture showing a Transcontinental Air Transport plane flying over the region near the Arizona-New Mexico State line indicates the difficulties which would have been met in case of sudden forced landing because of storm or other reason, as well as the obstacles to thorough search for the wreckage.

ZUNI AREA WILD AND ROUGH

Region in Which Searchers Seek Lost Plane Said to Have Varied Peaks and Lava Flows

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—The United States Geological Survey said today that the area in which the plane City of San Francisco is lost varies greatly in type of terrain, ranging in altitude from 6500 feet to 9000 feet and from desert land to heavily timbered mountain sides.

The eastern rim of the Zuni Mountains is cut by deep canyons in the northern area and to the south and southeast slopes down gradually and becomes desert. There is considerable habitation in the northern area but to the southward the country is practically deserted except for a few Indians.

In the northern area there are elongated basins from Gallup south to the Zuni Mountain uplift.

These basins were formed by lava flows from volcanic formations far to the north. The names such as Black Valley and Carbon Wash denote the character of the works which ought to be built and the nature of control over the rivers and over these works which ought to be exercised by each government.

In the northern area the Zuni drive their source from the blackness of the earth.

To the west of the mountains there are long flats that have nothing on them but sagebrush and greasewood.

In the northern area, the Geological Survey believes, water will be found in comparative plenty but as the range shifts southward water becomes scarcer.

The Zuni Mountains in middle Northern New Mexico break up into mesas and buttes surrounded by desert land on which nothing grows except sagebrush and not much of that.

CONTROL AIDED ON COLORADO

"The benefits of any international agreement, that is reached will be increased by the stability it will give not only to farm values and rural credit, but by the stimulus it will provide to border cities like Calexico, Yuma and Mexicali and to the transformation of mesquite plains into irrigated farming sections.

"It is needless to say that the problems involved are complex. They are economic, political and engineering in character. Much care and thought will be required to work out arrangements satisfactory and just to both countries and which will produce desired results without loss of time or waste of money.

WILL GO IN TREATY

"When satisfactory conclusions have been reached by this commission, recommendations will be submitted to the two governments. If approved, they will be embodied in treaties prepared by the diplomatic authorities of both countries.

"This commission is dealing with a problem of immense importance both to Mexico and the United States, the significance of which has been realized only within the past ten years. In all three of the river valleys irrigation is necessary, but irrigation, coupled with climate and soil, will give to agriculture there a value not surpassed in any other part of either country."

SLEEP CHARTED BY SCIENTISTS

DREAMS CAUSED

A tilt in sleeping position explains familiar falling dreams, according to Dr. D. B. Klein of the University of Texas. He said he produced a dream in thirty-nine seconds in which a young girl subject, still hypnotized, described her sensations, saying: "I was falling, falling, falling down a mountain. Isn't that funny? I landed in a town and now I fell from the top of the mountain. It seemed real pleasant."

Simultaneous pressure on both sides of the cot caused a dream of being forced under water. Pressure on a man's pillow produced in forty-five seconds a dream of falling head first into a cellar. "Clay floor—damp—spider webs—wooden steps," said the man describing it.

MISSING PLANE SEARCH PUSHED

would have flown north of Phoenix and south of Winslow, through a deserted and barren area. Such a course would have put the plane down around Danby Dry Lake in California, west of the Colorado River, it is said here. Danby is southwest of Needles.

Only a buffet service of food was carried aboard the plane, with a limited water supply. The food, attaches at the airport here said, would be insufficient to last the eight persons a day. Only by most judicious apportioning of the food and water could the party make much progress in the desert, it is pointed out.

VETERAN PILOT TELLS OF "WORST AIR"

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 5. (AP)—"The worst air conditions I ever encountered." With that terse sentence Ray Merritt, veteran pilot, now with Western Air Express, summed up the prevailing weather conditions over New Mexico Tuesday, the day of the disappearance of the T.-A.-T. trimotored air liner, City of San Francisco.

Merritt, whose run takes him between Kansas City and Albuquerque, said he was compelled to detour nearly 100 miles from his course because of the severity of the storm. One passenger who ignored Merritt's order to fasten his safety belt, was thrown against the top of the cabin and suffered a lacerated scalp.

ST. LOUIS ROBIN PAIR TO JOIN SEARCH

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5. (AP)—Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine, holders of the world's endurance record for sustained flight, expect to leave tomorrow for Winslow, Ariz., to join in the search for the air liner City of Francisco, it was announced tonight.

Riley Sees New Bank Taxation

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 5. (AP)—State Controller Riley, in leaving here today to attend the annual conference of the National Tax Association at Saranac Lake, N. Y., declared he is confident committees will be appointed to seek amendments to Federal statutes regulating taxation of banks.

"Because of Sec. 9219 of the Federal Law and Rulings by the Supreme Court, both State and national banks are grossly undertaxed in California under the new 4 per cent net income-tax law," Riley said.

Stockholder in Loew's Assails "Secret" Deal

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (AP)—Edwin M. Stanton, minority stockholder in Loew's, Inc., operators of more than 100 motion-picture theaters, has started an action in New York county Supreme Court to inquire into the manner in which the Fox Theaters Corporation recently acquired a majority stock interest in Loew's.

Naming as defendants Nicholas M. Schenck, president of Loew's; David Bernstein, vice-president, and Arthur W. Loew, treasurer, Stanton charges they arranged the deal secretely and made a large profit for themselves leaving the minority stockholders out of the benefits.

AERIAL SEARCH GAINS IN SCOPE

Twenty-five More Planes to Take Off Today

Sixty Already Have Been Hunting Lost Liner

Thirteen of Navy and Army Craft Also to Aid

Accompanying them were Miss Marie Stowe, sister of the chief pilot of the missing air liner, and George B. Raymond of Glendale, husband of Mrs. Corina Raymond, who was the only woman passenger on the ill-fated plane. Raymond is an employee of Transcontinental Air Transport and Mrs. Raymond's father is in charge of the company's airport in Winslow. She was returning home from a visit to her father.

According to Capt. Parkin, he has received orders from the department in Washington, D. C., to render all possible aid in the search and to make a minute investigation of every phase of the accident and the conditions surrounding it. From Winslow he and his assistant will go to Albuquerque to investigate what the weather reports indicated when the missing plane left the airport there.

CAPT. SMITH LENDS AID

While the scores of local flyers were taking off for the search word was received from Capt. Burrell Smith, Los Angeles aviator who found the body and wrecked plane of Maj. John Wood near Needles Tuesday, that he was leaving to join in the hunt for the missing passenger plane. Capt. Smith, who is sales manager for the Aero Corporation of California, wired his company yesterday morning for permission to join the search. His request promptly was granted.

Anxiety for the safety of two other westbound flyers who had been reported lost in the storm that is believed to have wrecked the Transcontinental plane was dispelled by the arrival of the pair at Metropolitan Airport yesterday afternoon. They are Earl Gordon and Lindsay Gillis. They reported heavy storms over the Arizona mountain area.

In addition to Gordon and Gillis four planes returning from the Cleveland air races arrived. They flew in group formation over the section where the search for the transport plane is being conducted but saw nothing indicating a trace of the lost air liner.

They reported, however, that on the western side of the mountain range they flew over a truck that was taking back to Needles the charred body of Maj. John Wood and the wreckage of his plane. Maj. Wood's plane is reported to have been struck by lightning while he and his mechanic were flying over the desert early Monday morning while competing in the Los Angeles-Cleveland air derby. The mechanic saved his life by leaping with his parachute and walking twenty-five miles to Needles.

The arriving flyers were H. C. Lippiatt, district sales manager for the Travelair Corporation; Victor Fleming, motion-picture director, in his six-passenger ship; Frank Muller, automobile sales manager; and Grover Ruckstell. They reported visibility poor over the section where the lost City of San Francisco is being hunted. They also asserted doubts as to the possibility of any airplane being able to land anywhere near the lost transport's probable location.

COMPANIES SEND SHIPS

Although many of the searching planes are privately owned by their pilots, almost every airport and air-transportation company around Los Angeles contributed ships and pilots in the organized hunt. From the Standard air lines three planes were sent; five planes left from the Metropolitan Airport; four from the Grand Central Air Terminal; two from the Aero Corporation of California; one from the Culver City airport and two from the Lockheed factory.

Under orders from the Curtiss Flying Service, two Curtiss Robin planes last night were being fueled and conditioned at Grand Central Air Terminal preparatory to hopping off at dawn. One will be piloted by Capt. Peyton Gibson, chief pilot of the Curtiss Flying Service, the other by Chief Mechanic Henry Batson. Both men were given instructions to maintain an uninterrupted search until the missing plane has been located. Each will carry water and food and medical supplies for emergency delivery by parachute to the crew and passengers of the stricken transport, providing they are discovered alive, in addition to ten days' rations for himself and mechanic.

The desert area in which the City of San Francisco and its passengers are feared to have met a tragic end was the scene of a torrential deluge, according to Lieut. Eugene C. Batten of Rockwell Field, San Diego, who arrived here last night after a transcontinental flight that carried him over the lanes traversed by the ill-fated T.A.T. transport.

Batten reported to the Curtiss Flying Service, on his arrival at Grand Central Air Terminal, that in crossing Arizona and New Mexico he passed through a continued succession of terrific electrical storms, and that he plainly was able to see that the terrain below him was inundated.

Augmenting the airmen and ground searchers who are making desperate efforts to find a trace of the lost plane and its eight occupants are the forces of the Union Pacific Railroad, which maintains the resorts in Grand Canyon, Bryce Canyon and Zion Canyon. Instructions were sent to all the employees in the district to give food and aid to all searchers and to lend all the facilities of the company to them.

In connection with the Grand Canyon search the local offices of the railroad learned that Fred S. Dellenbaugh, who explored that section of the country sixty years ago, has volunteered his services. Dellenbaugh, who was on his way for a Los Angeles visit, is the sole survivor of the famous Powell expedition which made the first trip in history down the Colorado River in boats in 1871.

ARMY AND NAVY TAKE UP SEARCH

Number of Planes Left to Commanding Officers

All Craft to Co-ordinate from Winslow Base

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—Army and navy aviators in the Southwest and on the Pacific Coast today were ordered to participate in the search for the missing Transcontinental Air Transport liner City of San Francisco, believed lost between Albuquerque, N. M., and Kingman, Ariz., with five passengers and crew of three.

Responding immediately to the appeal of Col. Paul Henderson, president of the Transcontinental Air Transport line, for aid in the search, the War and Navy departments dispatched instructions to commanding officers of two corps areas, the Eleventh Naval District and the battle fleet on the Pacific Coast, to render all assistance possible by sending out searchers.

The number of airplanes to participate in the search over the rugged and dry terrain in the Southwest was left for the various commanding officers to decide.

Maj.-Gen. John J. Hines, commanding the Ninth Corps Area, San Francisco, has ordered planes from the pursuit and bombing squadrons stationed at Rockwell Field, San Diego, to get under way as soon as possible. Whatever aircraft he has within several hundred miles of Winslow, Ariz., also are to be dispatched.

The Navy Department instructed Admiral L. M. Malten, commander of the battle fleet off San Diego, and Rear-Admiral A. H. Robertson, commander of the Eleventh Naval District at San Diego, to dispatch whatever aircraft is necessary for the search. The order also said the navy planes will co-ordinate with the Army and the aircraft of the T.A.T. Company in its operations from a base at Winslow.

Maj.-Gen. William Lassiter, commander of the Eighth Corps Area, San Antonio, also was instructed to aid with whatever aircraft is in the vicinity of the route of the missing plane.

PLANES READY TO TAKE AIR IN SEARCH

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 5. (AP)—Activities of the aircraft squadrons of the battle fleet and of Rockwell Field turned toward participation in th esearch for the missing T. A. T. plane this afternoon, the Navy lining up ten of its own and three Marine Corps planes for takeoff at dawn tomorrow and Rockwell Field taking steps to put approximately eighteen Army planes into the air as soon as official orders to do so are received.

The thirteen planes from the naval air station will go as one unit, under command of Lieutenant-Commander G. S. Gillespie. They will leave North Island as soon at is is light, and will make their first stop at Kingman, Ariz. The Navy search party will base at Winslow, Ariz., it was announced. Planes of the squadron which started home from the national air races at Cleveland a few days ago, will also be directed to proceed to the Winslow base, it is said.

At Rockwell Field all was bustle and activity this afternoon as preparations were made to send the Army flyers on the search. At 4 p.m., it was announced that probably fifteen pursuit ships and three bombers would make the trip, as soon as authorization arrived.

CALSHOT (Eng.) Sept. 5. (A.P.)—Few mishaps, so frequently associated with high-speed contests, today marked the last practice sessions for the Schneider Cup race. The tourney between the speed kings of the English and Italian air forces is to start tomorrow. The forecast is fair and warm weather. The first day's program will be devoted to navigation tests.

As a result of the practice sessions the following teams were officially announced tonight:

For Italy—Warrant Officer Tenente Dal Molin, flying a Macchi 52; Lieut. Nano Cadringher with a Macchi 67; Lieut. Giovanni Monti, with a Macchi 67; in reserve, a Macchi 52 piloted with Maj. Agello and Capt. Ombrel as reserve pilots.

Estimates of the speed that will be attained in the races have gone up to 350 and even to 360 miles an hour. These have been based upon the tests, but whether such speed has actually been attained has been carefully concealed by both teams.

DEVOTION to the highest ideals of mankind has been the guiding spirit in the building of Forest Lawn Memorial-Park in Glendale. Here has been constructed a shrine to love, to beauty, and to memory, dedicated to the conviction that life is eternal and forever expanding. All of Forest Lawn — its trees, its beautiful buildings, its wonderful statues from the hands of world-masters — reveal the universal desire of everyone to give visible expression to his devotion to endearing memories. Forest Lawn is a permanent memorial-park which, as the years roll by, will become ever more beautiful and ever more sacred to all who dwell in the Southland.

A beautifully illustrated Art Book, "Chimes," descriptive of the works of art in Forest Lawn, may be obtained by sending 25 cents to partially cover printing cost. A very frank booklet, "The Truth About Burial Customs and Costs," will be sent free on request.

ROOT FORMULA SATISFACTORY

Administration Indorsement Given by Stimson

Plan for World Court Seat May Go to Senate

Ratification by Other Powers to Take Year

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (A.P.)—Administration indorsement of the Root formula for American adherence to the World Court was given today through Secretary Stimson. The Secretary said the State Department is satisfied with the Root formula for American adherence to the World Court which plan now has received the indorsement of a conference of World Court members at Geneva.

Elihu Root, American jurist, drafted the protocol to overcome the objections of other countries to a Senate reservation to prohibit the court from rendering an advisory opinion on a question in which the United States had or claimed an interest, without the consent of the United States.

FORMAL STATEMENT GIVEN

The Secretary's announcement was contained in a formal statement, which also asserted the Secretary of State will recommend to the President that the draft protocol be submitted to the Senate on the condition it is ratified by the other states. Mr. Stimson indicated his belief that ratification by the other states of the formula will require about one year.

"I have examined carefully," his statement said, "the draft protocol recommended by the committee of jurists last spring to meeting the objections presented by the reservations of the United States Senate in regard to the entry of the United States into the World Court and I have satisfied myself that this draft protocol, if ratified by the other signatory powers, would meet the objections raised by the Senate and fully protect the United States against the dangers anticipated by the Senate. Accordingly, last month (August 14) I notified the Secretary of the League of Nations, who is presenting this to the other signatory powers, that the draft protocol met with my approval and that if it was accepted by the other states I would recommend to the President of the United States that it be signed and submitted to the Senate for its consent to ratification."

SENATORS COMMENT

The announcement by Secretary Stimson indorsing the revised American reservation worked out by Elihu Root brought announcement of disagreement by Senator Moses of New Hampshire, one of the Republicans of the Foreign Relations Committee.

"The Root formula I regard as nebulous and complicated," Senator Moses said. "If, however, as Mr. Stimson asserts, the Root formula and the fifth Swanson reservation are the same, then the simple method of dealing with the problem is to have the other signatories accept the fifth Swanson reservation. Then everything will be lovely."

WHAT'S TITLE ROLE IF BABY BECKONS?

"Coquette" Star Prepares to Rock Cradle and Show May Go on Rocks, Too

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (Exclusive) Helen Hayes, the actress, is going to become a mother.

While the impending motherhood of the star of "Coquette" is a source of delight and pride to Charlie MacArthur, Miss Hayes's playwright husband, the event throws ten Broadway actors out of work and may cost Jed Harris, theatrical producer, a substantial sum in salary settlements.

Ten actors who had been signed for the 1929-30 season in "Coquette" by Harris appealed to the Equity Actors' Association today. They said Miss Hayes has broken her contract with Harris, and that there will be no show. They asked Equity to make Harris pay them two weeks' salary apiece. The matter is now in the hands of Equity's board of arbitration.

"Surely, I broke my contract," Miss Hayes told Equity, "I'm going to have a baby. That is much more important, to me, at least, than the title role in 'Coquette.'

"How could I continue the play?" Harris, now in London, cabled Equity today. "My star is to be a mother. I could not replace her. I had to close the show."

FAMILY PET DOG USED IN BLAST PLOT

Dynamite Tied to Animal's Tail Explodes When He Reaches Master's Home

SCRANTON (Pa.) Sept. 5. (A.P.)—The family dog was pressed into service here tonight by persons who sought to dynamite the home of Joseph Melnick.

Several sticks of dynamite were tied to the animal, which then was chased home. As he reached the door, the dynamite exploded, tore off the porch, shattered windows in the building, killed the dog and caused superficial injuries to Melnick's 12-year-old daughter Nellie. The girl had run to the door when she heard the animal whining on his arrival.

Six other children in the house were uninjured. Their parents were not at home.

Melnick told police he has no enemies.

Air-Rail Service to Mexico City to Start Sunday

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 5. (A.P.)—A new international air-rail combination, bringing New York and the City of Mexico within two business days of each other, is planned by the Universal Aviation Corporation.

The schedule of the new system calls for a flying time of sixty-seven hours on the westward trip, with an overnight stop at Brownsville, Tex. The return trip will be made in forty-nine hours with no overnight stops. The service will be inaugurated next Sunday.

Ties Opposed in Ceding of Lands

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (A.P.)—A bill proposing unrestricted cession of public lands to the States was introduced today by Senator King, Democrat, Utah, who called attention to the recent proposal of President Hoover to turn over surface rights of these lands to the States.

Senator King and several other Senators from the principal public land States contend that if these lands are to be turned over to the States they be ceded in whole.

No legislative action is expected on the public lands question until the commission named by Mr. Hoover to study the matter has made a report.

Chicago Gang Leaders Slain

CHICAGO, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—Frank (Cy) Cawley, last of the "Four Horsemen" in the gun world, and Edward S. Wescott, West Side hoodlum, were shot to death early today.

In Cawley's rigid hand two nickels were clutched—gangland's symbol for the cheap double-crosser, the modern prototype of the thirty pieces of silver.

FOES OF TARIFF FORM ALLIANCE

Democrats and Republican Independents Join

Administrative Provisions May Come Up First

Borah Recommittal Proposal Again Looming Up

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (A.P.)—The combination of Democrats and Republican independents in the Senate, which for weeks held the export debenture plan in the farm-relief bill against the wishes of President Hoover, was renewed today to oppose the administration group in the pending tariff bill contest.

As a result of an agreement as to procedure reached between Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, and Senator Borah of Idaho, spokesman for the western farm State group, the effort to limit the tariff revision to agriculture will be deferred. After the Senate reconvenes Monday, a motion will be made to start debate on the administrative provisions of the Republican measure.

DEBATES FIRST

Robinson contended the merits of the bill should be debated first and said that after the country is adequately acquainted with the changes proposed by the Finance Committee majority in the House measure, many Democrats will favor a motion to recommit similar to the Borah resolution, which lost by one vote last June.

In announcing the "understanding" between the two groups, Borah would not go into details, but he said the independents will have no objection to deferring a recommittal motion, if it is decided to make one, until after the debate has proceeded awhile.

As for the resolution of Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, to strike out rate sections of the bill except that relating to agriculture, but under which industrial tariff amendments can be proposed, the impression among the Democrats and western Republicans seems to be that this is impractical.

SMOOT WON'T OBJECT

Senator Smoot of Utah, in charge of the bill for the Finance Committee majority, said he will not object to consideration of the administrative provisions first, so the initial clash on the tariff itself seems destined to revolve around these sections in the final part of the bill.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the Finance Committee, will move that the administrative sections be dealt with at the opening of debate, but before doing so he will seek a vote on his proposal to obtain from the Treasury for the information of the Senate membership a record of such profits and losses of taxpayers as may be disclosed in income-tax returns.

The existing law provides that such information may be furnished only to two or three Congressional committees in executive session, but Senator Simmons believes it is discretionary with these committees to turn over these data to members of Congress. Under the resolution, the taxpayers whose financial status would be sought would be those who, in the opinion of the full committee, or Republican or Democratic groups thereon, would be affected by the tariff bill.

CONFERENCE HELD

The announcement of the reforming of the opposition combination came after Senator Robinson had returned to the city and entered immediately into conference with the minority members of the Finance Committee.

The minority leader dictated a lengthy statement to newspaper men in which he outlined the Democratic program and charged President Hoover with an unwillingness to "exercise his leadership for the purpose of causing the enactment of a just measure—that is, a measure which will distribute as nearly equally as possible the effect of the tariff on prices."

Senator Robinson said the "silence" of the Executive "in the presence of issues now before the Senate" indicates that revision of the tariff as an aid to agriculture has been lost sight of or forgotten.

He predicted a vigorous stand will be taken by the Democrats against the flexible provisions of the present law, as amended by the House and Finance Committee Republicans, which give the President power to readjust rates up or down as much as 50 per cent, and against the proposed transfer to domestic instead of foreign valuation as the basis for assessing ad valorem duties.

OPPOSITE VIEWS HEARD

Opposite views on the tariff bill were expressed to President Hoover today by Gov. Fisher of Pennsylvania and Representative Johnson of Washington, both Republicans.

Gov. Fisher said the tariff bill would benefit both agriculture and industry and Representative Johnson declared he told the President the tariff bill as it now stands is nothing but "a stringbean-pigiron measure."

He explained he meant by this that the tariff bill gives inadequate protection to agriculture and more than the needed protection to industry.

Hurley Forced Down in Plane

BELLEVILLE (Ill.) Sept. 5. (A.P.)—Patrick Hurley, Assistant Secretary of War, and his pilot, Lieut. F. V. H. Kimble, flying in an army plane from Salina, Kan., to Washington, were forced down near Scott Field by poor visibility today.

Neither was injured, but the plane wings were damaged.

BAY CITY FOX THEATER BUILDING SUIT FILED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—A suit asking that the recently completed $5,000,000 Fox Theater Building be sold to satisfy claims of creditors, aggregating $100,000, was filed today against the Capital Company, owners of the property.

Among claimants is A. J. Bayner & Co., of Los Angeles, manufacturers of building ornaments, which asserts $34,000 remains unpaid on a bill of $94,803.

Famous $100,000 Check on List of Exhibits

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4. (A.P.)—Scores of witnesses, some whose names were household words long before the tempest began to blow over Teapot Dome and some whom the oil scandals have brought to public attention, are being summoned by the United States for the trial of former Secretary of Interior Fall.

The name of ex-Atty.-Gen. Daugherty is among the first in the list of persons subpoenaed to appear October 7, next, the day Fall goes to trial on the charge on which he was first arraigned June 30, 1924—the charge which reads "Violation of Section 117, United States Penal Code, accepting bribe as Secretary of Interior."

Articles as well known as the witnesses have been ordered brought to the capital and produced at the trial—among them the $100,000 check on the First National Bank of New York, made to the order of the bank and signed by Blair & Co., 24 Broad street. Clerks of the District Supreme Court expect, in fact, that they will be called upon to take care of hundreds of exhibits. They look for at least 100 witnesses.

Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy, has been summoned and so has Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post.

FALL GETS READY FOR JOURNEY TO TRIAL

EL PASO (Tex.) Sept. 5. (A.P.)—Ready to face a jury despite the precarious condition of his health, former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall returned to his home here from his Three Rivers ranch today to prepare for his trip to Washington for his trial.

Although he still is in frail health he is in much better condition than he was a few months ago, his wife told reporters.

Crash in East Kills Flyers

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5. (A.P.)—Leo McElgott, 27 years of age, a second lieutenant of the Three Hundred and Twenty-fourth Observation Squadron of the army reserve, and Charles S. Tygard, 25, a flying instructor, were killed late today as their small cabin plane crashed at Rogers Field.

MRS. McCORMICK WILL DISCUSS SENATE RACE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (A.P.)—Representative McCormick said today that within the next two weeks she will make a formal statement concerning reports that she will be a candidate next April for the Illinois Republican nomination for the United States Senate. The statement will be as short and concise as that in which she gave notice of her candidacy for the House, she added. But it will "say all."

GIGANTIC BANK FRAUD UP IN AIR

Mystery Man Lets $500,000 Slip Through Fingers

Had It All Fixed and Then Didn't Take Money

Sweeping Inquiry Begun of Unique Situation

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (AP)—The American Bankers' Association hired detectives today to solve a financial riddle unprecedented in the history of banking, the puzzle being that a man apparently had got it all fixed up to obtain $500,000 that didn't belong to him, and then didn't take it.

On August 30, last, six of the city's largest banks received code telegrams bearing the signatures of banks in Denver, Colo., ordering them to place from $75,000 to $100,000 each in the Chase National Bank to the account of the Bank of Telluride, Colo.

AMOUNTS DEPOSITED

The banks did as they were requested. The Chemical Bank and Trust Company and the First National Bank deposited $100,000 each and the Guaranty Trust Company, the Equitable Trust Company, the National City Bank and the Harriman National Bank, $75,000 each.

Last Saturday a man saying he was C. D. Waggoner, president of the Telluride bank, appeared at the Chase National Bank and presented cashier's checks for certification. He had documents identifying him and the Chase bank certified the checks totaling $500,000. The man then walked out and has not been seen since. Nor, so far as the Chase bank knows, has he cashed any of the checks.

CHECKS CERTIFIED

"The whole transaction was perfectly regular so far as we are concerned," an official of the Chase bank said today. "The money was deposited with us by the six banks and we are satisfied that it was Mr. Waggoner whose checks we certified. We have had no word at all from the banks which deposited the money."

But if the banks didn't take the matter up with the Chase bank they were not idle in other quarters. Lawyers for the Harriman bank reported the matter to the District Attorney's office and at the instance of others the Bankers' Association began a thorough investigation. The Denver banks insisted they had not sent the telegrams authorizing the New York institutions to deposit money to the account of the Telluride bank.

The cashier's checks apparently had been signed in blank by the cashier of the Telluride bank before he went away on vacation. The Bankers' Association reached him by long-distance telephone and was told Mr. Waggoner was en route to New York on August 30 when the telegrams were sent from Denver and that he is believed still to be in New York. The association said that Mr. Waggoner was seen here by persons who knew him on August 31, but not since then.

The District Attorney's office sent out a general alarm for Mr. Waggoner, or his double, in an effort to find out what it is all about and the Bankers' Association hired private detectives to take up the trail and follow it all over the country if necessary.

In the meantime the certified checks are still at large and as no complaint has been received from the depositing banks the Chase bank made no move to stop payment.

DENVER BANKERS DENY CODE MESSAGE

DENVER, Sept. 5. (AP)—Bank officials were trying today to unravel the details of a $500,000 transaction, involving transfer of that amount from Denver to New York banks on asserted forged telegraphic orders sent from Denver in American Bankers' Association code.

Meantime a search was made for C. D. Waggoner, president of the Bank of Telluride, Telluride, Colo. Bankers here said Waggoner presented drafts at the Chase National Bank, New York, to which the Denver funds were transferred, and deposited part of the certified drafts in other banks to cover indebtedness.

The attorney here for the Chase National Bank said that Waggoner had presented last Saturday three drafts made out to himself for $225,000, $200,000 and $70,000. These drafts are said to have been signed by the cashier of the Bank of Telluride. The Chase National Bank certified the drafts and Waggoner discharged an obligation of $100,000 of the Telluride bank and a $100,000 obligation of a packing company with the $200,000 draft. He turned in the $70,000 draft to discharge a personal obligation of that amount.

The $225,000 draft was deposited in some New York bank. C. E. Downtain, cashier of the Bank of Telluride, reported today that he had been notified that the bank had been given a credit of $195,000 at the First National Bank of Pueblo and $30,000 at the Continental Bank of Salt Lake City.

The Chase National Bank reported that Waggoner had informed it recently that he expected large shipments of money, and asked the privilege of presenting drafts to check the money out.

On discovery of the asserted unauthorized telegrams sent from Denver to the New York banks, private detectives were put to work tracing the movements of Waggoner. He was learned to have left his home about August 25, last, and to have been in Denver up to August 28.

On August 30, three women and two men filed telegrams to the New York correspondents of six Denver banks instructing them to deposit in the Wall street branch of the Chase National Bank sums ranging from $75,000 to $100,000, a total of $600,000, to the credit of the Bank of Telluride.

The Denver Post says the search for Waggoner took on an international aspect when reports were received that the man who presented the drafts may have taken passage on the Graf Zeppelin, which sailed from Lakehurst, N. J., Sunday.

FOUR SQUARE GROUP WILL FIGHT FLAT EARTH CREED

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 5. (AP)—The Journal today says hostilities have been opened between Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, and Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion, Ill., over the religious activities of Zion.

Under the direction of Sister Essie B. Locy, chief aide to Mrs. McPherson, the paper says, a branch of the McPherson organization has been established at Waukegan, ten miles from Zion, with the purpose of "delivering the poor Zionites from the bondage of Wilbur Glenn Voliva" and bringing to them the spiritual message of Mrs. McPherson.

"All that Voliva gives these pious, earnest people is a flat earth," said Sister Locy. "He owns everything at Zion and the people are really his feudal serfs. He fixes their wages, but he does not feed their souls."

BRIAND URGES EUROPE LEAGUE

of troops and fleets from all the powers as necessary to enforce the spirit of the pact outlawing war and the League's decisions against aggressors disturbing world peace. He said the League had not performed its duty until some force to compel respect for peace was constituted.

GLOSSES OVER PROJECT

Premier Briand glossed over his project for a United States of Europe, partly, it is believed, because reports from America indicate that Washington viewed the scheme as being aimed at the United States and partly because of Great Britain's coolness toward the plan as the recent rumors were that London prefers an entente with America and closer relations with Germany in Europe.

M. Hymans went stronger for a federation of European nations to bring down the tariff walls and insisted on the need of states threatened by war having the financial support of other nations.

Premier Briand extolled the Locarno Treaty and the Kellogg pact and then resurrected the old French demand for sanctions—for an international army and navy to enforce execution of the League's dictums—to combine world military strength against any willful aggressor disturbing the peace.

POINTS WORLD'S DUTY

"When an organization like the League has condemned war has it completed its work and done its full duty?" he asked. "We can never say the League has not taken all precautions to prevent the outbreak of war and provided all means of arresting war once it has broken out.

"Having resources at its disposal can it leave them unused? I think it inconceivable. We must be able to tell the peoples of the world that we not only have condemned war but have forged a secular arm to prevent it and punish it if it breaks out."

Regarding The Hague reparations conference Premier Briand foreshadowed an early commencement of the French military evacuation of the Rhineland.

"In the near future the last traces of the difficulties between France and Germany will be removed," he said.

Touching on disarmament M. Briand referred to Prime Minister MacDonald's statement yesterday regarding a naval agreement with the United States. He recalled his ill-fated naval compromise with Great Britain, which aroused America.

"If a naval agreement comes between the United States and Great Britain the preparatory commission will then be able to fix an early date to convene a plenary disarmament conference," he said.

HYMANS SUPPORTS

M. Hymans supported the French demands for sanctions to enforce the League's dictates. He also indorsed Mr. MacDonald's proposal for a revision of the League covenant.

"There is an element of contradiction between the Kellogg pact renouncing war and the covenant, which foresees war as a possibility but tries to control it," he said.

"The Paris pact laid down the principles and the signatories agree to adhere to them, but we must have a means of enforcing these ideas and agreements if they are to be anything more than verbal expressions.

"Two measures suggest themselves. The first is financial assistance for countries threatened by war—not only financial assistance to victims of war. There should be a loan guaranteed by all signatories of the Paris pact, including the government having great financial powers (meaning the United States.) The other alternative is a treaty by which all signatories agree to accept the recommendations of the League Council."

MacDONALD SPEAKS

Speaking at the luncheon of the International Organization of Journalists, Prime Minister MacDonald today said:

"I am perfectly certain that world public opinion is tremendously sincere and has a deep-rooted desire for peace and 95 per cent of the peoples will hold up their hands to President Hoover and I, when we solve the problem of naval limitation.

"It is not a question for experts, and old-fashioned foolish ideas must not prevent us from reaching an accord.

"We have difficulties, but the will of the people is more powerful than any other, and in the end must have the last word."

HENDERSON TALKS

Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Secretary, speaking over the radio tonight, told his widespread audience that the Kellogg pact is only a starting point.

"Now we must strengthen and close the gap in the covenant of the League of Nations," he said. "We must bring that covenant into absolute accord with the Kellogg pact. We must strengthen it so as to bring better protection against aggression."

Referring to the Anglo-American conversations on naval parity, Mr. Henderson said that an agreement "if not yet made, is nevertheless in sight." He added that this agreement too will be only a preliminary affair, but that once it is reached, the preparatory disarmament commission of the League can hurry its task of drafting a general disarmament treaty.

PRESIDENT CALLS OFF CAMP TRIP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—President Hoover decided today to forego his week-end trip to his fishing lodge on the Rapidan River in the Virginia Mountains, although he had planned the trip and had invited several guests.

The Chief Executive called off the outing because he desires to remain in Washington to confer with members of the Republican National Committee who are coming to Washington for a meeting Monday.

Further trips to his camp will be made by President Hoover as weather and fancy suits, and not regularly each week-end as has been the case during the summer.

In the future the President occasionally will take advantage of a beautiful autumn day to make a trip to his camp, as both he and Mrs. Hoover like crisp fall weather when the leaves are turning. Regular week-end visits, however, will not be resumed until next spring.

STOCK MARKET AGAIN HARD HIT

boom was imminent. Later many observers agreed that it was a natural correction of a top-heavy speculative position created in the feverish bullish activities of the last few weeks.

MARKET NERVOUS

The market was a bit nervous at the opening because of the increase of more than $400,000,000 in stock exchange member loans last month, announced after the close of yesterday's market. Early selling was well absorbed, however, with the retention of the 5½ per cent discount rate by the Bank of England, setting at rest recent rumors of an increase, as a stabilizing factor.

Pools became bolder as the session progressed and started to whirl up their favorites, first in the copper and then in the public utility and railroad groups. Rails were advancing at a brisk clip when a storm of selling developed in the industrials and the whole market turned downward.

So great was the flood of selling that the ticker quickly fell twenty-five minutes behind the market and was nearly an hour late in recording the last quotation. The day's sales ran more than 5,500,000 shares.

STOCK TABLE

The following table illustrates the extent of the decline in some of the leading issues.

After the close of the market the New York Federal Reserve Bank announced an increase of $137,000,000 in brokers' loans in the week ended Wednesday, setting another new high at $6,354,000,000, which contrasts with $4,289,000,000 a year ago.

BABSON PREDICTS STOCK MARKET CRASH

BOSTON, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—Sooner or later a crash is coming in the stock market, bringing a decline of from 60 to 80 points in the averages, Roger W. Babson told the sixteenth annual national business conference here today.

"Fair weather cannot always continue," he said. "The economic cycle is in progress today as in the past. The Federal Reserve system has put the banks in a strong position, but it has not changed human nature. More people are borrowing and speculating today than ever before in our history.

"Sooner or later there is a crash coming and it may be a terrific one. Wise are those investors who now get out of debt and reef their sails. This does not mean selling all that you have, but it does mean paying up your loans and avoiding margin speculation.

"What of the future? Sooner or later the stock market boom will collapse like the Florida boom. It is constantly becoming harder and harder to pick up stocks which will give a profit. Some day the time is coming when the market will begin to slide off, sellers will exceed buyers and paper profits will begin to disappear. Then there will immediately be a stampede to save what paper profits then exist."

GIRL SWIMMER TAKEN FROM CHANNEL WATERS

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER, (France) Sept. 5. (AP)—Connie Gilhead, an English girl, came within a mile and a half of swimming the English Channel today. She was still going strong when she was taken from the water at 9:35 p.m., but her manager induced her to quit on the ground that she could not better the record established by Gertrude Ederle.

The start was made from Cape Gris Nez this morning.

A German swimmer named Schliss also started from Cape Gris Nez this morning. At midnight there was no news of him here. There was a dense fog over the channel.

MRS. COOLIDGE CHRISTENS SHIP

New Light Cruiser Takes to Water at Quincy

QUINCY (Mass.) Sept. 5. (AP)—The new light cruiser Northampton was launched at the Fore River Shipyards today with ceremonies in which Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the former President; Secretary of the Navy Adams and others participated.

Mrs. Coolidge broke a bottle of mineral water on the slender prow of the cruiser, bestowing upon the ship the name of the city in which she and her husband have resided for many years. Mr. Coolidge was unable to be present because of business engagements.

Brush Fire Laid to Incendiarist

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—State Forester Pratt today blamed incendiarists for an extensive brush and grass fire which is sweeping over the hills west of Angeles Camp, Calaveras county.

The fire, which has been burning for two days, is out of control, according to a message received by Pratt from State Ranger Herbert, who is directing the control operations. More than 2500 acres of land have been burned over, Herbert informed Pratt.

CENSUS OFFICIAL NAMED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—Charles C. McCray of Redding, Cal., today was appointed by the Census Bureau to be supervisor of the 1930 census in the district including Lassen, Modoc, Plumas, Shasta, Siskiyou, Tehama and Trinity counties in California.

HETCH-HETCHY WORK IN PERIL

Money Shortage May Halt Aqueduct Project

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—Unless additional funds are forthcoming work on the Hetch-Hetchy project will come to a standstill the last of next February, City Engineer O'Shaughnessy warned today.

With the Spring Valley Water Company having only 180 days' supply on hand this interruption in the completion of Hetch-Hetchy may create a grave situation, O'Shaughnessy asserted.

He said that at present he has only $2,000,000 to carry on the work of building twenty-three miles of aqueduct, money which soon will be exhausted.

Edison Reported as 'About Same'

WEST ORANGE (N. J.) Sept. 6. (AP)—The condition of Thomas A. Edison was described "about the same" by his physicians today. "Oppressive weather seems to have slightly retarded his improvement," said a medical bulletin.

ONLY GIRL COUNTY CLERK APPOINTED

STOCKTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—The only girl county clerk and auditor in California, Miss Leotta M. Huberty, has been appointed to that position by the Board of Supervisors of Amador county to succeed her father, the late John R. Huberty, who held the office for many years. She was his chief deputy.

FRENCH TIGER TO SLOW DOWN

Former Premier Ordered by Doctor to Rest Here

SABLES D'OLONNE (France) Sept. 5. (AP)—Former Premier Clemenceau was given a thorough physical examination today by Dr. De Gennes and his heart sounds and lungs were ordered to rest as long as possible.

For several weeks the Tiger has been laboring night and day on his memoirs, which have aroused keenest curiosity in France, and has slept very little and worried much.

Dr. De Gennes was summoned from Paris when Clemenceau and Michel and his local doctor began to worry over a cold the Tiger contracted.

AND

THEY CALL IT A HOP!!

Two thousand and forty-three miles—air miles, mind you, by the straightest line you can draw. Los Angeles at one end, Cleveland at the other. Between are adverse winds, storms, flashes of summer lightning.

Air-mail Pilot Henry J. Brown, in General Tire Company's "Black Hornet" Lockheed—Shell fueled—"hops" it in 13 hours, 15 minutes, 7 seconds, non-stop, to win the distance classic at the Cleveland Air Show.

Behind him by less than two hours, Lieut. Col. Roscoe Turner, of Nevada Air Lines drove in his commercial Lockheed-Vega, also Shell fueled.

This ship, which the week before Turner had flown with four passengers to New York and back in less than forty flying hours, then flew wing-up with Army and Navy speed-planes to win third place in the open speed race.

All right; it IS just a hop to Cleveland. And a hundred and seventy miles per hour is NOT news any more. But in all this calm acceptance of speed and distance stop once in awhile and think of all the "Henry Browns" in the air mail, the "Roscoe Turners" in commercial aviation, the "Lockheeds" in plane building—the list is endless nowadays. Think of the long "hops" such chaps have made these last ten years to develop aviation to its present stage.

Reward them with your confidence, trust them with your mail, your travel patronage. They've earned it, now that you can pass off a "hop" to Cleveland as a humdrum affair.

UGLY DUCKLING CLEANS UP AS FRECKLES COP CONTEST

CHICAGO, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—A girl with freckles no longer is considered an ugly duckling. Freckles once were considered an affliction almost in the same class with cross eyes and buck teeth.

Today a Chicago girl with a crop of freckles on her face and her shoulders and arms literally spreckled with them is a beauty contest winner. She is Louise Wallace, 18 years of age, who was selected by the Illinois Hairdressers' Association to represent the organization at the national convention in Detroit the 8th to 15th inst. There she will compete for the title of "Miss America."

"The freckles added to her piquancy," said Frank Bearing, owner of the Sherman Hotel, who was one of the judges. "They made her a little different from the other types of beauty."

protect American lives. There is no war. The marines, therefore, must not abuse the Chinese. We are here for only one purpose; to protect the lives of our people."

In the huge hall we had rented we arranged all sorts of military and athletic competitions, fostering a spirit of friendly rivalry among the various organizations of the command.

One afternoon I went into the hall with a group of Americans living in China. I had been telling these people about what great warriors our marines are. And there, at a ping pong table, were two six-foot marines with a gun in one hand and a ping pong racquet in the other!

INTERIOR DEFENSE

Of course they were drilled regularly. The other allied powers joined in a perimeter defense of the foreign settlements, and as we were avoiding all entangling alliances we did not join with them but formed an interior protecting force, ready to move, by motor, at a moment's notice to any point whenever an emergency arose.

Less than a month after I arrived in China, on April 11, 1927, to be exact, we got an inkling of what war in China really meant. That day we received word that Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, one of the powerful southern war lords, had organized a special murder squad of 3000 soldiers to do away with all the "Reds" in the Chinese part of the city. The "party" was to start next morning.

EFFECTIVE METHOD

As per schedule the ro.. did come off and all that day there was fighting. Several hundred Chinese "Reds" lost their heads. Col. Miller, of our forces, went as close to the meeting of the "murder club" as he dared, but the rest of us stayed home.

Whatever one may think of such a method of ridding a country of "Reds" this much must be said for it—it is exceedingly effective.

But then life is very cheap in China. The Chinese are fatalists and they do not fear death. For that reason they would make excellent soldiers. Their leaders, however, are not of the best. Their military training is not first class and too many of them are easily bought. Unlike the coolies, the army leaders seem not to be fatalists.

ONE WAY TO COLLECT

Many of them have most unusual ideas concerning life and money—not different from the ideas of a group of merchants in Tien-tsin who found themselves cheated of several millions by a shrewd and not too honest promoter.

An exporting concern which had set itself up without a foreigner to guide its destiny failed. A few banks went down as a result. The stockholders met and looked over the assets. They found the best asset was the insurance on the life of the promoter—the man who had caused them to invest their money and had then robbed them. The policy was for $200,000 and was made out to the company.

In the minutes of the meeting, which were later published, the stockholders agreed to assassinate the promoter and get the life insurance money for distribution among the creditors. The promoter fled into the English concession. The stockholders appealed to the British court to arrest him. This was done.

HAVE NEW PLAN

About two weeks later the same group of stockholders again came into the British court and asked that the promoter be released. The jurist asked why they made this request when only two weeks ago they had pleaded for the man's imprisonment.

"Well," said the spokesman, "he is too smart to be in jail. We have communicated with him and he has promised if we get him out he will organize another company, then rob it, and give the money to us."

The Chinese are a smart people. Their crooks are smart. In fact, one incident that came to my attention there caused me to believe that the Chinese crooks are even smarter than Philadelphia crooks, and from my experience in that city as Director of Public Safety I know Philadelphia crooks are mighty smart.

JUDGE AIDS CROOKS

In the United States Court there—and we have our own courts for our own people—two Chinese came in during a session. They brought in a ladder and leaned it against the wall, on which was hung a handsome clock.

The judge stopped the proceedings and had the interpreter tell the Chinese to make less noise, to be very careful not to drop the clock, and to take it out the door without knocking it against a wall. They replied, through the interpreter, that they would do it quietly and not injure the clock.

So they took it down without damaging it and no one has seen the clock since. Everyone thought they were taking it out for repairs, but they were just a pair of thieves who wandered in. They have a nice, expensive, marble clock, and the judge told them to do it. And they handled it very carefully in taking it out.

Many of the Chinese generals, of all factions, while lacking the military knowledge generally demanded for such posts, were as adept in chicanery as these smart crooks.

Cook County in Illinois Facing Money Crisis

CHICAGO, Sept. 5. (AP)—A financial situation described by County Treasurer George F. Harding as "extremely discouraging" threatened today to result in I.O.U.'s for the county's 4000 employees on the next semimonthly pay day, on the 20th inst.

"We have approximately $125,000 in the corporate fund and a $450,000 pay roll ahead," Harding said. "In my opinion," the county will have to authorize the issuance of scrip."

The immediate difficulty is explained as due to the fact that the county is operating on a budget based on estimates of revenues far in excess of that which will be produced.

COAST OIL LAND DISPUTE HEARD

Case Up for Review Before Interior Department

Millions Involved in Tract Near Santa Barbara

Mrs. Willebrandt Reported Employed to Help

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—A dramatic legal battle involving ownership of a narrow strip of oil land valued at many millions along the coast line abutting the Ranchos Dos Pueblos, in Santa Barbara county, California, came to a head here today in a hearing before Assistant Secretary of the Interior Edwards.

The cast—a test one, potentially affecting many similar coast-line oil fields in California—was argued by counsel for E. W. Lloyd, seeking a patent for the disputed territory on the one side, and those for the Rio Grande and Barnsdall oil companies on the other. Presentation of oral arguments was concluded, and time was given counsel representing all interests to file briefs. A similar case from California is coming before Assistant Secretary Edwards late next month and as the two matters are to be considered jointly it probably will be sixty days or more before the decision of the Interior Department is handed down.

HIGHLY TECHNICAL

The case presented today hinges almost entirely on whether the Pacific Ocean is the southern boundary of an old Spanish land grant given to Nicholas Den, and embracing the strip of oil land now in controversy. Counsel for the Rio Grande and Barnsdall Oil companies, which are now operating oil wells on the territory, contended that the grant extended to the ocean, thus taking in everything down to the tide-water mark. Attorneys for Lloyd argued that the southern boundary of the grant pursued an irregular course, which had no regard for the ocean, and which purposely excluded the then valueless property immediately adjacent to the ocean in order that Den might acquire in lieu thereof the same amount of grazing land elsewhere on the tract.

The argument was highly technical, consisting mostly of a long parade of court decisions and historical recitation of the exact terms of the Spanish grants, surveying methods in vogue in the early days of California, etc.

MRS. WILLEBRANDT PRESENT

David R. Faries of Los Angeles made the principal argument for Lloyd, the petitioner challenging the validity of the leases under which the Rio Grande and Barnsdall companies are operating. Faries contended that the narrow strip along the coast line off Ranchos Dos Pueblos is public land, and therefore subject to leasing by his client.

James J. Hayden, Washington attorney, presented the case of the oil companies. Advising him was Edward J. Baughn, Los Angeles, general counsel for the Barnsdall company of California.

An interested spectator during most of the hearing was Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt of Los Angeles and Washington, who recently resigned as assistant Attorney-General to pursue the private practice of law. It is reported she has been asked to come into the case and submit a brief on behalf of the oil companies.

The controversy is one of far-reaching consequence.

THEATER PLOT ADMITTED

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 5. (AP)—C. H. Beggs today entered a plea of guilty before Judge Pullen here on charges of attempting embezzlement of $3008 funds of the Hippodrome Theater several weeks ago. With J. A. Gresens, Beggs is said to have "faked" a hold-up. Gresens was not arraigned today.

What sort of landlord will he be?
How much comfort shall we enjoy?
What will the neighbors be like?

Let the refrigerator tell you

... when you choose that new apartment

WHEN you find an apartment that is equipped with a General Electric Refrigerator—stop, look and lease. For, good landlords. good apartments and good refrigerators go together.

The landlord who equips an apartment with a General Electric Refrigerator is the kind of a landlord you want.

The fact that he has made the necessary investment to install General Electric Refrigerators means that he is sincerely interested in the permanent comfort of his tenants. And probably all other appointments in the apartment will also be of the best.

The tenants who have General Electrics are assured of a generous supply of pure ice cubes and of the most perfect, constant health-guarding refrigeration.

From the baby's milk to an unusual dessert for a dinner party—food is kept always safe, pure, delightfully fresh. And the General Electric's quiet, faithful performance is worry-proof.

The General Electric, proved favorite of the country, attracts the most desirable people to an apartment. Desirable people make good neighbors for the tenant and good tenants for the landlord.

TOWN HOUSE Kitchen---

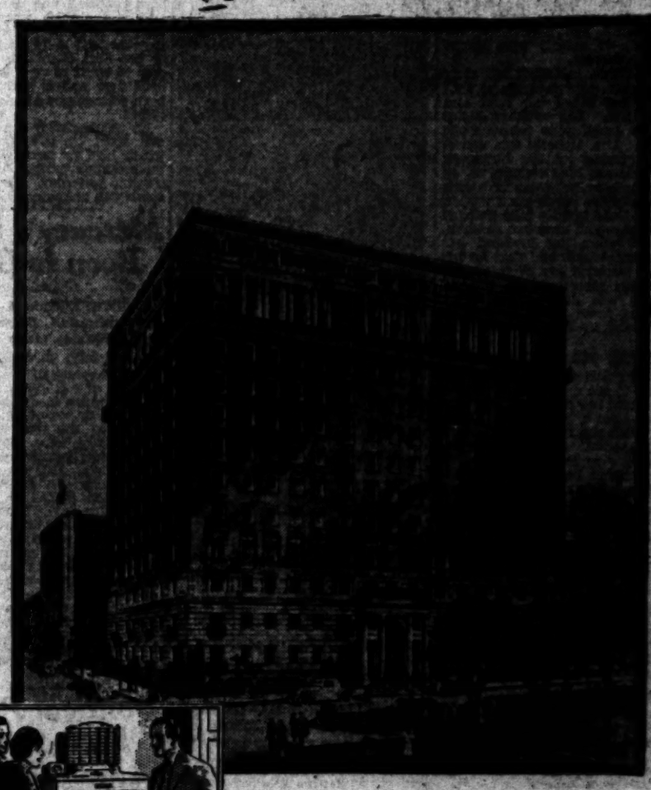
The suites in The Town House are complete to the last detail. In the kitchens one finds at an arm's length every modern convenience and all of the highest quality. Each of the 124 kitchens is equipped with an individual General Electric Refrigerator. It is a true indicator of the type of appointments which one will find in The Town House.

Perfect for Apartments

WITH General Electrics, each tenant has complete control over his own refrigerator. He defrosts it and regulates the temperature to suit his own convenience. No action of another tenant or of the superintendent interferes with his service.

The mechanism is simple and trouble-free. Being hermetically sealed, it is dust-proof, requires no oiling, operates most quietly, creates no radio interference.

The General Electric has an all-steel cabinet. Doors cannot sag; hinges and latches cannot loosen. There is no wood to absorb odors and it is completely porcelain lined. Even the freezing unit is porcelain and nowhere is there a single crack or cranny where dust or dirt can lodge. So thick is the insulation and so efficient the mechanism that whether tenant or landlord pays for the electricity neither one will ever find the operating cost anything but a happy surprise.



The TOWN HOUSE

This splendid and wonderfully complete hotel residence takes front rank not only with similar structures on the Pacific Coast but throughout the world. Its owners and builders have neglected nothing which would add to the convenience and comfort of those who select it as their home. Those who are fortunate enough to live in this Los Angeles achievement will find life in Southern California more than ever enjoyable. Residents of The TOWN HOUSE will have as their landlord—

The United Pacific Securities Corporation

Consider This Record

There are now more than 350,000 General Electric Refrigerators in use and not one owner has paid a dollar for repairs or service. This is another vital reason for the selection of the General Electric by apartment builders and operators. Freedom from maintenance cost makes it by far the most economical refrigerator.

TRAGEDY TURNS TO COMEDY ACT

Lack of Rehearsal Blamed for Wife's Poor Aim

Latter Misses Woman in Triangle Completely

Asserted Rival Then Downed With Gun Barrel

LONG BEACH, Sept. 5.—Lack of rehearsal turned a tragedy into a comedy this noon when Mrs. Frances Roberts, 30 years of age, of 1128 Arcadia court, fired five shots at Miss Marian Felmlee, 23, of Seattle, whom she accused of being a rival for the love of her husband, James Roberts, chief petty officer in the Navy. All of the shots fired by Mrs. Roberts from a 45-caliber navy revolver missed Miss Felmlee and in the hand to hand struggle which followed Mrs. Roberts dropped Miss Felmlee by striking her over the temple with the barrel of the weapon. Miss Felmlee was not seriously injured. She was held by police as a material witness while Mrs. Roberts was booked on investigation of assault with intent to commit murder.

Mrs. Roberts, in telling her story to the police, expressed regret that she had not killed her rival and then herself. She attributed her failure to inability to rehearse the shooting. Mrs. Roberts was assisting in carrying out her husband's plans to locate Miss Felmlee in an apartment here, believing that their relationship was purely platonic. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts have been married for ten years and have two children. She told police her husband has been a model mate and that he apparently returned her deep love for him. This morning Mrs. Roberts said she was disillusioned when she found three letters written to her husband by Miss Felmlee from Seattle.

TAKES WEAPON ALONG

The wife this morning carried out her part in the arrangement whereby she aided her husband move Miss Felmlee from a hotel to an apartment which she had selected at 611 Locust avenue. She prepared for emergencies by putting the revolver in a shopping bag which she carried from then until the shooting. While her husband was renting a taxicab she discussed the situation with Miss Felmlee and told her she had better go to Los Angeles and step out of Roberts' life. Miss Felmlee agreed but the two women were carried along on the plans of the husband.

At the apartment Miss Felmlee suggested that the wife inform Roberts of her ultimatum and she did. Roberts went ahead and completed negotiations for renting the apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left the apartment and on the street they discussed the triangle. Roberts told his wife he could not be happy without Miss Felmlee's companionship and that if she sent her away he would go to China.

After the husband departed for the U. S. S. Saratoga to re-enlist Mrs. Roberts said she doubled back to the apartment. Pulling the gun from the shopping bag as she entered Mrs. Roberts told Miss Felmlee she was going to kill her, according to a statement to police. She started shooting. Miss Felmlee ran into a closet after two or three shots had been fired. Mrs. Roberts dragged her out and emptied the gun at her but failed to hit her.

BOTH WOMEN WAITRESSES

In the struggle which followed Miss Felmlee suffered her only wound, a gash in the temple from the gun barrel and a bruise on the forehead where she fell to the floor. Both women are waitresses. The husband has completed sixteen years' service in the Navy, receiving his discharge from the U. S. S. Maryland last Friday. Mrs. Roberts said she first saw Miss Felmlee Saturday when a young daughter in the Roberts family pointed the woman out on the beach as the companion of the husband on the beach that morning.

POPULATION BOOSTER KEEPS DOING HIS BIT

VAN NUYS, Sept. 5.—Gordon L. McDonough, manager of the San Fernando Valley branch of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce at Van Nuys, is always doing things to increase the population of Van Nuys and the valley.

He plugs for new industries, more workers and more pay rolls—anything to increase the population. He is at work officially and unofficially all the time. Yesterday McDonough announced he and Mrs. McDonough were parents of a new daughter, their seventh child. McDonough is 35 years of age and looks it, but says he is 40.

GARAGEMAN THOUGHT TO BE MURDERED

Anaheim Resident on Way East Found With Bullet Through His Brain

ANAHEIM, Sept. 5. — P. O. Lippman, 53 years of age, former Anaheim business man, is believed to have been murdered Sunday along the highway not far from Sulphur, S. D., according to word received here today.

Lippman, until a few weeks ago owner of a garage located at 130 North Lemon street, Anaheim, was found Tuesday by the side of his car, with a bullet from a high-powered rifle through his head. The barrel of the rifle was jammed into the wound to a depth of six inches.

Although a Coroner's jury found that Lippman had come to his death at the hands of a person or persons unknown, Sheriff Hohr of Meade county, South Dakota, was of the opinion that death was from suicide. The safety on the rifle was locked at the time the body was found. A second inquest was ordered today by State's Attorney Morrill to be held at Sturgis, the county seat of Meade county.

The expensive automobile driven by Lippman, his elaborate camping equipment and his money were found intact, according to reports here.

Lippman informed friends several weeks ago that he would leave Anaheim August 27 for Lemmon, S. D., to visit his son, H. G. Lippman. The dead man's widow had gone east by train and was awaiting her husband when informed of his death.

EXERCISES RIGHT TO BE POLICEMAN

SLOT MACHINES COME BACK

While Ventura Officials Still Ponder Gaming-Device Problem, Devices Reinstalled in Poolrooms

VENTURA, Sept. 5.—While city officials still are pondering over just what can be done about gaming devices, slot machines have been reinstalled and are operating as of yore in the billiard halls of Ventura.

Although the present situation might appear to be a partial victory for Charles H. Gans, Los Angeles slot-machine concessionnaire and lessor of the machines in operation here, it was rumored that the forthcoming Ventura County Fair has brought about a lull in the civil battle, of which Gans has take mmomentary advantage.

Unofficial reports indicated that if slot machines are driven from the city entirely the gaming-device interests might themselves push the matter sufficiently far to prevent concessionaires from operating at the fairgrounds.

[illegible] at the City Hall just before the Tuesday-night meeting of the Council and admitted he was anxious to have the matter settled "in some way." There is, however, no settlement whatever, according to both city officials and proprietors of establishments in which the machines now are being operated.

The matter still hangs in mid-air and it was believed that further consideration might be given it after the fair closes.

The machines at present are located only in places where minors are not allowed. Twenty-six games, said to be used as trade stimulators only, have appeared with the slot machines.

AIR CRASH VICTIM TO GET WELL

W. C. Ranney, Hurt When C. K. Radford Was Killed, Will Recover, Doctor Says

REDLANDS, Sept. 5.—The recovery of William C. Ranney of East Highlands, seriously injured in an airplane crash near West Lugonia avenue, Redlands, Monday afternoon, is expected by Dr. W. A. George, attending physician, at the Loma Linda Hospital.

Charles K. Radford of Riverside county, Scout executive, was killed in the same crash. Radford was instructor at the Tricity Airport and Ranney was taking lessons in flying from him at the time. Ranney sustained a broken left leg, two broken arms and cuts and bruises.

"Ranney does not recall how the accident happened," stated Dr. George today. "He remembers having gone through a large number of aerial spirals and spins, but as to the cause of the actual crash he is unable to give evidence of much value. This is the usual case with such accident victims that have been rendered unconscious.

"There are no internal injuries that we have discovered." Ranney is married and a prominent rancher of the East Highlands district. His son, 16 years of age, is also a student flyer and is said not to have been discouraged by his father's accident.

No responsibility for the accident was fixed by the Coroner's jury which held its session at the Shaw undertaking parlors in San Bernardino yesterday. The cause of the crash was unknown, the jury found.

Mercury's Drop Boon to Grower

ONTARIO, Sept. 5.—Quick drop in temperature from a blistering heat to 68 deg. today proved to be a great boon to the fruit groves and grapevines of this community, growers and shippers said today.

The grapes, ready for harvest this week, were beginning to show the effects of the long hot spell and vineyardists were becoming concerned over probable damage to the heavy crop. Had the weather continued hot the grapes could not have been picked in time to save them, it is said. They are now in a stronger condition for the harvesters who are stripping the vines.

According to cannery men, the change in weather conditions was ideal for growers and canners alike. Many peach orchards were beginning to show indications of sunburn and a few more days of heat would have damaged the crop extensively, the canners said. The peaches now have a better chance to "size."

Political Pot at Premature Boil

ONTARIO, Sept. 5.—Resignation of A. L. Davenport from Ontario City Council, due to ill health, has caused a quick steaming up of the political pot in the community over candidates to fill the unexpired term of the resigned Councilman.

Although the next municipal election is several months in the future, interest in the Council's selection of a man for Davenport's chair is as keen as a pre-election caucus.

Three prominent men are being mentioned, one of whom will probably receive the appointment. They are A. B. Lund, defeated in the last City Council election; Henry B. Hickey, past commander of the American Legion, and Leland S. Davidson, local attorney.

The City Council will make known its selection the 16th inst., according to Mayor Francis P. Williams.

BOND FUND SURPLUS LACK RAISES TAXES

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 5.—The city tax rate has been set at $1.59 for 1929-30, an increase of 10 cents over the rate for the year just closed. Lack of surplus in the bond retirement fund necessitated the raise. Taxes in the recently annexed Villa Tract will be $1.21.

TINY GRAVE IN YARD MYSTERY

But New Coroner Solves It In Short Order As Pet's Final Resting Place

CALEXICO, Sept. 5.—"In memory of Polly, died May 1," was the legend written in pencil on a board marker at a tiny grave reported last night to Coroner W. T. Talbott, recently appointed for Imperial county. The grave was in the rear yard of a house at 800 Imperial avenue recently vacated by a Mexican family and furnished the first mystery under the new Coroner's regime.

Deputy Coroner C. C. Cockley and Police Officer C. L. Brower began excavation when neighbors telephoned the report. Finding the wooden box, they dug carefully until they had lifted it out and opened it.

Polly, they discovered, was the dog once owned by the children of the Mexican family and the new Coroner's mystery-solution score is perfect.

THIS TALL STORY COMES TRUE

Miss Ernestine in Earnest About It

Isn't This Height A-Maizing?

No, this corn didn't grow in Iowa. It's just a little patch of prize maize planted and raised here in Sunny Southern California. The young lady has stalked her prey and has it right by the ears.

POMONA, Sept. 5.—In what phase of endeavor in the Southland is the general public most interested?

This interesting question is to be answered at Los Angeles County Fair which opens at Pomona the 17th inst. and continues through Sunday the 22nd inst., according to plans just suggested. By watching the direction taken by the visitors along the walks leading to the different departments and by keeping tab on the numbers visiting them it is believed that a fairly accurate estimate can be made. It is also believed that the convenient arrangement of the different sections will lend itself admirably to the novel experiment.

HOW CHECK WILL BE MADE

In this way a check can be made on the interest in the agricultural and horticultural exhibits. Likewise by comparison the interest in the industrial display can be known. The great livestock department also offers opportunity for an interesting study while it is felt that few if any will pass up the automobile show, especially in view of the many new models brought out recently. Ranch machinery in the heavy-machinery division naturally attracts the ranchers but it is said that there is a surprising amount of general interest displayed.

The fair promises the greatest race program in its history this year. This assurance comes from Frank Lieginger, racing secretary of the Western Fairs Association, and is based upon the entries at the State fair in Sacramento, the Stockton fair and other earlier meets. A number of fast entries are coming down from Washington and Oregon this year. Five big events will be held each afternoon except Sunday when the million-dollar livestock parade will take the place of the races.

NIGHT HORSE SHOW

Fair officials are enthusiastic over the outlook presented by the night horse show which will be held each evening except Sunday. More than 200 aristocrats from the biggest stables in America will be entered in this brilliant event. It is the boast of Manager C. B. Afflerbaugh that he will present, this year, the most beautiful horse show in America.

The agricultural and horticultural departments will present an exposition in themselves, for assurance is given that the display will be the largest and most varied of any ever shown in the West. In the livestock department the officials are faced with the problem of caring for all the entries that are coming in from every part of the country. The latest entry to be received comes from Jacksonville, Fla., and consists of seventeen pens of Hampshire, Berkeshire and Tamworth hogs.

The week's program will reach its climax Sunday when the million-dollar stock parade will be held in the afternoon before a record-breaking audience.

WHITE ARM EVIDENCE IN MURDER

Girl Testifies to Fleeting Glimpse Impression When Roy Kirk Was Killed

SANTA ANA, Sept. 5.—A white arm, dimly seen in the uncertain light, lashing out at a dark figure that crumpled in the roadway—

That "snapshot" view of the death of Walker Roy Kirk, as it came to a girl motorist flashing past in an automobile, forms one of the links in a chain of evidence by which prosecutors today were trying to fasten a murder upon Albert Nava and Allen Slater.

Mrs. Peggy Rowe of Santa Barbara, tiny blond witness, was the girl who caught the fleeting glimpse of a struggle between two men which ended with the death of Kirk on a crowded highway near Huntington Beach July 28, last.

She depicted the scene to a jury today in Superior Judge E. J. Marks's court, where Slater and Nava are now fighting for their own lives.

The white-clad arm belonged to Nava, the State contends, having introduced other evidence to show that he wore either a white shirt, without a coat or wore a white sweater. Previously it had been shown that Kirk was attired in a dark suit.

But the girl flashing past in the automobile caught only a glimpse. Although that one look carved itself deep into her memory, she could not identify Nava, whom she did not see again until he stood before her today in court. That point, however, does not matter to the prosecution, as Nava admits striking the blow.

Where prosecution and defense differ relates to what followed the blow that felled Kirk and what its results were; also whether the blow was justified. Upon those matters depends the fate of Nava at least and possibly Slater, his companion, though Slater claims the role of innocent bystander.

The prosecution, although Dist.-Atty. Z. B. West, Jr., closely guarded his "theory" and intended line of testimony, is expected to produce evidence tending to show that Kirk was killed directly as a result of Nava's blow.

Sheriff Sam Jernigan, State Motorcycle Officers Dan Adams and Floyd Yoder were on the stand late today. Night sessions may be required to conclude the case this week.

EDITOR CHANGES JOBS

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 5. Robert E. Smith, formerly an editor of the North Hollywood Sun, has left here to become editor of the Hanford Daily Signal.

LIQUOR QUIZ HALT ASKED

Repeated Attempts to Hold Up Inquiry Into Asserted Fixing Conspiracy Charged in San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 5.—Repeated attempts to have the $27,000 liquor-fixing investigation here halted have been made recently, it was revealed here today by officials connected with the investigation.

"Several prominent persons have approached me within the last few days and asked that the inquiry into the reported bribery be stopped," one of the officers who is pressing the investigation said.

The officer who made the assertion refused to divulge the names of the persons who he said approached him and requested that his name be withheld from publication.

Grand jury investigation into charges that five men conspired here last month to violate the prohibition laws will be delayed at least a week due to inability to organize a grand jury before next Wednesday afternoon, it became known today. Only fifteen of the required nineteen prospective veniremen reported in Superior Court at the hour set. Judge C. N. Andrews issued summons for twelve additional veniremen, chosen from the list in the grand jury box to report with the others Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Of the fifteen who reported themselves available for duty, one later was excused. The total now expected to be available is twenty-six. The law requires at least nineteen persons to form a grand jury.

The conspiracy charges, resulting when police raided a Seventh-street store building and seized $27,000 worth of asserted liquors, are being investigated by Federal agents. However, possibility of State law violation exists also and the District Attorney has announced himself willing to aid the grand jury in a county investigation independent of that conducted by the Federals.

TESTIMONY AT INQUEST CONFLICTING

Coroner's Jury Fails to Place Responsibility in Santa Barbara Fatality

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 5.—Despite the testimony of three witnesses that liquor was smelled on Keith Johnston, owner and driver of one of the automobiles involved in the accident Sunday night which resulted in the death of Michael Danerie, 50-year-old San Francisco man, and injury of his wife and three children, a Coroner's jury last night failed to place any responsibility for the collision and found in its verdict only the cause and bare circumstances of death.

Conflicting testimony as to whether Johnston, owner and reported driver of the car which was in collision with the Danerie auto, had been drinking was introduced. Two witnesses testified that they smelled liquor on Johnston's breath and Lawrence J. Porter testified that Johnston was intoxicated.

R. G. Neustad testified that Johnston appeared at his home in Montecito about 4 a.m., Monday and was sober. Charles Danerie, 21-year-old son of the dead man, on the stand declared the Johnston car was traveling "at least sixty miles an hour."

Johnston did not appear for the inquest, being confined to his home on doctor's orders to rest. He was only bruised in the accident.

Ken Noble, an eye witness to the accident, who said he was walking up State street about thirty feet from the intersection when it occurred, testified that the Danerie car must have been traveling at the rate of between thirty and thirty-five miles an hour up the street. He said he smelled liquor in the Johnston car.

Dr. George A. White, 24 West Arrellaga street, who came out of his home after hearing the crash, testified that he also smelled liquor on a man whom some one called Keith Johnston.

It also was testified that Johnston was taken from the scene of the accident by A. E. Hensley and Miss Augusta Trimble. Miss Trimble and her brother, Ford, were in Johnston's automobile. None of the three was summoned for the inquest.

The witnesses also told officers the Johnston car whirled clear around with its front heading back on East Arrellaga street.

One of the last witnesses on the stand was Officer R. L. Riggs, who testified he took five small whisky glasses from the Johnston car. Mrs. Danerie and her 11-year-old daughter, Geraldine, are in the hospital suffering from injuries received in the accident while Charles and the younger son, Edward, are able to be out.

Dist.-Atty. Ward said this afternoon that he would be forced to file manslaughter charges against Johnson, whose car was involved in Sunday's crash which caused the death of Danerl. The District Attorney made this statement following a conference with police officials and Mr. Johnston's attorney. The official said the charges would be filed in a day or two.

First Rainfall at Many Points Over Southland

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 5.—Marking the first time that rain has fallen at San Diego since May 26, a period of 102 days, misting rains fell over the city and along the coast sections of the county last night and early today. The rain, the first of the 1929-30 season, totaled .04 of an inch at the official weather bureau and reduced the seasonal deficiency to .04 of an inch, according to Dean Blake, local meteorologist.

Continuation of today's weather conditions is forecast for tonight and tomorrow by Blake.

Airways reports received by Blake indicate that precipitation on the coast during the last twenty-four hours, was confined practically to San Diego county.

Light rainfall is reported as far inland as Viejas Valley and as far northward along the coast from San Diego as Dana Point. Clear weather prevailed at 8:30 a.m. today at Descanso and other mountain stations reported only small patches of fog and mist.

Rain figures follow: Last twenty-four hours, .04; for the storm, .04; seasonal to date .04; last year's seasonal to date, .03.

Out of a high fog which darkened the sky at Glendora this morning came a heavy shower and the gauge here measured at .07 of an inch. This brings the rainfall to 17.06 since October 1, 1928, and the preceding year from October to October totaled 17.12.

The first rainfall of the season was reported at Palos Verdes, where the gauge measured a precipitation of .02 of an inch. Up to this time last year there had been no rain.

Contract Let on Foothill Paving

AZUSA, Sept. 5.—In open session held in the City Auditorium here last evening, the City Council of the city of Azusa opened all bids received on the improving, widening, and paving of Foothill Boulevard and thirteen adjoining streets, giving the total contract price specified therein. Six bids had been filed with the City Clerk during the past week, and last evening the contract was awarded to Griffith Company of Los Angeles as the lowest bidder.

The bid was $241,265.50, with the next lowest bid received from George H. Oswald, also of Los Angeles, at $251,919.57.

Work is to commence immediately on the boulevard and the downtown business section will be widened a [illegible] of seventy feet.

LEGION SCHOLARSHIP AWARD ANNOUNCED

James Pelham

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 5.—Announcement of the award of the American Legion scholarship to James Pelham, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Pelham of 512 South Elena avenue, was made by Legion and school officials last night. Young Pelham, who won his scholarship on points of merit, ability, scholarship athletic prowess, general moral character and personality, is a graduate of the Redondo Union High School of the class of 1929 and has an enviable record on all of the scores. He has been president of his class during the sophomore, junior and senior years and is one of the school's most outstanding graduates.

He is preparing for the study of medicine and will enter the University of California at Los Angeles for the fall term.

The scholarship arranged by the Legion will be made an annual one.

The young student's earliest ambitions to make his mark in the world were gained from Gen. John J. Pershing near whom the family lived for a time while Gen. Pershing was in El Paso making preparations for his punitive expedition into Mexico.

Final Payment on Airport Made

PASADENA, Sept. 5.—The payment of $467,000, completing purchase by the Western Air Express of 188 acres of this city's Valley Boulevard farm property, will be made Tuesday, it was announced today by City Manager R. V. Orbison.

With the announcement of the proposed final payment, interest in the erection of a $1,000,000 civic auditorium has revived. Orbison asserted that within a few days, the City Attorney's office will submit a report on the amount of land sale funds that will be available for the auditorium project.

The city sold the south 188 acres to the Western Air Express Company six months ago at a price of $3750 an acre, or $317,000 for the tract. The air concern has been in possession of the property for four months, and in that time has improved the land with a modern airport which serves as its principal airline terminus in Southern California.

ANNEXATION PLAN OF PASADENA ILLEGAL

PASADENA, Sept. 5.—The annexation of the eighty-eight-acre tract in the northeast section by means of a shoestring connection is illegal, City Attorney Harold P. Huls, ruled today.

The strip is not inhabited and thus the owners would have no vote in the annexation proceedings.

As a result of the City Attorney's report, a new petition will be circulated and the boundaries of the district to be annexed will be altered. The strip will be cut down to twenty-five feet and will connect this city to the eighty-eight-acre tract along one side of Foothill Boulevard.

The owners of the proposed strip connection have agreed that they will not oppose annexation providing only twenty-five feet is taken.

Interest Today Centers Beauty Contest Result

PASADENA, Sept. 5.—Miss Ida Reed of San Francisco will be next president of the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, according Miss Ada Margaret Wright of this city, if the report of the nominating committee is accepted by 1000 delegates to the state convention which opened today at the Hotel Huntington.

Other nominations announced the first convention session this afternoon are: First vice-president, Miss Katherine Ham, Visalia; second vice-president, Miss Wishard; fourth vice-president, Miss Frye, Santa Barbara; third vice-president, Miss Ethel Carvell; Miss Marie Green, Colusa; fifth vice-president, Miss Monte Bell, Bakersfield; recording secretary, Miss Dana Williams, Ontario; corresponding secretary, Miss Caroline Bachich, San Francisco; auditor, Miss Myrtle Harwell, Inglewood; treasurer, Miss Grace Rosemer, Los Angeles. No opposition to the nominations is expected.

The nominating committee included Miss Amelia Bruce, Alameda, chairman; Miss Ada A. Cummings, Santa Paula; Miss Katherine Ham, Visalia; Miss Gertrude Cotter, Napa; Miss Winifred Kelly, San Francisco.

The board of directors met the first event on the convention program, opened at 10 a.m. with Miss Ada Margaret Brayton, Berkeley president, presiding.

Preceding the business session luncheon, fifty delegates motored to the hotel swimming pool for a dip.

Reports of committees will be given late today and concluded tomorrow morning in the hotel ballroom.

Interest in tomorrow's session is focused on the judging of contestants in the beauty contest at 9 a.m. There will be two score of delegates under and over the age limit.

Honor guests tomorrow will include Mrs. Robert A. Millikan, Mrs. Clara Burdette, nationally known club woman and civic leader; John Steven McGroarty, author of the Mission Play; Eleanor Miller, State Federation woman, and Robert L. Bridges, chairman of the Pasadena Board of City Directors.

Damp Weather May Injure Walnut Crop

SANTA ANA, Sept. 5.—[illegible] weather during the past few days may have an unsatisfactory effect on walnuts in Orange county, according to executives of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' Association, who today reported that the damp weather may cause mold to develop in many of the nuts.

Investigation by association experts revealed that the hot weather recently caused an accumulation of moisture in the walnuts and that more warm weather would cause them to sour the nuts they may contain.

Prices will not be set on the crop until after the harvest has been completed, it was made known.

The crop in the Capistrano section is about three weeks later than the local harvest, it is said. Cook, who has owned the property many years, reports the production this year in the Capistrano territory. Picking operations will be in full swing in the next few days, he estimates. Growers believe they will have a crop averaging a ton to the acre this year.

...HELP GIVEN TO COTTON MEN

...ional Assistance for ...thern Co-operatives

...Board Plans Heavy Advances to Growers

...ional Product to Have ...Per Cent Loss Value

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—Extension of additional financial assistance to southern cotton growers, enabling the organization to advance members 75 per cent of the value of their cotton delivered, was announced by the Federal Farm Board today.

Under the board announcement of an agreement with the Intermediate Credit banks under which the co-operatives would be loaned a total of 90 per cent of the final value of the cotton, a plan designed to meet the needs of growers compelled to sell at the close of the cotton season, when they need money, whether the crop actually has been sold by the association.

The new plan is intended to assist growers who wish to obtain financial advance on their cotton pending sale by the co-operative. Under the two types of loans, according to Alexander Legge, chairman of the board, approximately 75 per cent will be advanced on the first loan. The two types of loans," Mr. Legge declared, "are expected to meet any merchandising need of farmers' co-operatives with their associations and should result in [illegible] membership of the associations themselves. The amount of money involved will be limited only by the demands of the co-operatives."

ORGANIZATION UNDER WAY

Formation of a national cotton co-operative financing and selling organization similar to the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, recently organized at the board's suggestion, is under way, according to Mr. Legge, who declared that "the same general policy of centralization of effort in the marketing of agricultural commodities will apply to other farm products."

"It is the hope of the board," Mr. Legge continued, "that eventually these organizations, owned, controlled and operated by farmers, may become large enough to do for farmers on a permanent basis many of the things which the Federal Farm Board is expected to do on a temporary basis."

TOGA TAILORED TO FIT AL SMITH

Move Reported to Give Him Copeland's Seat

City Job for Senator Will be Used as Bait

Party Plans to Keep Former Govenor in Spotlight

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (AP)—The New York World says today that a quiet movement has been started to place former Gov. Alfred E. Smith in the United States Senate and thus keep him in the national political limelight for eventualities.

With this in view, says the newspaper, suggestions have been made to confidants of Mayor Walker that he appoint United States Senator Copeland chairman of the proposed City Sanitation Commission. Gov. Roosevelt then will be called on to appoint Smith to fill Copeland's unexpired term in the Senate.

The World says that Senator Copeland, who now is in Europe, is anxious to retain his Senate seat but that strong pressure will be brought to bear on him to undertake the City Sanitation Commission work as a public duty. The chairmanship of the sanitation commission is slated to receive $25,000 a year. A Senator receives $10,000. Copeland was a former city health commissioner.

The bill for creation of a city sanitary commission has passed the municipal assembly and signed by Mayor Walker. It will be voted on at the next municipal election.

'BAWN' IN TEXAS, SHE DOESN'T LIKE TITLES

Mary McCormic

THUS MARY WILL MARRY PRINCE IF---

In First Place He Must Divorce Pola and Then Must Drop Noble Stem

CAP D'AIL, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—Will Mary McCormic Marry Prince Mdivani? Well rather—but only on two conditions. First, the Prince has naturally got to get a divorce from Pola Negri. Second, if he wants to marry her he has got to forget he is a prince and change his outlandish name to something reasonable, like McDivan. However, since the Prince is getting his divorce via the Mexican route, there seems to be little trouble about the first point.

Miss McCormic is at Cap D'Ail, on the Riviera, where she is escaping the Parisian heat at tthe present time.

"It's all nonsense to say that I stole him from Pola Negri," she said. "He came and laid his heart and title at my feet. I like his heart. As for his title, it means nothing in my young life.

"Don't talk to me about princes. I intend to marry Mdivani, but believe me he will be just a plain American before he leads me to the altar. I've set my heart on a ranch, and love or no love, just try to pry me from this ideal. What's the use of being born in the loveliest part of America—Texas—and then ending your days as a titled person?"

Storm-Weakened Bridge Falls In; Eleven Drowned

MANILA, Sept. 5. (AP)—Reports from Bulacan and Laguna Provinces today increased to sixty-one the number of known fatalities, direct and indirect, resulting from the typhoon which raked Luzon Island early this week.

Bulacan Province, the first of the more northern territories to report, had twenty dead. Eleven persons were drowned and twenty-two injured at Nagcarlang, Laguna Province, yesterday when a bridge weakened by the storm collapsed. Most of the victims were children who had lingered on the bridge to watch fishermen cast their nets.

FLYING GROWS SAFER

War Department Sees No Need of Damage Bonds

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—Army flyers are becoming so expert and aircraft improvements have so diminished the likelihood of accidents that the War Department has recommended against legislation to require applicants for army exhibition flights to furnish bond to insure the government against damage claims.

Temporary legislation to require bonds was passed in an appropriation bill in 1924, the department said. It added that high premiums are charged for such protection and during the whole time that the legislation was in effect there were no accidents.

SAN JUAN CRASH TRIALS ORDERED

Officers on Both Ships Held Equally Culpable

Coroner's Jury Verdicts Hit Vessel Inspections

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—Federal Steamboat Inspectors Turner and Dolan today held officers of the steamer San Juan and the tanker S. C. T. Dodd equally culpable for the crash which resulted in the sinking of the passenger vessel with a loss of seventy-seven lives off Pigeon Point last week. Robert Papenfuss, third mate of the San Juan; Hugo Bleumchen, captain of the Dodd, and Otto V. Saunders, third mate of the Dodd, were charged formally with negligence and ordered to appear for trial next Wednesday.

The penalty for conviction on the charge is suspension of the respective licenses of the men involved for any period of time the inspectors consider disciplinary. If convicted, the men have the right of appeal to John K. Bulger, supervising inspector.

INQUEST VERDICT

The inspectors who conducted the preliminary hearing for the purpose of determining if any crew members or executives should be held for trial, will act during the trial as prosecutors, judges and jury.

The verdict of the inspectors came almost simultaneously with three separate verdicts handed down by a Coroner's jury at an inquest presided over by Coroner Leland.

The Coroner severely criticised the methods employed by Federal steamboat inspectors in examining passenger vessels for their seaworthiness, but his jury, confused by a mass of conflicting testimony, returned verdicts which failed to fix responsibility. The Coroner's disparagement of inspections was not aimed at the inspectors as individuals, he said, but to the regulations under which they work. He called them "antiquated."

MORE DAMAGE SUITS

Meanwhile, new damage suits were filed in Federal court as an aftermath of the ocean tragedy.

Rosa Rulfo Peres, Mexico City law student and secretary for a Federal judge of Mexico, filed one suit on her own behalf asking $76,250, and a second for $101,250 on behalf of her brother, Jesus Rulfo Peres, who was a passenger on the San Juan and was lost when that vessel sank. Both of the operating companies are named as defendants and the same charges of excessive speed, improper signals and insufficient lookouts are embodied as were contained in the first damage action, filed yesterday by Henry Holgate of Baltimore. The aggregate of the damage actions now on file is $202,850.

Testimony given before the steamboat inspectors by the third mates of the San Juan and the Dodd was wholly contradictory. Each blamed the crash on the other, declaring that if the other had remained true to its course, the crash would not have taken place.

ACTIONS DESCRIBED

Luther Leathers of San Pedro, quartermaster of the San Juan, who was at the wheel of that vessel when the crash occurred, was the principal witness examined today as the preliminary hearing reached its conclusion. His testimony was largely corroboration of that previously given by Robert Papenfuss, third mate of the San Juan.

"We sighted the tanker about 11:30 o'clock," he said. "Papenfuss ordered me to turn a point to the right as we were almost head on.

"The tanker's red light showed, which indicated we would pass to the right. Then the Dodd's green light showed, indicating it was crossing our bows. As the green light commenced to show plainer, I was ordered to put the helm hard over, putting us to the right as far as possible.

"A collision seemed at hand and both vessels backed. The tanker hit out left side, putting the steering apparatus of the San Juan out of commission."

CONFUSION INDICATED

At the Coroner's inquest, J. Bergeron, wheelsman of the tanker, supplied testimony indicating vital confusion over the giving of steering orders on the Dodd just prior to the crash.

He said he received two orders of "hard-a-starboard" from Capt. Bleumchen, but did not receive or did not hear an order of "hard-a-port" which is said to have been given him.

Other discrepancies crept into testimony with such frequency and regularity Coroner Leland interrupted proceedings time and again to ask questions. The Coroner holds a commission as commander in the Naval Reserve and most of the jurymen are or have been in positions to become versed with nautical language and conditions at sea.

Pitching Victory Nineteen Years Ago Still Echoes

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (Exclusive) "Three-fingered" Mordecai Brown won a world series victory for the Cubs over Chief Bender of the Athletics in ten innings nineteen years ago and with it everlasting fame as a pitcher. Yesterday this fame came to the rescue of a Dr. Edward Brown, arrested for failure to pay a $21 taxi bill.

The defendant told Magistrate Vitale that he now is a pharmacist and that it was he who beat Bender and starred for the Cubs.

"I was on a speakeasy tour," he said, "and spent all my money. I'm guilty."

The sympathetic magistrate discharged the man who said he is the veteran twirler.

NAVAJO COUNCIL TALKS OF NEEDS

Whites' Opposition to Their Buying Lands Deplored

Supervisor Praises Tribe's Financial Achievements

Redskins Want Protection for Their Wares

FORT WINGATE, (N. M.) Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—The second and last day of the Navajo tribal council here witnessed much animated discussion of matters vital to the welfare of this tribe. The delegates deplored the opposition of certain whites pen to acquisition of more land by Indians to fill the urgent needs of this increasing people. Proof that such antagonism is declining was shown by a resolution made by Supervisors of Coconino county withdrawing all opposition to Indians acquiring additional lands in that county.

Conservative figures show this tribe of approximately 40,000 to have a gross income of $5,200,000 per year, according to C. E. Faris, supervisor of Indian industries in the Southwest. One-half of this is derived from live stock, one-fourth from blankets and silver ornaments and the balance from wages, pinon nuts and farm crops. Speaking to the delegates and assembled Indians, Mr. Faris said: "We feel that no people of whatever race or color could take the same land and make what you have made on it. The white men and State officials who oppose you simply do not understand what you can do with it. They need only to know the truth to be satisfied that you have a right to what land you have and more."

The matter of low prices received by the Navajos for their products was brought into discussion by a tall, bread-shouldered delegate with a deep voice. This was continued by another delegate with long hair, huge turquoise earrings and silver jewelry. He said: "Our women take blanket to post, get little money, don't like it. Trader buys our silver jewelry, other people make imitations. We like everything made with hands." He was followed by Maxwell Vamie, whose oratory was equally effective in English and Navajo. Exhibiting a piece of imitation jewelry in contrast with a genuine piece, he said: "We ask the honorable commissioner to help us to prevent the putting out of artificial stuff. It takes time to make our jewelry and the material is costly. This imitation piece contains 15 cents worth of brass, nickel plate and glass, whereas real turquoise costs 35 cents a carat. If you can protect the Navajo silversmith and the woman who weaves the Navajo blanket, you are protecting the whole tribe."

TWO MINE DEAD FOUND IN TRAP

Four Others Still Sealed in Calaveras Shaft

Four Hundred Tons of Rock Baffle Rescuers

One Victim's Chest Crushed by Weight of Slide

STOCKTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—The bodies of two of six men trapped yesterday in a cave-in at the Calaveras Copper Company mine at Copperopolis, Calaveras county, were recovered by rescue workers this morning on the 1550-foot level of the mine. The fate of four others still is sealed behind 400 tons of rock.

H. Mendez, with whom rescuers conversed yesterday, died this morning when the pressure of a rock weighing several hundred pounds was removed from his chest.

After Mendez died, another body, that of Ygnacio Felix, was discovered near by. It was taken out an hour later.

Other men trapped and believed to be dead are H. Ed Bixler, Jr., son of an Oakland contractor; Joe King, Jackson; Gonsalo Gonzales, Copperopolis, and an unknown man.

An injured man, Ompre Valle, caught under the slide, but rescued a short time later, was brought to a Stockton hospital last night, where doctors reported he will recover.

Direction of rescue work was taken over during the night by C. H. Fry, inspector of the United States Bureau of Mines. Fred Low, another inspector, arrived this morning to inquire into causes of the disaster and to aid in the rescue work.

FARM ROYALTY IN FAIR PARADE

More Than 2000 Animals in Live-Stock Procession

Two Million Dollars on Hoof Viewed by Governors

Young Speaks, Recalling First State Exhibit

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—Champions of the farm, the very cream of American live stock, strutted today before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a California State Fair live-stock parade. More than 2000 animals, valued at $2,000,000, participated in the procession, which was reviewed by Gov. Young and Gov. Balzar of Nevada. The governors of other western States, who were to have joined Gov. Young in a celebration of Governors' Day at the Diamond Jubilee State Fair and Western States Exposition, were unavoidably detained the last minute. Gov. Baldridge of Idaho wired he will be here tomorrow or Saturday.

After viewing the stock parade, Govs. Young and Balzar were the honor guests at a banquet in the assembly hall of the horticultural pavilion given by the State Fair directors. Both executives talked briefly and complimented the directors on the wonderful success of the 1929 fair, the seventy-fifth to be held.

FIRST FAIR RECALLED

Gov. Young contrasted the present exposition with the first fair that was held in Musical Hall in San Francisco in 1854, declaring that the show is a true picture of the marvelous development that has occurred not only of California, but the entire West. Mrs. Emma Sullivan of Belvedere, and James B. Morris of Sonoma county, who attended the first State fair, were special guests at the banquet.

Rotarians of California shared the day's honors with the governors, several thousand members of the organization journeying to Sacramento for their annual frolic at the State Fair. A harness race, in which members drove, and a banquet on the grounds were the high spots of the Rotarian program. The day's attendance was estimated at 50,000, bringing the total for six days to almost 300,000.

D. M. Lowe, in charge of the Oregon State exhibit, was elected president of an organization of western States exhibitors which was perfected at a meeting today. M. L. Dean of Idaho was elected vice-president and L. L. Moody of Nevada was named secretary.

Moody, F. W. Ambrose of Wyoming and E. A. Bowling of Utah were named as a committee to perfect the organization machinery and lay plans for an annual display by the western States at the California fair.

AWARDS ANNOUNCED

Awards were announced for the following ten counties making the most complete representation of their resources, based on commercial and educational value, artistic arrangement considered: Yolo, Santa Clara, Ventura, Kern, Shasta, Contra Costa, San Joaquin, Monterey, Eldorado and Napa.

Awards were announced for the following counties, whose exhibits feature some product or resource: Sutter, Lake, Alameda, Santa Cruz, Santa Barbara, Plumas, San Mateo, Tuolumne, Colusa and Placer.

San Diego county, noted for the attractiveness of her displays at the State Fair, has a most elaborate exhibit. It has a historic theme, showing Cabrillo landing at Point Loma in the discovery of California.

Pillars about the exhibit are fashioned out of citrus fruits, with grapefruit at the top and oranges and lemons below. The sides of the exhibit are lined with the same fruit. In the foreground in front of the historic figures are spread displays of San Diego's famous subtropical fruits, including pineapples.

FIFTEEN PRIZES IN ART AWARDED

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 5. (AP)—Award of prizes for paintings shown by California artists at the Diamond Jubilee State Fair and Western Exposition were announced by the committee of judges today.

Fifteen prizes were awarded, five firsts at $75 each, five second at $50, and five thirds at $25 each, totaling $750. The awards were announced as follows:

Figure paintings — First, portrait by Constance Macky, San Francisco; second, "Treasure Jar," by Matteo Sandona, San Francisco; third, "Madonna," by Mary Younghunter, Monterey.

Decorative compositions — First, "A Grove of Eucalyptus," by Cornelius Hicks, Santa Barbara; second, "Navajo Pastoral," by Laura Adams Armer, Berkeley; third, "The Painted Desert," by Nell Walker Warner, La Cresnta.

Landscapes — Two firsts, "Moonlight, Carmel Highlands," by E. Charlton Fortune, Monterey, and "Santa Barbara Hills," by Carl Oscar Borg, Hollywood; two second prizes, "Desert Hills," by Maynard Dixon, San Francisco, and "Real Builder," by Millard O. Sheets, Los Angeles; two third prizes, "Summer in the Mountains," by Paul Lauritz, Los Angeles, and Peaceful Harbor, by Edgar Payne, Los Angeles.

The judges were Maurice Braun, San Diego; Charles S. James, San Francisco; H. G. Herkomer, Auburn, and Marion Stockton Pope of Sacramento.

One hundred and seventy-three paintings are being exhibited at the fair this year. This is said to be the largest number ever shown at the fair and their value of $300,000 is said to be the greatest in history.

Valeria French, Short Passport, Detained at Pier

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (AP)—Miss Valerie French, grand-daughter of the late Earl of Ypres, was detained by customs officials for nearly two hours when she arrived on the liner Berengaria last night, it was announced today. She did not have a passport and visa.

Miss French received temporary permission to land until her passport, which is expected tomorrow, arrives.

Miss French refused to confirm reports of her engagement to Henry Bradley Martin, son of Bradley Martin, New York financier, who is recovering in a Denver hospital from injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

....are especially balanced to the West Coast Geo-etherical conditions.

THROUGH the great California Radio Industry...thousands of Californians have at last found complete radio satisfaction under our difficult West Coast conditions...(more difficult, experts say, than any place else on the continent). Lower-powered broadcasting stations...many large stations close together...the great mountains and the desert to the East...these and similar problems had to be met and solved to create radios peculiarly adapted to California.

And daily increasing thousands of delighted owners prove that the manufacturers of California-made radios have succeeded in perfecting a balance, a sharpness of receptivity, a clearness of tone, a beauty of cabinet work, and an economy of price which place the California-made radio above competition, in value as well as in performance.

These thousands of owners know that because the California manufacturer sells direct to the dealer, eliminating several middle profits, the retail buyer of a California-made radio benefits by a large saving in money. At the same time he helps to build the California Radio Industry... a statewide business which supports 40,000 people!

Over half of Men and Women past 40

...have this serious ailment, many without knowledge of it. Doctors now urge this important preventive

SIX out of ten men and women past 40 have a kidney ailment in some form. Many without knowledge of it, for there are no warning symptoms.

Extensive research by medical science has brought to light the cause: 75% of poisonous waste from the system is excreted by kidneys, much in too concentrated form. Overburdened, delicate kidney cells break down. Poisons which should be eliminated are thus harbored and turned back into the system. "Self-poisoning" thus becomes the forerunner of many serious ills.

What Physicians Advise

To correct and prevent kidney breakdown, doctors now advise six glasses of Puritas mineral-free water each day. It acts to dilute poisonous waste, dissolves and washes it away, lightening the load of kidneys. Mineral-free, it leaves no deposits to add further to congestion. Thus worn kidneys have a chance to repair. Proper functioning of normal kidneys is constantly protected.

Thus Puritas becomes one of the greatest aids of medical science in combating the prevalent "After 40 ailment." Scientifically distilled and aerated, all minerals and impurities are removed. Puritas is water in its purest state. You will find its taste different at first, and each drink you'll increasingly enjoy.

Science's latest Contribution to Health. Electric Refrigeration—provides food sanitation by uniform temperature—with economy and convenience.

Below 50° For Safety

THIS even, low temperature is health-insurance against food poisonings — as proven by laboratory experiments which means much to thoughtful home-makers—and made possible by Electric Refrigeration.

Ice cubes for cold drinks—frozen desserts—crisp salads and relishes — more savory meats—and preserved purity in milk and butter.

Many owners of electric refrigerators warn those who have not purchased—to beware the nuisance of "defrosting."

A leading woman's magazine says:

"While the pipes may look cold, the cooling chambers of the box will be comparatively warm because the frost coating prevents the air from coming in contact with the cooling unit."

Now practical mechanical perfection has been found.

ElectrICE Is Self-Defrosting

SELF-DEFROSTING automatically keeps the food compartments properly chilled and the air moist—permitting free circulation of air.

There are no shut-downs required for defrosting—consequently, added convenience and economy of operation.

Only the ElectricICE defrosts itself.

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

One day Tarzan and Sheeta came upon the tribe of Akut. It occurred to the ape-man that it would be an interesting experiment to attempt to reconcile these hereditary enemies. It was hardest to impress his purpose upon the panther. But by fastening his rope about Sheeta's neck, by using his stout cudgel on the sensitive nose and by the compelling force of his man-mind, he succeeded.

Now the man, the panther, and the great apes roamed their savage haunts side by side, making their kills together and sharing them with one another. And of all the savage band none was more terrible than the smooth-skinned, powerful beast that had been but a few short months before a familiar figure in many a London drawing-room and exclusive club.

Sometimes the beasts separated to follow their own inclinations. It was one of these times that the ape-man lay stretched on the beach, basking in the sun. Down-wind, so that the scent was not carried to him, a savage peered at him from the forest's edge. For a moment he looked in astonishment at the dozing white man; then turned and made a sign to some one behind.

Cautiously through the rank grass a score of hideously decked, big black warriors advanced silently upon the sleeping white man, their heavy war clubs swinging menacingly in their hands. They were almost upon him before he sprang startled to his feet. With savage yells and raised clubs the warriors leaped for him—only to retreat in sudden panic.

GLASS MERGER EXPECTED

Reported Representatives of Owens-Illinois Company Here for Appraisal of Illinois Pacific Plant

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Following the report early in the spring that the consolidation of the Illinois Glass Company and the Owens Bottle Company would be followed by the acquisition of the Illinois Pacific Glass Company, it was reported here yesterday that representatives of the eastern company are in Los Angeles to examine the plant of the Pacific Coast company.

Illinois Pacific stockholders have been expecting this development to come to a head for some time. When the Illinois Glass Company, which owned a minority interest in Illinois Pacific Glass, was merged with Owens Bottle, the presumption was that the Illinois Pacific shares either would be sold or steps taken to obtain the majority interest. It now appears, from reports of plant examinations and appraisals under way, that consolidation negotiations are in prospect.

MINORITY STOCK HELD

Approximately 18 per cent of Illinois Pacific Glass is understood to have been owned by the Levis family, controlling owners of the Illinois Glass Company, of Alton, Ill. This stock apparently was included in agreement under which the Owens-Illinois Company was organized to take over the assets of the two glass manufacturers.

Illinois Pacific Glass, which operates glass factories in San Francisco and Los Angeles, is popularly classified as one of the companies dominated by Max Cohn, the San Francisco industrialist. He is also the leading figure in such companies as California Ink, Clorox and others, and any negotiations for the controlling interest in the glass company will undoubtedly pass through his hands.

Acquisition of the Illinois Pacific Company will add more than $5,000,000 in assets to the Owens-Illinois Company, an enterprise now boasting of total assets of approximately $56,000,000. The Illinois Glass Company contributed $20,000,000 to this total through the consolidation, negotiations for which were conducted over a period of thirteen years.

COAST PLANT NEEDED

While one of the largest glass companies in the industry, Owens-Illinois lacks representation in the Pacific Coast field, where the glass factories are doing a large business in manufacturing glass containers for food products, a comparatively new outlet for glassware. This business, the Illinois Pacific Glass Company has stated, is certain to increase to much larger proportions in addition to the other demands for glass in this fast-growing region.

Illinois Pacific is the largest manufacturer west of the Rockies of glass bottles, jars and other containers, which are made of flint, amber and green glass. The company is also interested in the allied business of manufacturing paper and paper-board corrugated packing and reshipping cases.

Class A stock of the Illinois Pacific Glass Company is listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Capitalization outstanding consists, according to the latest report, of 76,614 shares of A stock and 114,680 shares of B stock.

Amerada Opens New Oil Pool in Seminole Area

TULSA (Okla.) Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—The Amerada Corporation, Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Company, and Dixie Oil Company, the latter a subsidiary of Standard of Indiana have opened a new oil pool in the Seminole area, about five miles northwest of the Pearson Switch pool and eight miles west of the St. Louis pool.

Vineyard No. 1 well, on Sec. 15, 7-4, in Pottawotamie county made a flow of six minutes duration from thirty-seven feet of Hunton lime which was topped at 4350 feet, before it was shut in for storage. It is estimated that the well should produce approximately 1000 barrels daily when completed.

It is on a 160-acre lease of which a one-half interest is owned by the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Company, a subsidiary of the Cities Service Company. In addition, the Amerada and Dixie companies have about 2000 acres in a fairly well assembled block on the structure, as located by geophysical methods. Amerada has a net royalty interest in approximately 2000 acres in that general vicinity. The Wilcox sand generally underlies the Hunton lime in that area.

Aviation Unit Changes Name Under New Law

Limiting stockholders' liability under the new California law, Commercial Aircraft Corporation Limited, has been formed to take over the business and assets of the Commercial Aircraft Corporation, the change in name effective August 14, it was announced yesterday. It is understood that the new company is similar in every other respect to the old company.

H. H. Pursel & Company, investment brokers, have purchased the entire remaining amount of outstanding capital stock of the new corporation, according to the announcement.

The company's latest product is now available for public inspection. It is known as the Sunbeam, and is an all-metal frame and fuselage, six-place cabin biplane.

Total Output of Autos Shade Up

DETROIT, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—Automobile production in the United States and Canada during the first eight months of the current year is estimated at 4,451,701 cars and trucks by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. This is approximately 3 per cent less than the 4,601,543 units built in the full year 1928, the record year of motor vehicle production, and an increase of about 1,200,000, or 37 per cent over the 3,236,364 cars and trucks manufactured in the first eight months last year.

Production in August was estimated by the chamber at 522,156 cars and trucks. This compares with 517,792 units in the preceding month and 492,543 units in August last year.

Pen Dealers to Get Stock Offer

CHICAGO, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—W. A. Sheaffer Pen Company, announces plans to sell common stock to its 25,000 dealers at $1 below the closing figure on the New York Curb on the date of sale. No increase in capitalization which consists of 194,500 shares of common stock, is involved, according to the announcement, and the offering will be restricted to a maximum of 100 shares for each dealer.

The company's business for 1929, with the best part of the year yet to come, is $750,000 in excess of 1928, for the same period, and the increase in earnings is in greater proportion, according to W. A. Sheaffer, president.

JOINS STOCK HOUSE

Trowbridge W. Hendrick, recently resigned as president of the Security Housing Corporation and the Mortgage Insurance Corporation, has become associated with William Cavalier & Co., member of the New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles stock exchanges.

NEW AERO PLANT ON CALENDAR

Northrop Aircraft, Ltd., to Start Factory This Week at Burbank

Construction of the factory for Northrop Aircraft, Ltd., the new division of United Aircraft and Transportation Corporation which was recently formed following the acquisition of the Avion Corporation of Los Angeles, will be started at the United Airport in Burbank this week, W. L. Campbell, local representative of the Boeing Air Transport, Inc., stated yesterday. Work will also be commenced on the airport administration building which, with furnishings, will cost $100,000.

Within sixty days the airport will be ready for air-mail operations and shortly after the first of next year it will be formally opened and will represent an investment of more than $1,500,000 in land and improvements, Mr. Campbell said. He added that the Boeing officials desired to correct the impression that the airport was a closed affair because the facilities of the port will be extended both to individual plane owners and to aviation industries.

Negotiations are now being carried on with several aircraft concerns for the leasing of sites at the port, according to Mr. Campbell, who said that the Boeing company was prepared to build plants on the leased ground to suit the tenant. The port is installing the latest type of lighting system and about $250,000 is being expended on he five-way runway system, each runway exceeding 3500 feet in length and covered with a six-inch plastic mix. Two hangars costing $63,000 each are now being completed. The port acreage totals 284 acres.

The Northrop plant is expected to be ready for production by November with between seventy-five and 100 employees on the payroll. A light commercial plane will be constructed and it is reported that this division of United Aircraft will be developed rapidly as one of the chief production units.

New Investment Shares Offered

Debut of the Prince & Whitely Trading Corporation will formally take place today with the public offering of 326,000 units of stock by the investment banking house of Prince & Whitely, while other offerings on the investment slate include two district bond issues of the city of Los Angeles, being distributed by B. L. Hames & Co., and the Angelus Securities Corporation.

Prince & Whitely Trading Corporation stock is being offered in units of one share of $3 convertible preferred and two shares of common stock at $75 per unit. It will commence business with $25,000,000 cash. The Los Angeles municipals include Improvement districts No. 67 and 69, 6 per cent bonds, which will be offered to yield 5.5 per cent.

Chain System Profits Climb

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (Exclusive) W. T. Grant Company, chain system, reported today net profits for the six months closed June 30 of $630,417, equal to $1.54 a share, on 538,900 shares outstanding. This compares with $690,223 reported earned in the first half of 1928, or $1.28 a share.

During the first six months the company opened twenty-six new stores in twenty-five cities. Under present plans it contemplates opening twenty-eight new stores during the last half of this year.

WIDOWS GET WARNING OF SPURIOUS STOCK SELLER

When a bereaved widow receives a check for her husband's life insurance, she need not be surprised to get a letter from scheming stock salesmen who have an eye on the several hundred millions paid out each year by insurance companies on death claims, the National Better Business Bureau points out in a warning just released.

The warning exposes a practice on the part of certain unscrupulous stock-selling companies of compiling a list of "prospects" from among the survivors of deceased as reported daily in the obituary columns of newspapers throughout the country. To assist industrial executives in bringing such stock swindling operations to the attention of employees, posters are being distributed.

A bulletin accompanying this week's poster states that in 1928 life-insurance payments on death claims by all companies amounted to nearly $706,000,000. If only one-half of 1 per cent of this amount could be captured through high-pressure salesmanship, the loot is well worth the tedious effort to keep the list of names up to date, the statement said.

Husbands can protect their wives from this misfortune by consulting their insurance companies while widows can obtain without charge fact-information from a Better Business Bureau before investing, the posters s[ay].

DIAMOND OUTPUT GROWING

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The diamond industry, as a commercial business, was first organized about forty years ago, when the control of the diamond mines of the world—largely located in South Africa—went under the leadership of Cecil Rhodes, Barney Barnato and Alfred Beit.

Today South Africa produces about 97 per cent of all the diamonds while the United States consumes more than 80 per cent of all the annual diamond production.

Everything moved along smoothly for forty years. The diamond syndicate with a world monopoly profited handsomely and the control seemed complete.

It was not until the Lichtenburg fields in South Africa were discovered in 1927, however, that a new situation was created. Imagine production increasing 39,800 carats in the first half of 1926 to 1,111,500 carats in the first half of 1927.

Most of these diamonds from this field were of an inferior quality, but to prevent them being thrown on the market, the diamond syndicate bought up the surplus stones. It cost them $40,000,000 to do it.

Another complication arose last year in the rich diamond surface deposit found in Namaqualand, also in South Africa. But the situation is now well under the control of the government and the syndicate.

The diamond syndicate, largely of British and German capital, itself is composed of four companies: De Beers, Jagersfontein, Premier and Consolidated Diamond.

While South Africa produces 97 per cent of the total, South America contributes the other 3 per cent. There are a negligible number of stones coming here from Borneo, Australia and India.

Brazil in South America looks like a future diamond center. In 1927 its exports totaled $1,689,800—not much—but still ten times as much as it exported before the war.

The total annual diamond sales now have reached record proportions. Last year it was estimated that $150,000,000 worth of diamonds were sold. The United States itself imported twice as many diamonds in 1928 as it did in 1923.

There is every reason to believe that these figures will be increased this year.

O. P. Abbot, director of the American Institute of steel construction, made a statement in a recent magazine article that spending is an art—one to be acquired by diligence and hard work. But creative wasting is an even greater need of the American manufacturer.

The most important undertaking today is to convert more men to understand obsolescence—to scrap old machinery, old methods and old ideas whenever something better justifies its practical use.

Nothing should be "frozen" in the business world. The bane of every real bank is "frozen" assets. Too much of them and the bank gets pneumonia and the patient dies.

Now success in business depends on the readiness of the public to buy new things. Commodities must be offered, according to Mr. Abbot, in more attractive forms and in more artistic packages to attract the consumer's eye. Who wants a horse hair sofa today? Or a house designed on the plans of the year 1900?

It is the business of the manufacturer to make the present standard of living a "passing" show.

People must be made to want new and better homes; up to date equipment and artistic furniture.

But production can only be bought with money or credit. The secret of prosperity is the ability to create an ever increasing amount of purchasing power, with which to make effective the wants of the people.

Neon Concerns Hold Conclave

Preliminary to the national conference of officials of Claude Neon units to be held the latter part of this month in New York, a meeting of Pacific Coast managers and executives of the several western companies was held in Los Angeles yesterday. Among those who attended, in addition to officials of the Claude Neon Electrical Corporation, Ltd., were George Comstock, vice-president and general manager of Electrical Products Corporation of Washington; James Zancker, vice-president and general manager of Electrical Products Corporation of Oregon, and William Joost, vice-president in charge of the Oakland plant.

The meeting was devoted to a discussion of sales and advertising. No action is expected to be taken on the proposed consolidation of the western companies until audits have been completed, it was said.

COPPER SALES HEAVY

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (Exclusive) Phelps Dodge Corporation, one of the leaders in the copper industry confirmed heavy sales of copper metal for their account this week. It was reported here today. These sales are estimated to be in excess of 40,000,000 pounds and compare with total sales of 65,162,000 pounds for the entire first six months of this year.

SELLING FLOOD ENGULFS BULLS

Early Upturn Ends Abruptly in Closing Hour

Scores of Issues Record 2 to 20-Point Declines

Total Turnover for Sessions Largest in Months

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (AP)—The corrective reaction in stock prices which conservative elements have been predicting in Wall street for several days came with breath-taking swiftness in the last hour of trading today after bullish operations had been pressed forward with increasing aggressiveness earlier in the session.

The rapid bidding up of prices, only to have them come down like a burned-out rocket, rolled up total sales for the day of 5,565,280 shares, the largest turnover since March. Most early gains were more than canceled at the close and scores of important stocks recorded net losses of 2 to nearly 30 points.

Many professional traders had been in the violent bidding up of selective issues during recent weeks the rapid development of an overbought condition that must be corrected soon by a thorough shakeout, but it took a bearish statement by Roger Babson, well-known economist, who has been predicting a collapse of stock prices for some time, to start the torrent of selling.

Increasing signs of nervousness were evident during the session, although the market took but passing notice of the overnight monthly member loan announcement showing another $400,000,000 increase, as the unchanged Bank of England rate was regarded as a balancing factor. Call money renewed at 9 per cent and for a time threatened to go higher, predictions were heard of a flurry in money over the middle of the month, when the Treasury refinancing and the quarterly income tax payments will cause a turnover of funds totaling more than $1,000,000, and it was even rumored that the New York Reserve Bank might again increase its rediscount rate this afternoon. Mr. Babson's statement appeared on the news tickers during the afternoon, and seemed finally to tip the balance toward reaction.

CREDIT CALL UP

The weekly Federal Reserve statements displayed a marked upturn in the demands for credit over the turn of the month, but also showed that the Federal Reserve system was definitely acting to stabilize conditions, increasing its holdings of bills and securities by nearly $100,000,000.

Brokers' loans mounted to $137,000,000, the increase coming entirely from the banks, corporate

LOS ANGELES CURB

Intercoast Trading Company jumped into the leadership of the trading activity on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday as the recent most popular issues of the market reacted on severe liquidation. Intercoast, with 6700 shares changing hands, strengthened 1-4 to 30 3-8.

Gladding McBean extended the reaction on the previous session by yielding another point to close at 39 7-8. Cord Corporation slumped 3 5-8 to 33 and Chapman's Ice Cream, 1½ points to 31 1-4. Axelson Aircraft Engine, however, continued to manifest the strength of Wednesday and shot up 3-4 to another new peak at 18 3-4.

Claude Neon Electrical Products reacted 3-4 to 56 while Diamond Electric held to the peak at 60. Electrical Products of Washington slipped 3-4 to 24. Consolidated Steel eased 1-4 to 21 1-4. Mexican Seaboard lost 1½ to 35 and Hancock 1-4 to 21½. Pacific Mutual sold off 1 point to 111.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (AP)—A brisk upturn in prices on the New York Curb Exchange today was checked by the backwash of liquidation which swept over the whole board in the last hour of trading. While the decline was by no means general, and a rather long list of issues closed with net gains, several of the early leaders broke 5 to 10 points below their early highs and the bull movement received a decided setback.

The market quickly recovered from the nervousness created by the increase of more than $400,000,000 in stock exchange members' loans, announced after the close yesterday, and pools started to mark up a wide assortment of public utilities and specialties, speculators uneasy in the afternoon as rumors of a mid-month "credit pinch" were circulated around the financial district, and there was a quiet rush to take profits on the first sign of weakness. The weekly Federal Reserve statement, showed a further increase of $137,000,000 in brokers' loans to another new high record.

Electric Bond and Share advanced from an opening price of 170¾ to 184½, broke to 176¼ and closed at 178, for a net loss of 1½ points. Electric Investors dropped from an early high of 29¾ to 27¾, off 1¾. Allied Power, American Gas and Electric, American Superpower, Cities Service, United Gas Improvement and a multitude of others dropped 2 to 5 points. Standard Power and Light closed nearly 10 points higher at 74¾, after having attained a new peak at 77¾. Niagara Hudson power ran up more than 6 points to a new high at 37¾, but lost about a third of its gain.

Oils were heavy, with selling probably inspired by the publication of record-breaking production statistics. Gulf of Pennsylvania sold down 4½ points, but the declines in most of the other active issues were held to a point or so. Hearnes also was quite pronounced in some of the aviation issues, Fairchild staking to another new low.

L'Air Liquide, the French chemical stock which recently has recorded sharp gains, broke 13 points to 102. Cord Corporation, Guardian Fire, Goldman Sachs, Ford of Canada "A," Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator, Newmont Mining, U. S. Finishing and Walgreen lost 2 to 5 points.

New peaks were established by Carnation Milk, Hovadel, Powdrell & Alexander and Reliance Management.

The closing price is omitted when same as the last bid, both low and close when same as the high.

Develops a New Diesel Airplane Motor—

Authorities look upon it as one of the most outstanding developments in Aviation in recent years. Will it bring radical changes in the Automotive as well as Aviation industries? Who knows?

In a recent test flight from Detroit to Langley Field, Virginia, the new motor consumed only $4.68 worth of fuel, according to report. An ordinary airplane motor would have consumed almost six times that in cost and bulk, or about $27.00 worth.

Lindbergh Pleased With It

Col. Lindbergh, in a flight with Maj. Thomas Lanphier, August 19th, tested the new Diesel airplane motor and expressed himself as being highly pleased with it. He is the first person outside of the Packard staff to fly with the new engine.

For Immediate Purchase

Already the leading producer of high priced cars, Packard bids fair to become dominant in Aviation motors as well. We recommend this stock.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (AP)—Declines of 1 to 7 points in convertibles and the appearance of a somewhat better tone in a number of divisional investment issues on standard types marked today's trading on the bond market. Inquiry for obligations of all grades remained light in view of the firmness of money, and the trend of the list as a whole was irregular.

Announcement of the Treasury's 18th inst. financing operations, involving issuance of $500,000,000 in nine-month 4½ per cent bonds, came after the close of a session which found listed government securities showing noticeable improvement. Although the coupon on the forthcoming issue is the same per cent lower than that carried by the Sept. 15 notes, it was recalled that the 4½ per cent rate of the latter had brought an immediate and substantial premium in the certificates' issue, thus, the Treasury had been a trifle too generous. The maturing notes carry 4¼ and 4¾ per cent rates and the higher interest offered by the new issue reflects the recent trend of money rates.

Share privilege bonds had a dull day. Until the selling wave struck the stock market the rails were firm, later turning over in small volume, but the drop in prices brought out some liquidation. American Telephone 4½s a close second, down 6½. Atchison 4½s lost 2½ on the day and the Allegheny Corporation 5s dipped 1 to 3½.

A few first-grade rails, notably Atchison general 4s, moved higher, and were accompanied by a handful of representative industrials and utilities, such as Bethlehem Steel 5½s, Pacific Gas and Electric 5s, and American Smelting 5½s. Erie refunding and improvement 5s turned over in unusually large blocks, but made a net decline of ¼ point. Seaboard Air Line adjustment 5s lost a point.

Pink Rubber 8s, which for several days had been rising under the impetus of sinking fund purchases, lost a maximum of 10 points on the withdrawal of that support, closing at 94½ for a net loss of 9½. Goodrear Tire and Rubber 5s were unable to maintain an early gain and finished with a net decline of ¼.

The foreign list ruled dull, although French Republic issues advanced about ¼ a point. Kreuger & Toll 5s, with warrants, traded in considerable volume, but moved within a narrow price range.

Liberty issues showed gains to the extent of nearly $1,000,000 par value, as a result of a large total for current market, and finished ¼ to a point higher. The strongest of the listed government's were the Treasury 3½s of 1943-47, which climbed ½.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given, for regularly traded issues. The close is omitted when the same as the low, and omitted when the same as the high.

[illegible] No. 1 is about a [illegible] Meyer No. 1 to-about a [illegible] of a mile southeast of the [illegible] Company's Stevens No. 1 near [illegible] of State street and [illegible] section, which comes in a [illegible] and has about 1000 barrels of oil per day. The latter extended [illegible] and brought [illegible] a flowing campaign in [illegible] with the result that many [illegible] will be drilled deeper. [illegible] and half a block northwest of [illegible] Company's completion the [illegible] Gasoline Company has [illegible] and is preparing [illegible] in Graham Brothers No. 1. [illegible] of Stevens No. 1, the [illegible] Oil Company is reported [illegible] to resume to deepen Green [illegible] Company a producer at 6300 [illegible] and a block southeast of [illegible] No. 1 the World Petroleum [illegible] has a small pumper, [illegible] is said to be putting out approximately 100 barrels of oil per

Aid for Conservation

[illegible] the burden of making the [illegible] conservation law workable [illegible] upon the oil industry and not [illegible] the oil industry and the declaration [illegible] by L. F. St. Clair, executive [illegible] of the Union Oil [illegible]

[illegible] State of California realizes [illegible] waste of natural gas in the [illegible] of crude oil is opposed [illegible] interest, and in furtherance [illegible] the welfare of its citizens [illegible] has declared such practices unlawful. It has decreed that [illegible] saving of natural gas to the [illegible] is prima facie evidence of waste [illegible] advisable to vest in State [illegible] the power to regulate gas [illegible] in keeping with good [illegible] practice," says Mr. St. [illegible]

[illegible] statute is now effective and [illegible] industry is called upon to so [illegible] its affairs that waste of [illegible] will not occur hereafter. In [illegible] the oil industry no longer [illegible] permitted to practice [illegible] ness itself in the mad scramble [illegible] riches of deposits to per[illegible] gain, irrespective of the effect [illegible]

Drive to Test

J. B. Chandler, independent operator, is reported to have made location to drill a wildcat well on [illegible] 23-4, in Monterey county, [illegible] a mile northeast of the Shell Company's Dudley No. 1 wildcat, which is reported to have found [illegible] of gas. This hole is down [illegible] feet.

It is proposing to cement four [illegible] diameter-inch casing, having [illegible] to 2800 feet, where the [illegible] was found, although no oil [illegible] said to be in evidence.

Salaries Cut

[illegible] Springs' daily average [illegible] last week fell off approximately 15,000 barrels. Last [illegible] daily average output was [illegible] barrels from 180 deep wells. [illegible] 277,000 barrels for the [illegible] week. There were 289 [illegible] and eighteen idle projects.

Following are the week's completions:

To Deepen

The Shell Oil Company's Thompson No. 6, at Santa Fe Springs, recently recompleted with bottom at 8060 feet in the lower Clarke sand, has been been killed and will be deepened, according to reports. With an initial output of approximately 980 barrels the yield settled down to about 700 barrels, it is said.

Derrick Ready

The Associated Oil Company completed construction of a 122-foot steel derrick for the Southern Pacific Railway on a narrow strip of right of way near the State highway in the old Summerland field. Boilers and equipment are to be set at once. Preparations are being made to spud in within a few days, according to field reports.

Considerable preliminary work was made necessary because of a steep embankment, it is said, and steam-shovel work was required for a week or more before actual construction of derrick was started. Associated will drill two or more wells for Southern Pacific northeast approximately 600 feet from Lincoln Drilling Company's Williams No. 1, which now is pumping oil.

Daily Average Good

The Lincoln Drilling Company's Williams No. 1, discovery well of the 1250-foot oil sand at the western edge of the old Summerland field, has averaged 195 barrels of 20-deg. gravity oil per day for the past thirty days, according to company officials. It tested 22 per cent gasoline and 9 per cent kerosene.

Originally completed at 1250 feet and then deepened to 1350 feet, the Williams No. 1, when completed, started a drilling campaign for the old Summerland field, which has swept up and down the ocean for several miles.

The Becker Fee No. 1 of George F. Getty, Inc., a short distance east of Williams No. 1, yesterday was yielding 170 barrels of oil per day at 1298 feet and reports are that the tubing will eventually be lowered to take additional oil sand. It is flowing by compression.

Lincoln's Williams No. 2 with bottom at 1467 feet, now the deepest test near the edge of the surf, in that same general vicinity, should be on production today, according to reports. Twelve and one-half-inch casing is set to 1067 feet, and there is an eight and five-eighths-inch oil string set, with three-inch tubing.

Increases Acreage

Believing that the real field extends farther toward the shoreline, the Lincoln Drilling Company is preparing to spud in on Saturday its Mezikhovsky No. 1, on its sixty-acre lease due west of the Palisades field.

Lincoln has increased its acreage by acquiring a mile of beach front which extends inland perhaps a quarter of a mile. It now controls approximately 150 acres west of the old Palisades field, which started an unusually brisk drilling campaign when the Olympic Oil and Refining Company's Lomas No. 1 drilled into an oil formation nearly three months ago.

The belief is quite general that the Palisades field is at the edge of the real field, which is thought to extend out into the ocean. Lincoln's test is about one-half mile west of Lomas No. 1.

Testing for Shutoff

The Globe Petroleum Corporation yesterday was drilling out the cement plug in its James Estle No. 1 at Santa Fe Springs for a water shut-off test, with bottom of the hole at 6818 feet in the O'Connell sand.

This project was completed about a month ago for a daily yield of approximately 1900 barrels of oil but was killed to deepen to the O'Connell sand in an effort to increase output.

New Completion

The McKeon Drilling Company's Rieber No. 2 in the southeastern portion of Santa Fe Springs, recently brought in, is putting out approximately 4500 barrels of 34.4-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 7625 feet. The initial yield was about 4200 barrels and was steadily increased to the present flow, according to reports.

Excellent Completion

Averaging 4000 barrels of 33 deg. gravity oil per day, Ratliff No. 2, drilled jointly by the Herbert R. Macmillan Company and the Macmillan Petroleum Corporation at Santa Fe Springs, was completed yesterday.

It is located at the corner of Little Lake and Forest streets, and was finished at 7960 feet. It is part of a general production program adopted by the Macmillan Petroleum Corporation, active drilling being under way on several other wells at Santa Fe Springs and Signal Hill.

MR. ROGERS MAY GET IN RITZY CLUB

San Francisco's Bohemians Likely to Forget Grouch and Admit Him Now

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—Time having intervened to smooth the feelings of all concerned, Will Rogers now stands in a fair way to become a member of San Francisco's ultra-exclusive Bohemian Club. His name, it was learned today, has been posted for nonresident membership. His qualifications are given as "actor and humorist, Beverly Hills, Cal." His sponsors are Marshall Dill, secretary of the club, and Haig Patigian, sculptor and past president.

About a year ago, when plans were at their height for the annual jinks at Bohemian Grove, admiring Bohemians decided they wanted Rogers as a regular club habitue. He was invited to the jinks, placed on the program, and had and gave a lot of fun.

But he spoke beyond his time limit and, according to rumor, crowded out some of the club's pet humorists and entertainers.

Shortly afterward he poked a little fun at the Bohemians in one of his syndicated articles. As a majority, the Bohemians laughed with Rogers, but from some came objections.

So those who were preparing to submit Rogers's name for membership decided to drop the matter for a time.

French Actress Discreet About Royal Attention

PARIS, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—Whether Lily Damita, beautiful French film actress, is still seriously considering the attentions of young Prince George of England or whether the two have just been "great friends" since their meeting in Hollywood last year, is something Mlle. Damita is not telling at present.

Questioned today as she was leaving for New York and Hollywood on the liner Bremen, Mlle. Damita said she had not even seen the Prince since her return to Europe.

"I am really not interested in marriage," she said.

NEW PLANT STARTS TODAY

...Will be Broken for $250,000 Factory of Willard Storage Battery Company

...industry will be born to the swiftly growing industrial life of ...today when ground will be broken for the new $250,000 ...home of the Willard Storage Battery Company.

C. C. Hine, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, will act as master of ceremonies at a celebration at 3 p.m.

MODERN PLANT

The factory will be located at Gerhard and East Ninth streets in the Union Pacific industrial tract. It will be one of the most modern factories of its kind in the country and the first of its type to be built in this section, according to C. H. Starr, vice-president and general manager of the Willard company here, who will have charge of the new structure.

Claude Beelman, architect for the Willard company, is designer of the building and will have a prominent part in the ceremonies. The plant will employ more than 1000 men and increase the pay roll of the industrial life of Los Angeles by several hundred thousand dollars annually.

OFFICIALS TO ATTEND

Program participants will include T. A. Willard, founder of the business, now retired and a resident of Los Angeles; George W. C. Baker, president of the East Side Organization; William E. Rauch, industrial

NEW JUNIOR COLLEGE TO BE FILLED

Applications for entrance to the Los Angeles Junior College, which occupies the old site of the University of California at Los Angeles, reached the total of 1776 at the closing hour yesterday afternoon. This was an increase of 101 from the total reported at noon.

"We are somewhat staggered by the overwhelming response to the junior college idea," Supt. Bouelle told members of the Board of Education at yesterday's meeting. "We believe we shall be able to take care of all the students, although it will strain the budget, which was based on a possible 1000 students."

"The immediate response of students and their parents to this new school has been a great satisfaction to those of us who have been its sponsors from the first." Mrs. Elysabeth Louise Clark, member of the board, said yesterday. "This is our proof that there was need for the school."

Only bonafide residents of the city of Los Angeles will be accepted as students, although applications have been received from outlying districts and adjacent States.

Students will take an English test and also an intelligence test as part of the entrance requirements. These tests will be of the same character as those required by the State university.

Registration will begin next Tuesday morning and continue through to the closing hour on Wednesday. Classes will be organized on Thursday and Friday.

DAYLIGHT SAVING URGED

League Formed Here Seeks to Get Proposition on State Ballot for 1930

Announcement was made yesterday of the organization of the California Daylight Saving League for the purpose of putting daylight saving on the State election ballot via the initiative next year.

The league, which will have branch organizations in every center of population in California, is sponsored by civic and industrial leaders, among them being: Dr. R. B. Von Kleinsmid, Norman Macbeth, Henry S. McKee, Leslie A. Henry, David T. Babcock, Frank E. Carlton, Carroll A. Stilson, Herbert S. Marshutz, Hal G. Hotchkiss, H. L. Boyd, E. Jungquist, A. G. Farquharson, Thomas L. Cavett, Leon V. McCardle, Charles P. Hill, S. B. Hill, James R. Woods, Jack Beaumont, H. W. Biddle and E. H. McGinnis.

CIRCULATE PETITIONS

The first move of the league will be to circulate initiative petitions providing for the placing of the issue on the 1930 ballot. More than 90,000 signatures are required. There is wide interest in the question and little difficulty is anticipated by the sponsors in obtaining signatures, and the work will be simplified when the organization has established Daylight Saving Clubs throughout the State.

Sponsors of the league say a survey shows that public sentiment is strongly in favor of daylight saving in California.

In both Northern and Southern California there has been partial observance of daylight saving this year. Several of the major oil companies have been operating under the time schedule, numerous manufacturing plants have observed the earlier working hours and many industrial and commercial organizations have become interested in the movement.

BENEFITS TOLD

Frank B. Belcher, attorney, has been made treasurer of the California Daylight Saving League. He said yesterday:

"After the required number of signatures have been obtained, the league will launch an educational campaign to acquaint the public with the manifold advantages of daylight saving. Production is increased, greater human efficiency is experienced and a large majority of the people will enjoy an additional hour for recreation in the later afternoon sunshine.

"There is also tremendous financial loss here due to the disparity of time between New York and other eastern and European points where daylight saving is an annual institution. The normal difference in time of three hours is increased to four hours, and wherever the time element enters into financial transactions this loss of an hour is to the great disadvantage of Los Angeles and the whole State.

"Also, the failure of California to observe daylight saving has imposed extra burdens and financial loss to shipping interests, the motor-car industry, hotels and resorts, wire brokerage houses, investment brokers, banks, realtors and to transportation lines."

Fire Captains' List Approved

The Fire Commission yesterday approved the appointment of four new fire captains by Fire Chief Scott from the civil service department's eligible list.

FLYER DIES IN CRASH OF TEST PLANE

New-Type Sport Craft Goes to Pieces in Air and Builder Becomes Victim

A last-minute decision to leave his parachute behind late yesterday ended tragically for Kenneth Warren Gale, Inglewood aviator, when the plane he was flying literally flew to pieces over Mines Field and dashed him to his death from an altitude of 1000 feet. The crash occurred shortly after 6 p.m.

Gale, married and 32 years of age, met death at the very start of what was intended to be a speed test in an experimental monoplane known as the Campbell Sport Plane. Attaches at the municipal airport say they believe he had helped to build it with the assistance of an airplane designer named Campbell.

Gale took the plane up earlier in the day for a series of tests directly over the field. These flights were witnessed by his father and mother. As dusk fell the parents went home and Gale announced he was going to fly to Wilmington and return—an air distance of about thirty-two miles.

Lacking a parachute, the flyer appealed to the Curtiss Flying Service's school. Hangar officials lent him a chute, but for some unknown reason he neglected to strap it on, leaving it in his own hangar at the airport.

Taking off into the west, Gale climbed to an altitude of 1500 feet, witnesses said, then turned and nosed down toward the field observation tower, obviously intending to gain high speed. At 1000 feet he leveled out and zoomed away in the direction of Wilmington.

He had traveled scarcely 100 yards on an even keel, however, when a mass of debris was seen to appear in the backwash of the speeding ship. To experts watching the flight, this spelled that the propeller, unable to withstand the pressure, had splintered. A split-second later, one of the flying fragments smashed loose one of the wing struts and the left wing collapsed. At the same time the entire motor of the ship was seen to tear free of the structure. The floating wreckage then went into a flat spin and, with Gale still in the cockpit, dropped into a bean field 100 yards southeast of the airport. Gale's body was so severely crushed that recognition was almost impossible.

LAND OFFERED AS SITE FOR NEW CITY JAIL

A plot of land 3.73 acres in extent, located at Workman and Narva streets near Mission Road at the General Hospital, was offered the city for a jail site yesterday by L. Fitzjarrel for the Republic Supply Company. The price set was $175,000. This was referred by the Council to the Police Commission.

OIL AND GAS CONSERVING TOPIC TODAY

Petroleum Institute Head, Seeking to Arouse Public, to be Luncheon Speaker

Oil and gas conservation and the need of arousing the general public to the serious depletion of a fuel supply that never can be replaced will be discussed at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon today by E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum Institute.

E. B. REESER

Mr. Reeser, head of the Barnsdall Corporation, as well as chief executive of the National Association of Oil Companies, with headquarters in New York and Tulsa, has been in California for several days holding conferences with leaders of the industry and observing the practical workings of the new California gas wastage law which became operative on August 29, last.

The new law has been described by Mr. Reeser as being the answer to the problem of conservation that has confronted the petroleum industry for several years, but its effectiveness and enforcement depend almost wholly on the attitude of the public and the sentiment that backs the gas wastage measure.

Students of the conservation problem now estimate that the gas wasted in the fields of California in one month is equivalent to 3,000,000 barrels of fuel oil, which would produce as much power as a million tons of coal, and the yearly loss would be more than $15,000,000.

Other equally startling statements on the need for an aroused public sentiment are expected to be made clear at the luncheon in an effort to protect a source of fuel that once lost is lost forever.

Police Seeking Missing Mother

Disappearance of a young mother was reported yesterday to Capt. W. C. Allen of the missing persons' bureau by Mrs. A. M. Starrett of 1280 West Thirty-first street. She said that last Saturday a boy 18 months of age was left with her by a strange girl, 19, who requested her to look after him over the week-end. When the girl failed to return after six days Mrs. Starrett decided to notify the police.

She said that she had advertised for a woman to share her apartment, and the girl answered it. She drove up in a large blue sedan driven by a large man in gray, and carrying the baby boy. After saying she would share the apartment, the girl asked Mrs. Starrett if she would take care of the baby over the week-end. She left a traveling bag with the marking "Jas. Mc." on its lining.

The girl is 5 feet 7 inches in height, light complexion, and wore a rose-pink suit, no stockings and white shoes.

PANTAGES CASE JURY SELECTED

Widow of Japanese First Witness for State

Prosecution Will Seek to Prove Intoxication

A tiny Japanese woman in deep mourning will face Mrs. Lois Pantages from the witness box in Superior Judge Hardy's court this morning and tell of the automobile accident which the State charges, made her a widow and brought the wife of Alexander Pantages, millionaire theater owner, to trial on a charge of murder.

Mrs. Joe Rokumoto, the Japanese widow, will recount through an interpreter her version of the automobile crash at Serrano avenue and Sunset Boulevard, to a jury of five women and seven men and two alternates chosen and sworn at the close of court last night after three full days of jury examination.

INTOXICATION CHARGED

Following Mrs. Rokumoto her son, William, will take the stand and repeat the story, from which the prosecution, headed by Dep. Dist.-Attys. Costello and Jones, expects to prove that Mrs. Pantages was intoxicated at the time of the accident, was driving on the wrong side of the street and at a high rate of speed when her automobile rammed the Rokumoto family car.

And with the story of the Rokumotos out of the way other witnesses, headed by Dr. Frank R. Webb, County Autopsy Surgeon, will follow each other in quick succession, each one, the prosecution asserts, to clinch further the case against Mrs. Pantages.

MANY WITNESSES

In all, about twenty-two prosecution witnesses will be heard. According to Dep. Dist.-Attys. Costello and Jones, Harry J. Lederbrink, William D. Taylor, Cyril T. Holmes, J. F. Mason, H. D. Mason, William Dutton, Ralph Kenyon, Walter Cullis, Mrs. Belle Pope, Thomas M. Maloney, Lowell D. Pearson, James Kavanaugh, together with a number of surprise witnesses will testify in the order named. All the prosecution witnesses named by the District Attorney's office already have testified at the preliminary hearing. The surprise witnesses will go unnamed until called to the stand.

Out of the long list of State witnesses will come testimony from other automobile drivers struck by Mrs. Pantages's machine before the fatal accident, pedestrians who saw all or some of the accidents, others who noticed her driving before the accidents and police officers who investigated the case and made the arrest.

JURORS IN CASE

The prosecution story, Costello and Jones say, will be told to the following jury:

Mrs. Maud Stocking, 1619 East Eighty-eighth street, housewife; Mrs. Edith H. Thomas, 663 Hillview avenue, housewife; Mrs. Anne E. Schroeder, 128 Orange Drive, Whittier, housewife; B. F. Petrie, 1056 Elm street, San Gabriel, retired cattle man; Eriando Turner, 787 Belvedere street, Pasadena, retired storekeeper; William L. Cummings, 1017 South Boyle avenue, retired radium refiner; Mrs. T. O. Potts, 2227 Delmar Road, Montrose, housewife; Hugh G. Schultz, R. 1, box 566, Riviera, rancher; Mrs. Martha E. Martin, 527 Whiting street, El Segundo, housewife; Robert L. Wood, 854 Bonita Vista, El Segundo, retired builder; Robert W. Dow, 1530 Glendale Boulevard, life insurance, and Ira F. Gay, 4832 Rosewood, orchestra leader and entertainment contractor. The two alternates are Josephine Carr, 343 West Forty-second street, housewife, and Leon B. Hanson, 2018 Dunsmuir street, a clerk.

The jury was locked up for the night in charge of Bailiff Bryant.

CHALLENGES USED

The selection of the jury came suddenly late yesterday afternoon after a long and bitter struggle between Costello and Jones for the State, and Gilbert, Ford and Steuer for the defense. The end came only after the prosecution had used all its twenty peremptory challenges and the defense all but two.

Even with peremptory challenges exhausted Chief Prosecution Counsel Costello attempted to continue the battle when he asked permission of the court to reopen the examination of Ira Gay, the last

DANCING TEACHER BRIDE OF BANKER

Mrs. Helen Louise Kramer Hauge

SURPRISE MARRIAGE REVEALED

Helen Louise Kramer and R. L. Hauge United Last Week in Santa Barbara

Coming as a complete surprise to their many friends announcement was made late yesterday afternoon of the marriage of Miss Helen Louise Kramer, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Kramer of 118 South St. Andrews Place, to R. Lawrence Hauge, formerly of Minneapolis, Minn., and son of Mr. and Mrs. Lars J. Hauge of Minneapolis.

Because of the recent death of the bride's father, the ceremony was a quiet event of Saturday, August 31, in the Presbyterian Church of Santa Barbara, with Rev. Clarence Spaulding officiating, with only the bride's mother and her aunt, Mrs. Louise Helen Kramer, in attendance. From there Mr. and Mrs. Hauge motored to Del Monte, where they have been witnessing the golf tournament.

The bride, niece of Mrs. Louise Helen Kramer, Los Angeles dancing teacher, herself is a teacher of ballroom dancing, having classes in the Norma Gould studios. She is a member of Phi Beta, national music sorority, and the youngest member of the Los Angeles Soroptimist Club. Mr. Hauge is a banker.

After the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Hauge will make their temporary home with the bride's mother at 118 North St. Andrews Place.

Mad Hatters Decree Three Lids Per Knob

Regardless of the size, shape or contents of your skull, brother, you will feel—if you pride yourself in being a well-dressed man—the distinct need of at least three felt hats this fall. Such is the admonition that went forth from the Mad Hatters yesterday in prescribing the specifications that will govern man's effort to appear neat and nifty from the neck up commencing at any time on or before next Friday. For that is the day, they tell the world, on which you must stuff your faded old straw skimmer into the incinerator and array the conk in felt.

Color, they announce, is the thing this year, in both pastel and stronger shades. The range includes a variety of tans and grays as well as new tints and tones which they have labeled jardin, Brazil and evengio. Prevailing styles will tend toward narrow brims and high, tapering crowns.

LIONS WILL HEAR MAYOR

GREEK THEATER ASSURED

Contract Let for Unusual $131,742 Edifice to be Built in Griffith Park

A contract for the 1930 model Greek theater to be built in Vermont Canyon in Griffith Park, for which Col. G. J. Griffith, donor of the park, left a bequest of $100,000 in his will in 1919, yesterday was awarded by the Board of Park Commissioners to Crosel & Kitchen, Ltd., of Los Angeles, lowest of twenty-two bidders. The contract price is $131,742 and the work is to be completed within 160 days.

The bequest, which has grown with its interest to $120,000 in ten years, will require an addition of $11,742, which has been appropriated by the Park Commission from its park improvement balance.

The theater, which first was suggested by the late Col. Griffith in 1912, but on which action was delayed because of differences of opinion among park commissioners over a period of many years, will have a seating capacity of 5000 persons. It will be 110 feet in width and fifty feet in depth. The stage will be seventy feet in width between the wings, with a depth of forty-seven feet and provision will be made for handling any kind of performances through features to be installed in the basement and an elevator service capable of lifting an elephant, if required.

A huge basement will extend beneath all the structure, to be entered by a tunnel from a private driveway on Vermont avenue. The tunnel also will enter a garage providing for forty-two cars. In the garage will be located an emergency hospital, a large area for storage of properties, space for electrical transformers, several rooms, a kitchen and dining-rooms for the cast. The entire section along the west side will consist of rest rooms and comfort-station facilities for the audience. Scenery rooms will be on either side of the stage.

The stage floor will have a large reception lobby adjoining the business manager's office, with four dressing rooms. A large rehearsal

The Lancer

COUNT Keyserling is making a lot of money telling Americans about themselves.

It appears that we are primitive animals without any more spiritual consciousness than a horned toad. Count Keyserling, on the other hand, is just cram full of spiritual consciousness—right up to the eyebrows. If he had any more spiritual consciousness, it would be necessary to build a lean-to to hold it.

At that, this philosopher is not without his practical moments.

If an Edinburgh Scotchman, an Armenian rug peddler and Count Keyserling all dived for a nickel on a sidewalk, the spiritually conscious nobleman would not only get the nickel, but charge the other two for his time—and for rent of the sidewalk.

THE PANTAGES TRIAL

Our legal war correspondent, Mr. Nathan, chaperoned me to the Pantages trial.

In all my experience, I never have seen any defendant so terrified as Mrs. Pantages. She looks absolutely gray with fear.

Which, of course, is no indication whatever that she is in any way guilty. The court and the jury will find out the truth of these murder charges without any co-operation from the newspapers.

LAWYER STEUER

Incidentally, I find that Mr. Max Steuer, the imported lawyer from New York, is worried about too many newspaper stories of his wealth and his airplane ride to the rescue of the Pantages. Such things do not help a lawyer much before a jury.

He is one of the most interesting men I ever have seen in a courtroom. He is very small and very mild. He has none of the swagger that distinguishes so many criminal lawyers. When he speaks to the jurors, his voice is so low that he scarcely can be heard ten feet away.

BADGERING WITNESSES

Senator Stephen M. White was one of the first great lawyers to abandon the "ah-ha! now-I've-caught-you-in-a-lie," manner when interrogating a witness. His plan was to cover up the witness's blunder so quickly that not even the opposing lawyers noticed it—until he got to his argument to the jury. Then he let go with both barrels.

WERE SUNK

Dr. Roback of Massachusetts University has discovered that the habit of sticking one's thumbs in the arm-holes of the masculine vest is an indication of a superiority complex.

I am sorry he had to go and publish this, I have no doubt whatever that half the flappers who read that item in The Times are already cutting out vests. That is the only thing we had left—that pitiful bluff.

RADIOS.

I have been living in the hope that they were going to close the Radio Show by shooting all the announcers who made punk junk over the ether; but I am discouraged.

If the radio programs were as good as the physical apparatus, the family radio would be quite a geeflicker; but they seem to be steadily progressing in a rearward direction. The entertainment business is limping a long way behind the achievements of science.

GRAFT CHARGED IN FINGERPRINTS

Grand Jury Will be Told of Selling Jail Records

Police Force Members Face New Accusations

Sixteen More Officers Named in Liquor Inquiry

Charges that certain Los Angeles police officers have sold office records of fingerprints and jail photographs to released criminals on several occasions for sums ranging from $1000 to $3000, yesterday were added to the list of asserted illegal acts attributed to department members already under investigation by the county grand jury.

This fact became known when Dep. Dist.-Atty. Percy Hammon, in charge of grand jury matters, announced that he has obtained the names of several witnesses asserted to have knowledge of such sales and they will be called before the grand jury to testify today. Fifteen other witnesses have been called to testify regarding other transactions.

MORE LIQUOR CHARGES

It also was revealed that Federal authorities, co-operating with the District Attorney's office, have supplied the names of sixteen additional police officers asserted to have solicited and accepted bribes to extend protection to Los Angeles bootleggers. Hammon previously was in possession of twenty-five names of asserted bribe-takers named by Harry D. McDonald on his arrest in Whittier a week ago charged with conspiracy to violate the Wright Act.

McDonald will be one of the first witnesses called today to finish telling his story to the grand jury of five years of operation as a liquor dealer in Los Angeles with the asserted protection of policemen.

In his story thus far, McDonald has told of scores of transactions in which he asserts he paid collectors for protection politicians $125 twice a month for immunity. This figure later was raised to $250, McDonald said, and officers "in on the deals" demanded large sums individually until he said he was virtually bankrupt.

PAY-OFF LEAGUE

Headquarters for the asserted "pay-off league" were located in a bathhouse in East Seventeenth street, according to McDonald, where thousands of dollars changed hands. Canceled checks totaling more than $30,000 were placed in the hands of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hammon yesterday by McDonald to corroborate this statement.

As the grand jury prepared to resume the investigation, it was assured of 100 per cent support from Federal, county and city law enforcement agencies. Earlier in the day three members of the Police Commission, including President Willard G. Thorpe, Francis Drake and C. E. Coe, spent an hour in conference with Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

At the close of the conference, Commissioner Drake announced that the Police Commission is heartily in accord with the investigation as being conducted by Dist.-Atty. Fitts and the grand jury.

"The District Attorney himself and his office are doing everything possible, so far as we can see, to co-operate with the Police Commission," Drake said. "Their co-operation thus far has been 100 per cent. We could not ask for more co-operation than they have given voluntarily."

As an expression of their confidence in the present investigation, the Police Commission has asked Acting Chief Finlayson to leave the inquiry in the hands of the District Attorney and the grand jury, according to Commissioner Drake. Chief Davis is absent from the city on his vacation.

Dist.-Atty. Fitts made it plain at the end of the conference that the members of the Police Commission called at his office voluntarily to discuss the inquiry and were not summoned.

At the invitation of Ellwood Degarmo, foreman, and other members of the grand jury, the Police Commission will meet with the grand jury today to discuss the pending investigation.

OLD ROMANCE BLOOMS ANEW

Screen Players Patch Up Troth

Vivian Duncan and Nils Asther

RENEWING a romance which was broken nearly two years ago, Vivian Duncan last evening announced her engagement to Nils Asther, screen actor. The marriage, the announcement said, will take place shortly.

Two years ago by mutual agreement the couple terminated their betrothal. Not long ago Miss Duncan and her sister, Rosetta Duncan, were placed under contract by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Asther is under contract at the same studio. Several days ago they chanced to meet on the lot. Their meeting proved too much and Nils again placed a ring on her finger.

"I never stopped loving her," he said. "And I've always loved him," sighed Miss Vivian.

It was three years ago they met when Asther was engaged to play a role in the screen version of the Duncan sisters' stage play, "Topsy and Eva." When they parted they did not see each other again until their meeting on the lot where the sisters are making "Cotton and Silk," their first all-talking picture.

According to Miss Duncan, they will slip out of Los Angeles immediately on the completion of their picture for the marriage which will be strictly private. She declined yesterday to name the place they have chosen for the wedding.

ESTATE ORDERED TO PAY JEWEL DEPOSIT

In a decision handed down yesterday by United States District Judge James it was ordered that trustees for the bankrupt estate of Fuagans & Co. pay to Robert L. Hague $2500, paid to the company at the time it was insolvent. It was charged in the complaint that Hague paid the sum as a deposit on a bracelet that was to sell for $15,-550, the jewels to be given his wife, but never received the bracelet. The court ordered that he be refunded the amount paid.

SUPERSTITION HIS TOPIC

Opening events for the winter season at Temple B'nai B'rith, Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin will give a lecture this evening on "The Story of Superstition," based on P. F. Waterman's book of that title. A feature of the evening service will be an organ recital by J. McAfee. At 10:30 a.m. tomorrow Dr. Magnin will speak on "Jewish Literature and History."

STATE TO PRESS CAR DEATH CASE

Mrs. Pantages Sighs as Jury Selection Ends

juror selected. Costello's request was met with bitter objections coming from the entire defense counsel and the court held with Mrs. Pantages. Then the alternates were picked and the jury sworn.

IN THEATER CIRCLES

Costello's move to reopen the questioning of Gay came after the prosecution had learned that Gay is well known in the musical and theatrical circles in the city. The prosecutor until shut off by the court seemed to wish to interrogate Gay relative to his work and the contacts brought about by it.

Persons in the courtroom looked upon the defense move in blocking the prosecution's efforts to reopen the jury examination as a victory for Mrs. Pantages. When the jury was sworn other attorneys pointed out the defense still was hoarding two peremptory challenges while the prosecution was without a single challenge.

Friends of the twelfth juror, Gay, declared him to be a brother to the song-writer, Byron Gay, the author of "Wish I Had a Drink," a well-known song hit.

JUDGE SPEEDS CASE

Examination of prospective jurors sped along during the entire afternoon yesterday under the firm hand of Judge Hardy. His questions to the jurors left little for the prosecution and defense counsel to do and time after time jurors were passed with no questions from the attorneys.

Throughout the afternoon the array of defense attorneys went into huddles with Mrs. Pantages and after almost every huddle some person was passed from the jury box.

Of the jury and two alternates none, according to answers made to Judge Hardy, has any objection to a person taking a small drink. This question was put to each of the prospective jurors one after another and during the day only one man and one woman were found who openly said they did not believe in anyone taking a drink and that their belief was so strong that they might not be able to act fairly in this case.

OPINIONS ON DRINK

N. C. Hagey announced from the jury box that he always held that "gasoline and whisky would not mix" and he was excused for cause after adding that he held opinions relative to drinking which made him feel unfitted to remain on the jury. Some time later Mrs. Leo F. Veley was also excused for cause after expressing similar opinions.

Very few of the prospective jurors examined by the court and the two sets of attorneys admitted opinions in the case and most of them said they had read only the headlines in the newspapers. Several of them announced that they never had heard of the Pantages case and others said they had heard it mentioned but knew nothing of the asserted facts.

During the jury examination all the panels from Departments Twenty-four, Twenty-five and Twenty-three, and some of the panel from Department Thirteen, were used in the order named.

The break in the examination, which was followed in a very short time by a completed jury, came when the defense through Attorney Gilbert suddenly passed the jury at just 3:55 p.m. The move allowed the defense to gain one peremptory challenge when Costello challenged one of the jurors under examination at the time and then later was forced to challenge another. Then Gay was called to the jury box, the defense passed again, and the prosecution without any more challenges was forced to accept the jury.

MRS. PANTAGES SIGHS

With the selection of the men and women to try her case completed, Mrs. Pantages sank back into her chair with a tired sigh and closed her eyes. The strain of the three days of bitter strife coupled with the months of waiting and worry since she is charged with having run her automobile into the side of the Rokumoto car; his death which followed in a few days, the injury of his wife and two children and another Japanese woman and her two children, together with her preliminary trial and her husband's arrest a short time later, charged with having attacked a young girl, have left Mrs. Pantages apparently a nervous wreck and a trained nurse and a family physician are in constant attendance upon her.

MANY CHALLENGES

Four women and eight men were seated in the jury box at noon yesterday and courtroom observers began to sense that "a jury" was near.

All through the long morning session challenge followed challenge both from the defense and prosecution counsel row. In each case before a defense challenge Gilbert, Ford and Steuer went into a conference with Mrs. Pantages and then one more prospective juror would be excused.

At the end of the morning session the defense had used fourteen of its peremptory challenges and the prosecution thirteen. Both sides under the law have twenty challenges.

Two prospective jurors were excused yesterday without challenge. Mrs. Anna Eaton left the box by stipulation when it became known that she at one time did some legal work for one of the defense counsel. A doctor's certificate presented to Judge Hardy by P. G. Peterson won him his release after both sides had accepted him.

Mrs. Pantages sat at the end of the counsel table yesterday morning next to Defense Counsel Ford looking more drawn and haggard than since the trial got under way last Tuesday morning. Several times during the morning session she wiped away tears which sprang into her eyes when Gilbert, questioning prospective jurors, mentioned her children.

Both of Mrs. Pantages's sons, Lloyd and Rodney, together with her daughter, Carmen, were seated in the front row of spectators seats directly behind Mrs. Pantages. The husband, who has been present since the trial started, did not appear during the morning session.

Along toward the end of the morning Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jones, who with Costello is prosecuting the case, was heard from for the first time. He took over the questioning of the panel and in a slow and clear voice propounded about the same line of questions which have marked the prosecution's effort to learn the state of mind of the various men and women in the jury box, since the trial began.

Judge Hardy late in the morning took a hand in the questioning in an effort to hurry up the jury selection. With the appearance of each new face in the jury box he asked a series of searching questions which left little for counsel on either side to ask. His efforts to speed up the proceedings bore fruit and both the prosecution and defense passed for cause juror after juror with little or no questioning.

The two days and a half of steady jury questioning have had a marked effect on the crowds. Yesterday morning quite a line of interested would-be spectators was at the doors of the courtroom but melted away before noon when it became known that testimony would not be started until late today at the best.

OLDSTERS TO HAVE PICNIC TOMORROW

Septuagenarians, with older men and women, will picnic together tomorrow in Sycamore Grove Park in a novel merrymaking, limited to persons 70 years of age or more. Those 90 or older will be seated on the platform. Officials arranging the outing are urging automobile owners to look up their neighbors who are 70 or more and drive them to the park.

CONFESSION MADE OF TWO HOLD-UPS

Mrs. Jane Ross

WOMAN JAILED AS BANK BANDIT

Confesses Two Robberies, Police Declare

Husband Says He Forced Her to Join Hold-up

She Denies Getting Amounts Named as Taken

Mrs. Jane Ross, 28 years of age, of 1445 North Mariposa avenue, yesterday confessed, according to Captain of Detectives Cahill, that she was the "comely companion" who, on the 3rd inst. aided in the robbery of the Bank of America branch at Rico street and Third avenue, as well as the "lone female bandit" who, on April 15, last, held up the Citizens' National Bank at Portieth and Figueroa streets.

Within a short time after her arrest, Capt. Cahill further announced, the woman's husband, Bert Ross, 30, endeavored to "take the fall" for his wife by insisting he had forced her to commit both robberies. He made this statement, the officer said, following his arrest at the Columbia Studios, Hollywood, where he was working as an extra, declaring Mrs. Ross, under his urgent persuasion, had robbed the Citizens' National Bank unaided, but that he had accompanied her on the occasion of the more recent hold-up. He was booked on suspicion of robbery.

The woman's confession was made, Cahill stated, shortly after she and James Kelley, 35, an actor, of 861 West Twenty-third street, were taken into custody by Detective Lieutenants Gilliwood and Long of the police robbery detail. Mrs. Ross was arrested at her home. Kelley was apprehended at his residence.

The arrests were made on information given to the detectives from persons who had overheard the woman talking of the robberies, Cahill said. In her apartment the detectives reported finding four revolvers.

In her confession Mrs. Ross stated that reports that she obtained $3000 in the first robbery and the same amount Tuesday were erroneous.

"I only got $1500 in the first job," she said, according to Cahill, "and but $600 from the Bank of America."

Mrs. Ross is being held at the County Jail on a charge of robbery. Kelley is in the City Jail on the same charge. A third man, said to have earned $250 for driving the automobile in which the woman and her companion fled from the scene of the robbery Tuesday, was being sought by the detectives.

Mrs. Ross, it was learned by police, is the mother of a 4-year-old girl, now being cared for by the woman's aunt at the Mariposa-avenue address.

A number of contracts already awarded for the construction work will be announced at the ceremony, O. H. Starr said. This with a number of feature stunts will mark the program.

Dedication of Temple Israel Occurs Tonight

With consecration of the corner-stone preceding the opening services of the year, the new Temple Israel, 1798 Ivar street, will be dedicated tonight at 8 o'clock. Sol M. Wurtzel, president of the congregation, will officiate at the corner-stone dedication. Immediately following these services Rabbi Isadore Isaacson is to speak on "The Significance of the Moment." Other speakers will be I. E. Chadwick, chairman of the board of directors; John Stone, secretary; Sol Wurtzel and Isadore Bernstein, historian of the temple.

A special feature of the services will be solo work by Joseph Diskay, who is to sing "The Lord Is My Light" and "Rachin." Other selections are to be rendered by the new quartet consisting of Ida Goldberg, soprano; Genevieve Schrader, contralto; Harry Bookman, tenor; Thomas Pearson, baritone, accompanied by B. Ernest Ballard, organist.

The sisterhood and brotherhood plan a reception with refreshments after the formal ceremonies. There will be guides to conduct members and visitors through the new temple, which is one block west of Vine street, just north of Hollywood Boulevard.

COUNCILMEN TO SPEAK

Councilmen Holland and Williams are announced to speak tonight at 8 o'clock at the meeting called by the Elysian Garden Home Club to be held at the Alessandro school, 2301 Riverside Drive.

ASSERTED STOLEN STORY PLOT GERM TOLD JUDGE

One day when a notorious Detroit gangster met Rowland Brown, scenario writer, in Hollywood and mistook him for a brother crook and offered him $10,000 to "bump a guy off," the situation furnished a plot germ for a film production.

That the germ resulted in a story entitled "Dapper Dan," which finally found its way to the screen under the caption, "The Carnation Kid," is the contention of Brown in his suit against Douglas McLean, the Douglas McLean Productions, Al and Charles Christie and the Famous Players-Lasky organization. The suit went to trial yesterday before Superior Judge Tappaan.

Brown, on the witness stand most of the day, is attempting to prove that there is not only a similarity between his story, "Dapper Dan," and "The Carnation Kid," but that his idea was deliberately pirated by the Christies and McLean, while they had his manuscript under consideration.

Both stories have to do with gang life in Chicago.

The author, represented by Attorney Harold Pendler, asks that the defendants be restrained from exhibiting the film, "The Carnation Kid," until an accounting of the revenue has been conducted and that he be allowed to share in the accrued profits.

The defendants deny purloining the idea of "The Carnation Kid" from Brown's manuscript. Famous Players-Lasky, represented by Attorney Frank James, assert they had nothing to do with the making of the picture. They say they merely released it and are in no way liable.

NEW PARK AIR PERMIT GIVEN

National Guard to Continue Use of Griffith Field

Commission Stands 3 to 2 for Five Years More

Ninety-Day Revocation Term Included in Grant

Reversing its former stand which was for termination of the permit of the California National Guard air forces using Griffith Park field for operations of planes, the Board of Park Commissioners, by a vote of three to two, yesterday granted the National Guard another permit for five years, with a ninety-day revocation clause, pending the time when the State shall have provided an airport for the air squadron.

The application for renewal was made by Gen. R. E. Mittelstaedt, Adjutant-General of the State; Gen. W. P. Story, commander of the Eightieth Brigade of the National Guard, and Col. Henry O. Wheeler, chairman of the aviation, military and navy committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Mayor Porter also was present and approved the renewal.

Those voting in favor were Commissioners Bovard and Mrs. Mabel V. Sachs, and George H. Barnes, the latter an appointee of Porter. President Van Griffith and Commissioner Yeatman maintained their former stand against the renewal on the ground that the park department is ready to carry forward extensive development of the portion of the park now used by the National Guard and that the latter should obtain space at the Municipal Airport.

Favorable action on the renewal was urged by Col. Wheeler, who suggested the ninety-day revocation clause, in case the National Guard obtains permanent quarters at the Municipal Airport or in Glendale, which are being considered by Gen. Mittelstaedt. He said that the Chamber of Commerce is anxious to see the air squadron retained in California and that unless the co-operation is extended there is a possibility that it might be moved elsewhere.

Oklahoma Man Granted Parole

Charles B. Bellamy, 59 years of age, said to be a brother of George W. Bellamy, first lieutenant governor of Oklahoma, yesterday was granted three years probation by Superior Judge Aggeler on a charge of violation of the State Narcotic law. He was paroled to the custody of a nephew, J. D. Grigsby, Oklahoma City attorney, with permission to return to his home State.

According to officers, Bellamy was arrested on July 10, last, at 845 South Ferris street, Belvedere Gardens, in possession of a small quantity of morphine. The defendant contended that he used the drug in small quantities to relieve pain.

This Full Hand Beats Four Deuces

Suspected Robbers and Gems Held by Detective

FOUR JAILED IN GEM THEFT

Detectives Seize Suspects and Get Jewelry in June Street Robbery Within Six Hours

Within six hours after Harry Feigenbaum and his wife had been held up in their home at 634 June street and robbed of $8000 worth of diamond jewelry, two men arrested as suspects were identified as the bandits yesterday morning; and shortly afterward police recovered the plunder. The arrested men gave their names as Julius Stein (alias Collins,) 23 years of age, and Harry Stoler, 30, both of 1152 North Rowan avenue.

Scarcely had jail doors clanged shut behind the men when two women were taken in custody and booked on suspicion of robbery in connection with the same haul. They described themselves as Marcelle Gilbert, 28, and "Mickie" O'Connor, 30. Both were arrested at 129 North Oxford street, following telephone calls made to them by Stein and Stoler a moment before their incarceration. According to Captain of Detectives McCaleb, in charge of the Wilshire detective bureau, foot prints of women's shoes were found by police at the scene of the robbery.

Arrest of Stein and Stoler was made by detectives working under orders from Capt. McCaleb, and as the result of information furnished by Feigenbaum. The latter informed McCaleb, the captain stated, that he suspected the bandits were a pair he believed had been following him for several days. He furnished the names. The arrests were made, and the identification followed.

Thereupon the detectives returned to the Rowan-avenue address, where the men had been taken in custody, and a search of the garage in the rear revealed the stolen gems, Capt. McCaleb reported.

Stein, according to McCaleb, is supposed to be a brother of Eddie Collins, who ended his life three weeks after the robbery of the Van Dan Acker Jewelry Company of Hollywood in July, last, in which $25,000 worth of uncut diamonds were stolen.

The robbery of Feigenbaum and his wife was staged about 2 a.m. yesterday. The victim reported that the two bandits entered his home and threatened them with guns while they ransacked the bedroom. Both bandits were masked, he said, but he was able to obtain a good description of them.

WIDENING MOVE REFERRED

Council yesterday referred to the City Engineer a communication from the Mar Vista Chamber of Commerce urging the institution of proceedings for the widening to sixty feet of both north and south roadways of Venice Boulevard between Walgrove and Overland avenues.

Cremations in America Show Large Increase

Cremations in America increased 35 per cent during the four years prior to 1928, according to reports made yesterday at the annual convention of the Cremation Association of America, being held at the Ambassador in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Association of American Cemetery Superintendents. The report covered the results of a survey just completed by the association.

Frank Adams of Boston was elected president of the cremation association for the ensuing year. Robert Guthrie of St. Louis was chosen treasurer and Herbert Hargrave of Fresno, secretary.

The association exchanged greetings by cable with the British, Scandinavian and German cremation societies.

OIL FRAUDS SUSPECT FACES COURT MONDAY

After unsuccessfully resisting removal from Texas to California on charges of fraudulent use of funds of various oil companies, Gilbert S. Johnson, is to appear Monday before United States District Judge Henning to have his case set for trial. Johnson is said by Asst. U. S. Atty. Davis to have organized numerous oil companies in Texas, and the government charges that he diverted large sums to his own use.

SEIZED GEMS AUCTIONED

Twenty diamonds, amounting in weight to about eleven carats, and a number of melee or small cut diamonds, weighing in all about three carats, were sold at auction yesterday at the Federal Building by United States Marshal Sittel. The diamonds had been smuggled into the United States and seized by the government. The sale netted the government $2033.

Cigarette Butt Fire Hazard to Get Test Today

County fire wardens will supervise a new kind of cigarette test today when observers in airplanes will drop burning cigars and cigarettes on a grass-covered airport to determine just what the danger of smoldering "butts" dropped by air voyagers means to the forests of California.

"Pags," or "gaspers" as they are sometimes known, will be dropped from altitudes of 1000 feet, 3000 feet and 5000 feet, and their fall observed by fire wardens on the ground, under the supervision of County Fire Warden Turner.

The plane will be furnished by the Rio Grande Oil Company, and in it will be Supervisors Wright and McClellan of the County Board of Supervisors, and W. V. Mendenhall, supervisor of the Angeles National Forest. The scene of the test will be an airport at San Fernando Boulevard and Osborne.

Mexico Official Will Make Long Trip Via Air

Spanning the United States twice and spending three days in Canada on a business trip, all in a period of seven days, is the schedule of Sam Duss, head of the Bureau of Commerce and Mines at Cananea, Son., Mex., who is making the entire trip by air. He left here last night for San Francisco and expects to reach Vancouver, B. C., tonight.

The Mexican official is accompanied by his wife and is utilizing three air transportation lines in his journey. They boarded a passenger plane of the Standard Air Lines at the airport in Douglas yesterday at 11:40 a.m., and connected with the Western Air Express plane here at 4:30 p.m., for San Francisco, where they spent last night.

Today they board a Boeing plane in San Francisco for Seattle, and on to Vancouver tonight. Reservations already have been made for the return trip over the same route at the end of a three-day stay.

ORGAN TO BE DEDICATED

The organ in the First Presbyterian Church of Covina will be dedicated this evening with a recital by Sibley G. Pease, organist of the Elks Temple and St. James' Episcopal Church. The instrument, a Robert Morton, was given by an anonymous donor.

Hollywood Seen as "New Salon"

Succeeding London, Paris, and New York, each of which has in its turn held sway as the literary and art capital of the world, Hollywood rapidly is becoming the "new salon" for the brilliant creative minds of the universe, according to Zoe Akins, noted playwright, now in Hollywood to write for the screen.

In less than six months the author of "Declasse" and "Daddy's Gone-a-Hunting" pointed out, practically the entire song-writing fraternity has been transferred to the Coast; and as for authors and playwrights, the film colony fast is acquiring supremacy in this field as well.

Coming here at the invitation of William Fox, Miss Akins has completed an original-story assignment and now is writing the screen play and dialogue for "Sarah and Son," in which Ruth Chatterton is to be starred. She declared yesterday she is considering overtures from other producers and may remain here indefinitely.

COLORADO MAN SOUGHT

Request for aid in locating John H. Bissett was received by The Times yesterday from Harold Bissett of Sterling, Colo. The latter said John H. Bissett was heard of last in the vicinity of Los Angeles, since which time his younger brother, W. E. Bissett, has died. His mother, 78 years of age, lives in Missouri, and is anxious to get in touch with him.

Fair and Mild Weather Will Trail Breezes

Brisk, stimulating breezes put a tang in the air yesterday, when the highest temperature here was 71 deg., and the lowest was 62 deg. The refreshingly temperate day was considerably cooler than September 5, 1928, when the mercury touched 90 deg., while the low temperatures of the two days were identical. Skies were cloudy at 5 a.m. and partly cloudy at 5 p.m., and the relative humidity at noon was 58.

Predictions for today and tomorrow are fair and mild.

STORY OF POUNDING WINS WIFE DIVORCE

There is a difference between a husband beating a wife and pounding her, according to Mrs. Helen G. Fortner, who was before Superior Judge Tappaan yesterday seeking a divorce from Raymond G. Fortner. "Judge, he didn't beat me, he pounded me," Mrs. Fortner declared. "He would pound my arm until it was black and blue." "Decree granted," declared the judge.

Today's Bible Text

"Bear ye one another's burden and so fulfill the law of Christ." Galatians vi:2.

HOLDING A FAIR
The sporty barber says that a woman is fair when she is being held.

THIS JAZZY WORLD
It is cited that eight years ago there was but one broadcasting station in the country—that at Pittsburgh. Now there are 630—all sounding like Pittsburgh. Lots of them feel impelled to start in at 6 in the morning in order to get in the full ration of roar and rumble.

CHOOSE YOUR PARTNERS
The women of India are getting so fussy that they are demanding the right to select their own husbands. Gee! but they are growing fastidious. What difference can it make? Girls over here may pick their own partners, but what good does it do them? They don't stay picked.

ROCKER TOURNEY
In the rocking-chair contest that raged in Chicago the contestants had to stick to their teetering for fifty minutes of every hour. Except for this there could be no stoppage for a snooze. There were fifteen contestants at the start and they had to do more than sit—they had to keep their chairs in motion. The first prize was $1000 and a share in the gate. When they get around to a lazy man's tournament—to find out who can stay longest in bed, there will be a lot more competition.

THE BARE FACTS
One of the members of the Peaceful Valley colony in Utah died the other day of alleged starvation and the group is now dissolving. The colonists figured that they could only be virtuous and moral by living without food and clothing. It is possible that humans can thrive while going in the raw as far as their apparel is concerned, but a nibble of nourishment now and then is absolutely essential. They may go naked, but they must have their prunes or oatmeal—or whatever it is that passes for fodder.

TROUBLE MAKERS
Musicians in Chicago theaters are said to be threatening another strike. There is no particular reason for it outside of the fact that this is the heated season. They want a 10 per cent increase in pay, but this would hardly warrant a walkout. It is mostly trouble that they are stirring up. The leaders do not care if the musicians lose their jobs as long as they can poke up a fight of some kind. That is all that counts. There have been several months of peace and it is bothering the bosses. They thrive on strife.

TOO MUCH OIL
The State puts a check on this business of boring holes in salt water to uncover more oil. There are plenty of spots on dry land to punch these cavities and everybody is kicking about the seepages and black waste that muss up our shores—especially in the neighborhood of the popular beaches. It is known that there are near-by spots on the sea's bottom where oil bubbles up as from a spring. These toy gushers are a nuisance to bathers and efforts are directed to muzzle or mask them so that they will not mar or sully the beauty of our ocean. It seems that we need clean water more than we do oil. The trick is to fend off the prospector and muffle our tankers. Oil and water will not mix.

THE BIGGEST BUILDING
Being a self-confessed Empire State builder Al Smith may naturally become the head of the new Empire State Building Company, which is about to erect the most stupendous business block in New York City. It will be eighty stories high and cover more than two acres of ground. The present site of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel is included in the tract. The new structure will make the Woolworth Building look like a midget. It will represent an investment of nearly $60,000,000 and Gov. Smith will draw more than $50,000 a year as president of the enterprise. Any time he wishes to rise higher in the world he will have a dozen express elevators to shoot him a thousand feet toward the heavens.

OPENING THE DOOR
Elihu Root has crowned his long and distinguished career with a master stroke of diplomacy.

Without the participation of the United States, the World Court for International Justice can—in the nature of things—amount to very little in the adjustment of world disputes and the prevention of possible wars. Until now the participation of the United States has been impossible. The famous "fifth American representation" gave the United States veto privileges on the right of any country to ask for advisory opinions on any matter affecting the interests of the United States.

This proviso proved inacceptable to European members of the court; and there the matter rested—with a "road-closed" sign.

Mr. Root offered a singularly ingenious way around this blockade. His protocol provides that there shall be individual negotiations between the United States and the Council of the League in each case where the United States has any opposition to the proposal to ask for advisory opinions.

The final effect is the same in that it leaves the affairs of the United States free from European interference. It firmly places the principle that the New World is not to be considered a part of Europe. At the same time it saves the face of European diplomacy.

In other words it substitutes a graceful gesture for a "Keep-Off-the-Grass" sign. It is a way of saying: "We are not asking to step on your grass; but if we should ask to step on your grass, what do you think you would say about it?"

There seems to be every probability of the acceptance of the Root proposal. Sir George Foster, speaking for Canada at Geneva, enthusiastically supported and expressed his pleasure in welcoming the nearest Canadian neighbor to the Hague Court.

The protocol will now go before the Assembly of the League and the United States Senate for formal approval.

The potentialities of the Hague World Court are greater than the possibilities of the League of Nations. The latter has been considered to involve too much of a surrender of our interests and rights and too much entanglement in European affairs to admit of the participation by this country. The World Court contains no such embarrassments—as now lined up.

There has never been a war in Europe that could not have been adjusted by reasonable men—with a determination for peace.

It is too much to expect that the World Court will bring about a millennium of peace and brotherly love. There will be other wars—and plenty of them. But the World Court will smooth out many disputes that could, in other days, have led to wars. Each dispute adjusted on the basis of justice and mutual concession makes the next adjudication easier of accomplishment.

War is a habit; and peace is a habit. There is no magic wand which can be waved to turn the world from one state of mind to the other; but pouring enough clean water into a dirty barrel finally results in a flow of pure water.

Incidentally if Elihu Root's great prestige among European diplomats, his thorough training and his great mentality could have been made available at the time of negotiations for world peace, the aftermath of the World War might have been a far different story.

A BROMO SELTZER
Senorita Amalia Dugo recently arrived in Los Angeles from her uncle's ranch in the Argentine and finds the flappers and things in general much tamer than in South America.

Having doubtless seen our films, she may have expected to see some of our leading citizens, like Douglas Fairbanks, scaling the walls of our skyscrapers, like flies, or leaping across Broadway from the housetops, as a canyon, rescuing a baby doll. Or she may be disappointed in not seeing Charlie Chaplin skid around every corner on one foot. Possibly she watches in vain for Harold Lloyd to run to the wrong goal post down Hollywood Boulevard.

All the movie queens she meets are dressed like other maids and she is not able to distinguish them from 10,000 others. Clara Bow's dangerous curves are not twists in the highway at all.

Possibly the beautiful South American senorita does not know that stars cannot twinkle both by day and by night. They have to sleep between cameras like other folks.

On the other hand, Walter Davenport in Collier's cannot see anything else but' He exclaims in despair, "It must be the climate!" Nothing is done serenely in Southern California. Every breath is roaring with energy. He had not been in Los Angeles an hour before things began to happen and fireworks explode. A parade passes with men in clean white pants fiercely pressed—it is the opening of a new filling station.

He hears us cheering exhaustingly not only for strangers, but for ourselves. He peeps into the keyhole and finds us sleeping furiously.

Everybody is peering into everybody else's car for a celebrity—a cause of many motor accidents. A microscopic beauty in a huge motor that could accommodate seven heavyweight wrestlers queens the public with bisque smiles.

If you run in for more gas, youths leap at you like doughboys going over the top: one at the windshield, one at the radiator and one at the tank. It is an adventure.

Drive-in markets serve everything from crown roasts to sermons. The clerks and brewing coffee sing together. Apartments have "a dinette, a kitchenette, a librette, a livette and a bathette." There is a radio "on the tabourette in the librette and booklets in the casette." You punch a button and bedettes, lavatoriettes and refrigerettes pop out at you from the most impossible places.

The opening of a new theater is a riot. The opening of a new subdivision is a Fourth of July celebration and even the opening of new offices is a wedding floral display.

What could the senorita have been doing to miss all this? And it would seem that Walter Davenport must need a bromo seltzer!

LEE SIDE O' L.A.
By Lee Shippey

LOS ANGELES and Southern California are very much asleep at the switch in regard to the great trade possibilities of Mexico, Central America, and all of western South America, according to Senor Jose Kelly, special commissioner of the Mexican Department of Industry, Commerce and Labor. For all of Mexico, Don Jose says, is more interested in Los Angeles than in any other American city. His presence here instead of in New York—until recently he has been attached to the Mexican consulate in New York—is evidence of that interest. But now most of the American goods bought by even West Coast Mexico, he says, come from the American northeast, enter Mexico by way of Laredo, and are reshipped to the West Coast from Mexico City.

He also says the inefficiency of American efficiency when it comes to winning and holding Latin-American trade is bewildering to the Latin American.

California-Born Mexican

Don Jose has a right to talk to us that way because he is almost one of us. He is the son of an Irish adventurer and a Yaqui Indian and was born in Long Beach. He went into Mexico in 1906 as a railroad machinist, working in the shops in Monterrey, but returned to this country to attend Cornell University. In 1910 he returned to Mexico, eager to help the laboring class of that country. He joined the first liberal movement and promptly was banished by the Diaz regime. He returned in 1911 and helped launch the Madero revolution, which broke in full force in 1912. He spent many a day as a barefoot revolucionario, he says, with nothing to eat but tortillas and frijoles. Later he joined the movement which brought Obregon and Calles to power. Ever since then he has been in official favor.

No More Revolts?

During the recent revolution, Kelly was in charge of the border check on the Mexican side, because of his knowledge of both sides. And he says that was the last revolution for a long time.

"It was so thoroughly crushed," he says, "that there isn't any element in Mexico which will want to risk such another crushing. Besides that, there's no reason for another revolt. The religious question has been settled now and all other conditions in Mexico are steadily improving. We have 1,700,000 children in school down there and a lot of good roads building, a lot of factories operating. President Gil is an ardent educator and an ardent dry man. As Governor of the State of Tamaulipas he called people together in town meetings and told them they were living in poverty and degradation and always would be until they stopped spending the greater part of their earnings for drink. He got town after town to voluntarily go dry, without the aid of a law, and now the only wet spots in the entire State are Tampico and Victoria. The keynote ringing throughout Mexico now is one of progress and the whole country is responding. In one place a great irrigation dam is being built without cost except for cement and supervision—the farmers and townspeople are giving volunteer labor—some a couple of hours every day, some one day each week. In some States, thousands of young banana trees have been distributed to small farmers. Every effort is being made to encourage the small farmer to become a progressive and self-sustaining citizen.

The Great American Storehouse

"Now that things are safe in Mexico, American business and American tourists ought to go down and really find out something about it. The Orient is a closed market now because of war conditions. In fact, China has been having troubles for quite a while beside which those of Mexico were small. Mexico has more to show the American tourist than any other country in the world—prehistoric ruins at Culiacan, Mexico City, Chichen-Itza and many other places; scenic routes unsurpassed anywhere and relics of great historical interest—the house in which Cortez lived, for instance, or the first printing press in America, brought to Mexico City 100 years before the first pilgrim stepped on Plymouth Rock. Mexico is undoubtedly America's greatest storehouse of both its history and its prehistory, as well as its greatest storehouse of mineral wealth. While for hunting, fishing and sport, no other country in the world can rival it for opportunity and safety.

Won't Speak Politely

"Mexicans are very polite," he concluded, "and when they are interviewed or make speeches in Los Angeles they naturally say polite things. But if I make any speeches here I am going to speak right out, tell the Americans just where they are failing to get Mexican trade and co-operation. Because I want to see these two countries more closely united in trade and friendship."

THE GOOD GIVER
The man who is fussing over how much he is going to get will find himself faced by an employer who is mighty curious to know how much he can give for what he is going to get. The man who gets most in life also gives most.

A DARK OUTLOOK
By James J. Montague

There is to be a nation-wide war on mosquitoes

Though I trust I am hardly a patrioteer,
When rumors of warfare begin
And the chance of a world rocking rough seems near
I am strong for my country to win.
No matter what reasons she has to engage
In a row that may lead to a fight,
I am sure she shows quite justifiable rage
And aver that she's perfectly right.

Moreover, though never a jingo at heart,
Being bred on my own native soil,
I'm convinced that my country will win from the start
If she ever gets into a broil.
And so when the war clouds loom dark on the sky
When statesmen exchange bitter talk
And I'm asked my opinion, I always reply
That the nation will win in a walk.

But now she has entered a deadly dispute
With a hitherto unconquered foe,
Which is crafty and clever and shrewd and astute
And whose numbers we never shall know.
Guerrilla engagements for year after year
We have fought with this enemy force
And the fortunes of war, to the present appear
To sum up what is called horse and horse.

I still take much pride in my old Uncle Sam—
A pride which is heartfelt and deep.
In the days of the past, when he's got in a jam
He's come out at the top of the heap.
But when on mosquitoes a war he declares
The outcome I hate to predict;
For in battle these insects are regular bears,
And I fear we are going to get licked.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

MEXICO'S PROOF OF STABILITY
[New York Sun]

Evidence that financial order in a government's finances makes for political stability is furnished by the story of the suppression of the recent revolt in Mexico. The efficient manner in which Gen. Calles utilized his superior forces to crush the insurgents and the lack of public support that the insurgents were able to enlist are matters of record.

Behind this record of success is the fact that a year previously the government, under the leadership of then President Calles and of Secretary of the Treasury Montes de Oca, established the policy of paying promptly employees and those individuals and organizations that sold to it current supplies. It also had cleared off the arrears in salaries that had accumulated during the recent disturbed years and made a start at liquidating supply bills in arrears. This policy greatly strengthened public confidence in the government and had much to do with the loyalty to established political institutions that was displayed when the rebels started their campaign.

In addition, it is interesting to note that, aside from a moderate increase in its debit balance at the Bank of Mexico, the Mexican Treasury was able to finance the suppression of the revolt without fresh borrowing. Payments on the funded debt were suspended, but the Treasury continued to meet its current obligations punctually and also to pay on the arrears of its floating debt. Mexico is to be congratulated on having Treasury officials who have the will and the ability to bring order into finances confused by the great revolution against the Diaz regime.

AMERICA ENLIVENS THE WORLD
[Michigan State Journal]

The other day there was something of a panic among employers of Brussels because the Belgian labor supply had seemingly suddenly dried up. Industrial leaders, like every one aggrieved, wanted to find some one or something on which to lay the blame. They found it. They said the trouble was all caused by American concerns which had come in there and were paying American wages.

It is a rather stimulating thought to think of the whole world going to the American wage basis. For time out of mind, there has always been a notion that Europe, for ever and ever, must be a victim of pauper wages and part of Asia worse than that, but it may dawn on the mind of some effectual person, some of these days, that prosperity need not necessarily always be confined to America.

It is not all a dream. According to Dr. Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, who has the knack of making statistical tables more interesting than fiction, the economic levels of the nations of the world are being raised and the financial resources of individual countries are being augmented by reason of the activity and ever-growing needs of the American people.

World trade of this kind will grow in intimacy and volume. The tendency will be to raise the scale of wants the world over. Perhaps the effect of American trade will be to break up ideas and practices that have too long been regarded as fixed.

SOME REFLECTIONS
A Plea for the Army and Navy

BY J. A. GRAVES

The annual appropriations by Congress for the Army and Navy seem to be extraordinarily large to the average taxpayer. Uninformed or misinformed persons, or those whose mentality is warped, or who are imbued with this sudden idea that war is to be for all time abolished, consider the money expended on the Army and Navy as thrown away. These people overlook the fact that man has always been, and still is, a fighting animal. You cannot kill the fighting spirit by legislation. Any agreement by the nations not to go to war, when the time comes for war will be considered "a scrap of paper."

As nations become overburdened with population they soon seem to lose sight of their neighbors' rights. They want an outlet for their surplus population, and never have been hesitant to take by force that to which they have not the slightest legal right. Italy today is seeking such an outlet. France, Germany, England, the ancient Latin countries, all have or had far-flung colonies in distant lands, always oppressing the native inhabitants thereof. In settling America, England, France and Spain cruelly oppressed the Indians who were possessed of our continent. Even in our generation our people have cruelly robbed these Indians of their possessions.

France drew heavily upon her African colonies for fighting men in the late war and is today maintaining native armies there ready for any emergency. This thing has been going on since men fought with clubs instead of high explosives and powerful submarines. For centuries it was the universal maxim that "might makes right." Some nations still adhere to this doctrine. It was the impelling force that caused the Kaiser to violate the neutrality of Belgium. The prosperity of the United States excites the envy, even the hatred, of other nations. Our country is exposed to attack from both the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans, from the Canadian frontier on the north and the Mexican on the south. We have our Hawaiian and Philippine interests to defend. We have our ocean routes of travel, over which the sea commerce of our country is carried, and out of which our people in the past have been, and in the future will be enriched, to defend. It would be the height of folly for us not to be at all times prepared, on both land and sea, and in the air, to repel an attack from any source, no matter how vigorous such attack might be, and to protect the lives and property and our own national wealth, today greater than that of any other nation on earth, from utter destruction.

Hence, the necessity of an army and navy. An inspection of one of our great naval yards and fortifications and our army posts cannot fail to impress any citizen not blinded by prejudice or incompetent from a lack of understanding, with the excellent work that has been done by both Army and Navy. The preliminary work done by the recruits in either branch of the service develops perfect specimens of the human race physically. At the same time their mental faculties are improved. Men and officers acquire a respect for and loyalty to the flag. They learn obedience, orderly habits, precision and the faculty of rendering mental decisions immediately when emergencies arise.

It was my pleasure and good fortune recently to visit Schofield Barracks and Pearl Harbor at Honolulu. The former are erected on a military reservation of nearly 27,000 acres, twenty-four miles from Honolulu, on a mesa with an elevation of 1000 feet above that city, which makes the climatic conditions most excellent. All buildings are of the best construction. All streets and highways are laid out at right angles and are well paved and drained. These barracks can accommodate 60,000 men not counting officers. You would know, from the most casual inspection of them, that the settlement is a military one. Everything about the grounds and the buildings, even to the baseball and parade grounds and tennis courts, has a spick-and-span military appearance. The soldiers you see there look fit and ready for immediate service. I came away from Schofield Barracks with a feeling of gratitude to our government and a feeling of security for the future. I know that every other military post in America is as great a credit to our nation as these barracks.

Pearl Harbor is a marvel of efficiency, even to that forest of empty oil tanks erected by Mr. E. L. Doheny of Los Angeles at an expense of $12,000,000, and which petty politics has prevented his being paid for. I do not believe that this great nation will keep these tanks without paying for them, even if constructed without authority. Yet Congress delayed for over twenty years in paying the Southern Pacific Railroad even a portion of the vast sums which it expended at the earnest request of President Roosevelt to save the Imperial Valley from utter flood destruction. The same patriotic spirit is in evidence at Pearl Harbor as at Schofield Barracks. All naval vessels there, and there are many, are kept in perfect trim. We were shown submarines which have a record of being fifty feet under water, brought to the surface, fired sixteen destructive shots, were again sunk fifty feet under water, all in four minutes. When I was there the harbor dry dock, 1000 feet long, held four submarines being overhauled. Ample provision is made for the health and recreation of the men. I asked an officer, if the gong sounded, summoning him to action, how soon he would be ready for service. He replied, "In less than two and a half minutes."

Every other military post and naval station in America is in the same state of perfection and preparedness as Schofield Barracks and Pearl Harbor. The officers in charge of these posts and naval stations are sacrificing their lives for your and my protection. Their pay is inadequate for the services rendered and much smaller than they would receive in civil life for the same amount of ability and energy expended. Every citizen of this country should honor these men, and I hope I may never hear them derided or condemned. The money expended on our Army and Navy secures us from sudden attack at the hands of some powerful foe who would wrench from us, at one blow, spoils ten times as valuable as the expense of our Army and Navy for twenty years would amount to. With Diamond Head thoroughly fortified, Pearl Harbor, with its war vessels and submarines, in joint action with the infantry at Schofield Barracks, with the big guns on the military reservation in Honolulu proper, aided by the air forces assembled there, the combined powers of the world could not take Honolulu. And yet there are people, carried away by a wave of enthusiasm for universal peace, who would junk all our magnificent preparations for caring for and training the men who will stand between us and death and destruction when war comes.

The thought has just come to me that with our officials taking no action to curb the teachings, in America, of Communism and revolution, by Bolshevik agitators, the day will come when we will need an army and navy to meet this constantly growing menace to our free institutions. The Russians openly announce that they cannot hope to make Communism a universal success except by fomenting revolution in every nation in the world and that they intend to do it. The last move of Anita Whitney and her foreign followers in San Francisco is an evidence that these revolutionists are at work. She should now be in the State prison and would have been there had not our Governor, to his everlasting disgrace, pardoned her, after the highest court in the United States affirmed her sentence.

If all of our Presidents had the nerve of Grover Cleveland, who sent troops to Chicago to quell the Haymarket riots, the revolutionary menace would not be so threatening, but unfortunately we have never had but one Grover Cleveland in the Presidential chair.

Until universal peace is assured by actual agreement solemnly entered into by all the great powers of the world, and disarmament by England, France, Germany, Italy and Spain is actually accomplished, we should keep our Army and Navy up to their present standard of efficiency.

The dreadful drought that has prevailed throughout the world for the past few years is having distressing effects. In the Sandwich Islands, where it is supposed to rain all the time, little rain fell last winter, and in Honolulu an actual shortage of water is threatened. The pineapple crop of the islands, which grows without irrigation, is very much curtailed by reason of a failure of rains last winter. One of our merchants told me yesterday that he could not get from the canneries in the islands more than one-half of the canned pineapples that he ordered. Portions of Europe have suffered from drought, and now our Middle West wheat district and Canada's wheat-growing area are in dire distress. The lack of rain and excessive heat have greatly reduced the maturing crop. The growers of vegetables in the Eastern States have been hard hit. Notwithstanding irrigation in California, I attribute the size of the oranges on the trees this year to a lack of rainfall last winter, but Southern California can rejoice in the knowledge that this coming winter is to be an abnormally wet one, for during the time that I have lived in Los Angeles county, since 1875, when Arizona and Colorado have received heavy rains in summertime, we never failed to get ours in wintertime. It will be remembered that Arizona has been exceedingly dry for two or three seasons past, so let everybody be prepared for excessive downfalls in December and January, with flood conditions prevailing in many districts. I fear that people, forgetful of the past, have made many improvements in flood areas that will be destroyed this winter. But no matter what the damage may be, a good old-fashioned winter, with an excessive rainfall, will be of great advantage to Southern California. Many wells, relied upon for both domestic and irrigation purposes, are at a very low ebb. Owing to the porous nature of the soil at the foot of our mountains, heavy rainfalls will be of immediate benefit to all of these wells.

MRS WYMAN'S ANSWERS

SPINACH SOUFFLE

A. Los Angeles, Cal.: Wash in [illegible] waters until free from dirt [illegible] inches of spinach, drain, place [illegible] saucepan and cook until soft in [illegible] water that clings to the leaves [illegible] before removing from the fire. [illegible] teaspoonful of salt. Chop [illegible] and mix with it a half a teaspoonful of black pepper and half [illegible] cupful of cream and the well-[illegible] yolks of three eggs. Mix [illegible] fold in the stiffly beaten whites [illegible] the eggs, pour into a buttered [illegible] dish, sprinkle the top with [illegible] dried crumbs and grated [illegible] and bake in a moderate oven [illegible] thirty minutes.

CANDIED FIGS

O. M., Monrovia, Cal.: If you [illegible] peruse the paper dated Au[illegible] you will find a recipe in [illegible] candied figs.

GEFULLTE FISCHE

M., Huntington Park, Cal.: [illegible] a medium-sized fish, either [illegible] or salmon, after scaling and [illegible] cleaning, remove all the [illegible] adherent to the skin, be[illegible] careful not to injure the skin. [illegible] the yolks of the eggs, and [illegible] of a teaspoonful of nut[illegible] with the fish and pour [illegible] skin until it forms its nest[illegible] pour; wrap in a piece of clean [illegible] place on a rack in a kettle, [illegible] boiling water, to it add a [illegible] of salt, two tablespoonfuls [illegible] one piece of celery, one [illegible] of parsley, and one small [illegible] boil gently for one hour. [illegible] the fish to a platter, strain [illegible] and add to it the beaten [illegible] two eggs, and allow to cook [illegible] minute longer. Add to the [illegible] three or four slices of lemon [illegible] been sliced very thin.

PICKLED ONIONS

P., Los Angeles, Cal.: Pour hot [illegible] over the small onions, they [illegible] be small and perfectly white, [illegible] them with a silver knife, then [illegible] them to stand in a salt brine [illegible] days, one cupful of salt, to [illegible] quart of water, drain well, place [illegible] in a saucepan, and cover them [illegible] boiling hot vinegar and allow [illegible] to boil for five minutes, remove from the fire, place them [illegible] jars with alternate layers [illegible] white pepper corns and a [illegible] from which the heads [illegible] been removed. [illegible] heads have a tendency to [illegible] the onions to turn black.) Lots of people get fat without broadening themselves.

It's a good thing to think twice before you speak, and then to keep right on thinking.

A sensitive man is one who feels himself ignored unless somebody or other is doing him a favor.

Moralists shouldn't be so hard on the automobile. The old-fashioned straw ride was some petting party, too.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

History of Architecture?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in cooperation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

A course in the history of architecture and the allied arts, from a nontechnical, purely appreciative viewpoint, will be offered by Polytechnic Evening High School, 400 West Washington Boulevard, beginning September 10. The class is free to the public, and people of all ages are as welcome to the free public evening schools as children are welcome to the free public schools in the daytime.

This class will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. in room 207 of the Art Building, on Flower near Twentieth, just around the corner from the main building. It will deal with the history of architecture development of architecture and will explain the relation of painting, sculpture, ceramics, textiles and furniture to architecture.

The instructor is Stanley A. Cundiff, an architect of five years' experience in Los Angeles who assisted on the floor plans of the new City Hall.

SOCIETY

JUANA NEAL LEVY

In honor of her bridal attendants, Mrs. Paul Heydenreich, Miss Alma Priester and Mrs. Roy Adamson, who will assist her in receiving, Mrs. Frank Edward Parmer (Mrs. James Henry Ballagh) will entertain Sunday afternoon with a musicale and tea at her home at 308 North Louise street, Glendale, sixty guests having been bidden. The musicale will be given at 4 o'clock and supper will follow. A profusion of late summer and autumn flowers with ferns and foliage will be used throughout the house and the refreshments will be served in the gardens.

Contributing to the program will be Mme. Emma Strelitz, who has come recently from Chicago to make her home in Southern California. She will sing, accompanied at the piano by Ann McKinley. Eleanor Adamson will give several numbers on the piano, the Wilson trio will also play and Martha Bowles will give a group of violin solos.

Wedding Announced

The marriage of Miss Lorraine Louise Micheletti, daughter of the late Alfred Angelo Micheletti, former vice-president of the Bank of Italy, and Mrs. Micheletti of Virginia Road, to Franklyn J. Roshek of New York City was one of the quiet but lovely ceremonies of August 3, last.

Mr. and Mrs. Roshek are on their honeymoon through the Northwest and after October 1 will be at home at 575 West Third avenue, New York City.

Mrs. Roshek, who grew to womanhood in Los Angeles, and has a host of friends in the Southland, was graduated from Marlborough School.

In San Diego

Dr. Alfred Hertz, who, with Mrs. Hertz, went to San Diego last week when Dr. Hertz was the guest conductor at the symphony orchestra concert Sunday afternoon, was the honor guest at a buffet supper given by Nino Marcelli, conductor of the Sunset Symphony, and his wife. Receiving with the hosts were Russell Keeney, concertmeister; Mrs. Robert Dorland, manager of the orchestra, and Miss Gertrude Gilbert.

Among those who motored down for the concert included Mr. and Mrs. Sil Vara, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Levy, Mr. and Mrs. Fitch Haskell, Edward Lankow, S. McKeever, Mrs. W. B. Weakley, James Guthrie, Raymond Brite, Alfred Metzger, Rudolph Reuter and Miss Ramona Little.

Wed in Gardena

The marriage of Miss Barbara Rodge, daughter of Mrs. Rose Rodge, to Howard Bertram Lyman of Honolulu was solemnized in the gardens of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKeon, Beverly Hills. A Hawaiian setting formed the background in the patio and the same motif was carried out in all the decorations and appointments.

Miss Rhona Love of Honolulu sang preceding the ceremony and the Royal Hawaiian Trio played the "King's Serenade" as the bride and her sister, Mrs. Florence Girton, matron of honor, came through the left gate to the fountain, where Rev. A. L. Odell performed the ceremony. Robert Wabyaushek served as best man.

The bride wore a gown of white chiffon with green velvet turban and green slippers and a lovely white carnation lei was worn instead of the usual bride's bouquet. Mrs. Girton was attired in green chiffon, with white hat and green shoes and also wore a lei of carnations.

Robert Lucas and Walter MacFarland of Honolulu ushered.

The bride, who was graduated from Cumnock and also from the Anna Held School at Berkeley, has made her home here for the past fourteen years, and Mr. Lyman was graduated from Punahou Academy of Honolulu and completed the commerce course at the University of Wisconsin, where he is affiliated with Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He is of the fourth generation of the Lyman family who went to Hawaii as missionaries during the early part of the nineteenth century.

After a honeymoon driving across the continent and returning to Los Angeles in early November, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman will make their future home in Honolulu, where they plan to arrive about December 1.

For Bride-elect

In honor of Miss Virginia Laswell, popular bride-elect of the season, a charmingly appointed luncheon and miscellaneous shower will be given this afternoon by Mrs. Edward C. Wormhoudt (Ruth Mabee,) at her home in Manhattan avenue.

A variety of autumn flowers and ferns will be used in the decorations of the luncheon table, a bridal motif being stressed. Those included will be Mrs. Roger Laswell, Mrs. Carl Veryeyen, Mrs. Garold Magenheimer, Mrs. Garnet Cecil Rainey, Mrs. L. H. Reid, Mrs. John L. Lockyer, Mrs. Charles Hewing, Mrs. Daniel Ferguson, Mrs. Judson Kennedy, Mrs. Phelps Witter, Mrs. Edward Howard, Mrs. Subrey Jones, Mrs. Dean Barrick, Mrs. Edward Linthicum, Mrs. Clinton La Tourrette, Miss Amorita Hawpe, Miss Jane Phillips, Miss Beatrice Ray, Miss Marian Mabee, the hostess and honor guest.

Farewell Luncheon

In honor of Mrs. C. B. Gregory of Kansas City, who has been the house guest this summer of her sister, Mrs. Mary Louise Parker, at her home in Mansfield avenue, Mrs. Lydia T. Wood will entertain tomorrow with a dinner party at the Mary Louise.

Late summer flowers in pastel shades and a profusion of ferns will be combined in the table decorations and covers arranged for the hostess, honor guest, Mrs. Katherine Parker, Mrs. Kate Reed Humphreys, Mrs. Lucille Deems, Mrs. Ida Gribling, Mrs. Mary Louise Parker and Miss Alene Smith.

Entertains in the North

Mrs. Karl Brehme entertained Thursday with a luncheon at the Olympic Hotel, Seattle, in honor of Mrs. Loyd Steese of Berlin, who has been her house guest at her summer home, Arcady, Deer Harbor, Wash., for the past two weeks.

Others included were Mrs. Cecil Willis, Mrs. Lee Hinman, Mrs. Annie Marion, Miss McKenzie and Miss Edith Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Steese and Mr. and Mrs. Brehme will sail for Europe October 1 on the new North German Lloyd liner Bremen. Mr. Brehme is commissioner of agriculture in the German capital. Mr. and Mrs. Brehme will return to their Beverly Hills home at 621 North Maple avenue some time in December.

At Santa Maria

Among the Angelenos who have been guests at the Santa Maria Inn, Santa Maria, recently, include Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Jones, Mrs. William Carey Marble, David Marble, Mrs. William Reinhardt, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gromes, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cowan, Mrs. David Copeland Norcross, Copeland Norcross, Mrs. Hugh Livingstone Macneil, Mrs. James Soutter Porter, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Fisher and John C. Fisher.

NEWLYWEDS TO STUDY ABROAD

Couple Will Spend Two Years in Europe

Mrs. Alfred Young Fisher

THE marriage of Miss Mary Frances Kennedy to Alfred Young Fisher was solemnized yesterday afternoon, the ceremony taking place in the Church of Our Saviour, San Gabriel, with Rev. W. H. Fisher, father of the bridegroom, officiating, assisted by Rev. Edwin T. Lewis of Whittier.

The bride was charming in a gown of cream chiffon and Venetian lace with lace cap, and she carried a white prayer-book and rare old lace handkerchief, which her mother had carried at her wedding. Miss Anne Kennedy, maid of honor, wore beige crepe with hat to match and carried bright autumn flowers, while Miss Elizabeth MacQueen Fisher, bridesmaid, was similarly frocked.

Herbert MacQueen Fisher served his brother as best man; Bernard D. Hollbrook of Chicago accompanied Miss Fisher, and Edwin Young Fisher of Santa Paula, Thomas C. Harrison, Los Angeles, Robert C. Freeman, Pasadena, and Edwin M. Lewis, Whittier, ushered. Rev. H. C. H. Bode of Pasadena presided at the organ.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Brenton Kennedy of Whittier, was graduated from Miss Harker's School in Palo Alto, and had two years at Occidental College. She is a member of Delta Omicron Tau Sorority, while Mr. Fisher is a Princeton man.

After two years' study in Strasburg and Paris Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will return and probably make their home here.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Murmuring Heart

Question: J. L. asks: "What causes the heart to murmur, and is a murmuring heart curable? Is it a dangerous defect?"

Answer: Most heart murmurs are curable and are usually caused by some kind of pressure against the heart due to an overloaded stomach or too much stomach or intestinal gas. I have examined many patients who were more than 90 years of age who have had heart murmurs since early life. If these murmurs are only evidenced in mild form they are not particularly dangerous.

Rose Apple

Q.: J. H. D. asks: "What is the rose apple, and where grown?"

A.: The rose apple is the fruit of an East Indian tree that is grown in California for its foliage. The fruit, although very fragrant, is insipid and of no food value. It is used in the tropics for making jelly and preserves.

Lower Spine Pains

Q.: F. G. H. writes: "When I sit a long time I have a dull pain in the lower part of my back. It feels like the end of the spine. What causes this?"

A.: You should have your spine examined to see if there is any bone disease, such as tuberculosis or arthritis. Then if you will write me again I will be glad to give you my opinion about the best method of treatment.

Goitre

Q.: Mrs. K. L. asks: "Is there a cure for goitre without the knife? If so, what is it?"

A.: All goitres can be reduced by dieting. Please send your name and address so I can send you a special article on the subject.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

LEMON FISH

Place in a saucepan three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one finely sliced onion, six whole peppercorns, one small piece of stick cinnamon, and half a cupful of water, place sliced fish of any kind on top of the mixture, allow to simmer slowly until the fish is tender, remove the fish to a platter, strain the gravy, return to the fire, slowly add the well-beaten yolks of two eggs, four tablespoonfuls of lemon juice one-half a teaspoonful of sugar and twelve blanched almonds chopped very fine, let this boil up, pour it over the fish, sprinkle with finely chopped parsley and garnish with lemon slices.

EGGPLANT CROQUETTES

Peel a medium-sized eggplant, cut in dice, add half a cupful of hot water and boil until tender, drain, allow to cool, add two well-beaten eggs, salt and paprika to taste, two tablespoonfuls of flour, or bread crumbs, beat well, drop into hot oil or butter, in a saute pan, and fry until brown on both sides.

GRAPE MERINGUE TART

Line a deep pie dish with a rich crust, brush with the white of a beaten egg and bake, beat the whites of four eggs until stiff and dry, fold into them, one cupful of sugar, and one teaspoonful of lemon juice, add to this two cupfuls of seeded grapes, or seedless, drop into the baked pie shell with a large spoon, place in a slow oven and bake until the meringue is firm to the touch.

FROZEN FRUIT SALAD

One and one-third cupfuls of whipped cream, two-thirds of a cupful of mayonnaise, two teaspoonfuls of gelatine, six tablespoonfuls of pineapple juice, two teaspoonfuls of powdered sugar, four tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, two tablespoonfuls of maraschino syrup, one cupful of apricots, one cupful of bananas, one and a half cupfuls of pineapple, one cupful of maraschino cherries. Beat the cream until stiff and measure after beating. Gradually add the mayonnaise, soak the gelatine in the pineapple juice and dissolve it over hot water. And to it the powdered sugar, lemon juice, and maraschino syrup. Cut the apricots in small pieces, fold them into the mixture, cut the bananas in dice, cut the pineapple in small pieces, and the maraschino cherries, combine all the ingredients, place in the freezing tray of your refrigerator, or in a mold, turn out on a nest of lettuce leaves and serve.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, "PRACTICAL RECIPES" published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman)

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 9 weeks to 4 years; prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother; constipation; eczema outfits for the new baby; sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking; abnormal urine; bed wetting; training in cleanly habits; periods of surveillance; cod liver oil; orange juice; hives; worms; vomiting; refractory children; prune juice; lime water; rupture; styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet, you know, if your particular problem is not covered in the above list. Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

ADULTS IN FAMILY MUST APPEAR TO STAND TOGETHER

A child senses all too quickly when the adults of the family disagree as to his rearing. We all know the effect upon children when grandmother on the sly feeds them food forbidden them by the mother; when father and mother are in open conflict over the kind of punishment best suited to their misdemeanors; when daddy says: "You can have your dessert even if you haven't eaten your vegetables. I don't like vegetables myself."

There are fathers who if it would seem lie in wait for a situation that will elevate them in the esteem of their children. Mother may have been sorely tried and the child punished. She runs to daddy for comfort, when he comes home, with a long tale of how cross mother has been, she wouldn't let me play with Ellen Louise because I went across the street and I had to go because Ellen Louise called me . . . and daddy says: "Come to me, I'll be good to you. Mother is mean, to make you stay at home." (Oh, no, this isn't the least exaggerated!)

For the moment father wins and the child nestles down in his arms and luxuriates in his sympathy. She feels that her mother is a cross old thing and the next time her mother denies her a wish, or punishes her for misbehavior she'll shout it at her. "Cross old thing. Daddy says you are."

This is not a permanent method of winning a child's affection. Down deep in her heart she would have greater respect for her father if he upheld her mother even at her expense. Then later she won't resent discipline for she will have confidence in her mother's justice. She is certain to resent it if she has discovered that she can always run to her father and be reprieved.

Sometimes the stumbling blocks in the household are some in-laws who live with the family. In these cases one usually finds that the in-laws oppose whatever method the mother uses to discipline the child, or the number of naps she imposes, or the food put before the child at the table. One can seldom find a family, especially with adults of different generations, who can agree upon these fundamental matters. The mother is openly criticised for whatever she does and the child is encouraged to feel that she can do as she pleases because no one approves of what her mother says anyway.

If adults have disagreements of principles, the time to air them is outside the family circle and not in the hearing of the "little pitchers." Nothing is so destructive of order and rules in the home as for the child to feel that his mother is demanding something of which the other adults disapprove. Under those circumstances, "try to get him to do it."

Store to Offer Opera Recital

"The Elixir of Love" is the first of the opera series to be given by Dr. Bruce Gordon Kingsley tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at Bullock's, preparatory to the Los Angeles grand opera season.

The story of "The Elixir of Love" is by Donizetti and is founded on the ancient belief in the charm of the love philter and has inspired him to bring forth many of his lightest and gayest melodies.

Dr. Kingsley will play all the most important parts to familiarize his listeners with the opera before the formal rendition.

FILM ACTOR HELD GUILTY OF BATTERY

Edward Welch Will Hear Sentence Next Tuesday in Equity Fight Case

Edward Welch, film actor of 5555 Hollywood Boulevard, was found guilty of battery committed on Frank Goddard, former English heavyweight pugilistic champion, during the recent trouble between the Actors' Equity Association and film producers by a jury in Municipal Judge Willis's court yesterday. Harvey G. Parry, George E. Wilson and Sam Cummings, codefendants with Welch, were found not guilty.

The four men were accused of assaulting Harry Deck, screen actor, in front of the Warner Brothers' casting studio when he refused to rejoin the association, and of assaulting Goddard when he went to Deck's rescue. Deputy City Prosecutor Higgins called Deck and Goddard as his principal witnesses. Deck testified that none of the four men struck him, while Goddard declared that Welch kicked him in the stomach. Welch will be sentenced next Tuesday.

NIGHT COLLEGE HAS CONSULTATION STAFF

At the service of men and women who wish advice or information regarding continuation of college education after their working day, a consultation staff at university college has been appointed by President R. B. Von KleinSmid of the University of Southern California. Dr. Ernest W. Tiegs, dean of university college, is aided by the following faculty and assistants in charge of separate divisions: Dr. John D. Cooke, chairman of the committee on advisory service; Miss Edith Weir, employment secretary for teachers, and Mrs. Katherine S. Chamberlain, S. C., office of admissions. "Adult beginners," as well as men and women who interrupted their college work and now wish to complete their university education, are eligible to register at the Trojan evening division in the Transportation Building, Seventh and Los Angeles streets. Instruction will start on the 16th inst.

DENTIST'S RITES SET

Dr. Bell Will Be Buried Tomorrow; Sister Hurt in Auto Wreck

Last rites for Dr. Joel Bell, Los Angeles dentist who died following an automobile accident near Fallbrook, Cal., last Monday, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Church of the Redeemer, Thirty-sixth street and Vermont avenue. Pierce & Lowe, morticians, will be in charge. Burial will be in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Dr. Bell died at the offices of Dr. W. T. Thurber in Fallbrook shortly after the accident. His car turned over when it skidded in soft sand. Mrs. Jennie L. Frederick, 1735 East Fourth street, Long Beach, sister who was with Dr. Bell, received severe internal injuries.

He leaves two sons, Byron D. and Bernard Bell. His residence was at 1007 South Lucerne avenue.

DIVERSIFIED MENU FOR COOKING CLASS

Mrs. Mabelle Wyman, Times Cooking School chef, will prepare the following for her class this afternoon: Casserole of fish, white salad, bishop's bread, and two requests, fresh fruit kuchen and baked peaches. The Times Cooking School holds sessions every Tuesday and Friday in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, free to all readers of The Times.

IMPROVEMENTS KEEP COUNCILMEN MOVING

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the improvement of Mercury avenue between Boundary avenue and Sierra street. The confirmation of assessments for the widening of Manchester avenue between South Park avenue and St. Andrews Place was continued until October 8, and the sewering of Colorado Boulevard between Lauriston avenue and Dahlia Drive was continued until the 19th inst. Protests were denied against the setback lines in Thirty-ninth street between Budlong avenue and Normandie avenue, while the hearing of protests against the setback lines in Ocean Front Walk between Fifty-fifth avenue and Esplanade was continued until October 10.

WIFE GETS DIVORCE ON GAMBLING PLEA

When Mathias Bargaehr played cards and gambled away his pay check every week, his conduct caused his wife, Mrs. Ruth Bargaehr, to suffer a nervous breakdown, she told Superior Judge Gould yesterday when asking for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. Mrs. Bargaehr was granted a decree and the custody of a minor child, also $100 a month for the support of herself and child. Besides accusing her husband of gambling the wife also asserted he drank to excess.

NEW EASTERN FEATURE AT KHJ

Bob and Mary Continuity to be on Air Tonight

Doris Chamlee to be Heard Through KFI

Famous Artists Will Appear at Radio Show

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Bob and Mary reach through to the Coast tonight on the 9 to 10 o'clock hour through KHJ and the Don Lee. This will be the first time the feature has reached Southern California direct and they will be heard at the same time on succeeding weeks.

The program is given from New York at 9 p.m., eastern time. The cast stay around the studio and repeat the performance at midnight. The first program is broadcast for the East and Middle West, and is repeated to the Pacific Coast. The theme of tonight's hour is built up around an ocean voyage en route from the Orient to San Francisco.

LOCAL SINGER

Doris Chamlee, who grew up in Los Angeles, will be heard via KFI and the East at 6:30 p.m. The lyric soprano will be guest artist on the Welch minute broadcast.

Miss Chamlee, for nearly eight years a leading American tenor with the Chicago Grand Opera Company, made her debut at the Paris Opera House in April of this year in "Manon."

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

CHOOSING HIS SCHOOL

By Mrs. Agnes Lyon

Have you a little child whom you are sending to private school this year?

If so you doubtless have noticed the many announcements that have been appearing in the press and have been impressed with the beautifully worded educational matter therein contained. You have seen pictures of charming school buildings, sunny and spacious schoolrooms.

Whatever the brand of education to which you subscribe, you will have found it in two or three booklets on your desk.

Perhaps you have visited the school which you are seriously considering and you have found the building and grounds and equipment so splendid that you have had to remember the comparative rareness of your own school.

Yet even when you have decided this you have not yet made the acquaintance with the most important factor in a small child's education, for the people who make or mar it. Not nearly eight years of school are far more important than either its equipment or its location.

The essential thing for your child to cover is what sort of personality with whom your child will be in contact so many daily hours. Be sure that both his teacher and his schoolmates are fine people who play fair, that they love children and that they are happy in their work. Then you are sure of these things you have made comparatively little error.

The younger the child the more important is the effect of personalities upon him. The average child will learn to read and write and do his numbers even if his teacher's methods are rather bad.

The average child can hardly be really hindered in his education by the effect upon him of a teacher ability unsuited for the task of teaching.

VICTOR ARTISTS

The same station, KFI, will transmit a program from the Radio Show between 9:20 and 10:20 p.m. with outstanding talent. Three of the artists and two orchestras, who will make a personal appearance at the show, and will be heard via radio also, are already well known through their recordings for Victor.

Helen Kane, baby talk singer, who appeared at the local Orpheum a week ago and who takes part in a new romance of college life for the talking films, will be one of the stars.

Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees, night club group de luxe, likewise "imported" from the East for the talkies, will be one of the orchestral groups, while Roy Shields and his musicians will be the second.

Charles King, of "Broadway Melody" fame, and "The Rounders," male quintet, will round out the sixty minutes of entertainment.

Cronemiller yesterday announced she will give the first of a series of song recitals next Tuesday evening at her studio in Suite 1119, Beaux Arts Building, Eighth and Beacon streets. She will be assisted by Marguerite Minard as accompanist. During her stay in New York Miss Cronemiller studied under Jean Theslof.

DOCTORS CLEAR IN GIRL'S DEATH

Jury Acquits Glendale Pair of Murder Charge

Two Accused in Asserted Illegal Operation

Both Physicians Testify in Own Defense

Completely exonerating Dr. F. S. Traxler and Dr. R. S. Lanterman, Glendale physicians, of a charge of murder as the result of the death of Miss Delphine Walsh through an asserted illegal operation, a jury in Superior Judge Doran's court yesterday returned a verdict of not guilty after five hours' deliberation.

The prosecution, represented by Dep. Dist.-Attys. Kemp and Veitch, contended that the two physicians performed the operation which caused the girl's death.

During the trial both physicians took the stand and testified that Miss Walsh came to Dr. Traxler's office in great pain, suffering from septic poisoning. At that time, they averred, the girl admitted that she had attempted to perform the operation upon herself and had come to them for aid. Other witnesses who heard the confession took the stand and corroborated this assertion.

The defendants were represented by Jerry Giesler, attorney.

SHOW FOR VETERANS

Vaudeville Actors Will Appear at Soldiers' Home

Disabled veterans of all wars will be the guests tonight at a professional vaudeville program to be presented in Ward Memorial Hall, on the grounds of the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle, under the auspices of Mrs. Alexander Hannum of 2246 South Bronson avenue. The various acts will be drafted from the current bills at the Los Angeles vaudeville theaters.

At the special request of the veterans, Billy Lennon, 14-year-old singer from Venice High School, also will appear in a group of songs. Young Lennon is the boy whose voice was "discovered" several weeks ago by Tito Schipa, operatic star.

PETITION PLEA APPROVED

The City Council has approved the request of the Fourteenth-street Improvement Association for a petition requesting the opening and extending of Fourteenth street between Georgia and Toberman streets.

Rudell Heath Ordered Held on Forgery Charge

Rudell Heath was ordered held for trial by Superior Court on forgery charges yesterday by Municipal Judge Haas, following the conclusion of her preliminary hearing. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Choate did not oppose the request of S. S. Hahn, defense attorney, for reduction of bail, which Judge Haas set at $1500 instead of the $5000 fixed after she jumped bail here some time ago and was brought back by her bonding company from Oklahoma.

Witnesses called by Choate testified the Texas girl cashed checks drawn on the bank account of Ethel M. Mason, 628 Selma avenue, on May 19, 1928, for $17, $19.75 and $30, to which Miss Mason's signature had been forged. Miss Mason and P. W. Haydenrich, bank teller, declared the signature on the checks was not hers.

SWIMMING CHAMPIONS GUESTS AT BREAKFAST

"Buster" Crabbe and Josephine McKim, winners respectively of the men's and women's pre-Olympic swimming races sponsored last Sunday by The Times, were among the guests yesterday at the weekly meeting of the Southwest Breakfast Club in the clubhouse at Sunset Fields on Angeles Mesa Drive. Both announced they intend to remain here and attend college this fall. Other guests at the table were Herman Robinson, California's entrant in the recent Edison wisdom tests; Burr MacIntosh, "the cheerful philosopher," and J. F. Fitzgerald, president of the Fitzgerald Music Company. Nick Busch, president of the club, acted as toastmaster.

Fruit Fly Helps State in Gaining Check on Travel

The close check maintained by the State Department of Agriculture of all vehicles entering California following the appearance of the Mediterranean fruit fly in Florida has resulted in what probably is the most accurate count of automobile tourist travel into the State over a given period ever obtained.

The figure for the period between January 1 and August 1 turned in by the twenty-one checking stations and the Division of Motor Vehicles is 366,568, according to announcement by Don Thomas, executive secretary of the All Year Club.

"Of the total number of pleasure visitors from other States, 183,068 came directly to Southern California via the three southern gateways, Yuma, Blythe and Daggett," Mr. Thomas states. "This is an increase of 18 per cent over the corresponding period last year. The visitors traveled in 124,491 automobiles carrying an average of 2.9 persons per car.

"These figures undoubtedly are the most accurate ever obtained on automobile tourist travel into the State."

EDITOR WILL SPEAK

Phil Townsend Hanna, editor of Touring Topics, will be the speaker of the evening before the Historical Society of Southern California at its monthly meeting tonight. His subject will be, "New Heroes for Old—a Comparative Study of the Character and Achievements of Don Gaspar de Portola and Don Juan Bautista de Anza in the Conquest of California." The meeting will be held in the Board of Education rooms, Chamber of Commerce Building.

AIR CONTEST WINNERS TO VISIT CITY

Trip by Plane and Train Awarded Leaders of Song Title Competition

Seven men and two young women, regional winners in a national contest conducted by newspapers to select a title for a song dedicated to aviation, will arrive in Los Angeles tonight to begin a ten-day vacation during which all their expenses will be paid, and they will enjoy 5180 miles of air travel, as well as railroad journies.

Two of the group are from San Francisco and Oakland, and the others from various eastern cities. While touring over the lines of Western Air Express they will be guests of that company, Santa Catalina Island Company, Howard Auto Company, Montmartre Cafe, Grauman's Chinese Theater, Roosevelt Hotel, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios and the Pacific Coast Club at Long Beach.

Charles H. Keenan, 54 years of age, paint manufacturer of New York, submitted the winning title, "Big Boy Jess of The Western Air Express." It will be broadcast next Monday by Proff Moore and his orchestra of the Montmartre Cafe from 12:30 to 12:45 p.m., and from 2:30 to 2:45 p.m., from a W.A.E. plane circling over Hollywood.

Others in the party awarded trips are Miss Alice Yost of San Francisco; Miss Janice Littick, Kansas City; Isaac H. Onstott, Indianapolis; William N. Knox, Boston; John L. Hill, Buffalo; Arthur Shaw, Cleveland; Chester G. Bradford, Cincinnati, and Merle McKay, Oakland.

California's Seventy-nine Years

THROUGH the summer of 1850 Congress battled the major problem of that day—should California be admitted to Statehood.

The Senate passed the Bill in August; on September seventh the House approved it; two days later President Fillmore signed it. California became a State of the Union.

Only ten years later—in 1860—the foundation was laid from which has grown the Bank of America of California.

California institutions have kept pace with the State's progress. Today this bank brings to a hundred communities the banking stability assured by resources of more than 400 millions and the experience of sixty-nine years.

MODEL PLANES TESTED TODAY

'Times'-Playground Aircraft Leaguers Prepared

Mines Field Airport Scene of Events at 9:30 a.m.

Indoor Winners Picked at Shrine Auditorium

LOS ANGELES TIMES-PLAYGROUND-AIRCRAFT LEAGUE
At Mines Field Airport.
9:30 a.m. Today.
OUTDOOR EVENTS

(1.) Hand launched, stick or duration models.
(2.) Hydroplane, either stick or commercial type.
(3.) Optional power, other than rubber, any type.
(4.) Glider for duration, solid construction, hand thrown.
(5.) Commercial (R.O.G.) Duration.

Novelties in motive power for miniature model airplanes will be featured today at Mines Field Airport, where outdoor events will be contested by young members of the Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League. Many a modern "Darius Green" has a surprise in his plane's power by which he expects to capture the optional power event in the all-day tournament beginning at 9 a.m.

Some of the models will be powered with springs, others with rockets, and others with compressed-air motors. In this event will be flown models with more than three-foot wing spread. In hopes that some juvenile genius may have produced something which will lead the way to revolutionizing aircraft power, representatives of Maddux, Standard Air Express, Curtiss Flying School and Western Flying Magazine will be on hand to observe as well as to officiate as judges.

Today's outdoor events are to be as follows:

Hand launched, stick or duration models. Hydroplanes, either stick or commercial type, to be launched from water. The optional power event for any type model plane, any power excepting the usual rubber bands to be used. Glider contest for duration, solid construction, hand-thrown models. Commercial, "rise off the ground," types for duration.

Finals in the indoor events were settled yesterday in Shrine Auditorium, with twelve winners emerging from the group of twenty finalists who weathered the earlier elimination contest at Exposition Park Armory, where a field of 100 young model flyers competed.

Winners in yesterday's finals and the duration of time in the air which their model airplanes maintained are as follows:

STICK MODEL EVENT

Juniors

(1.) Bob Bridges, 4m. 26 2-5s.
(2.) Aubrey Rabb, 3m. 47s.
(3.) Irwin Nehmen, 1m. 35s.

Seniors

(1.) Bill Atwood, 5m. 18 1-5s.
(2.) David Evans, 4m. 55 2-5s.
(3.) Gilbert Westphal, 4m. 12 1-5s.

COMMERCIAL MODEL EVENT

Juniors

(1.) Philip Olson, 1m. 45s.
(2.) Basil Lustig, 1m. 34 4-5s.
(3.) Bavyne Topscott, 1m. 3s.

Seniors

(1.) Bill Atwood, 2m. 19 2-5s.
(2.) Don Sullivan, 2m. 5 2-5s.
(3.) Lynn Sullivan, 1m. 59s.

Winners receive certificates, medals and trophies. The contest is open to any boy or girl of Los Angeles under 21 years of age.

NAVY WILL CO-OPERATE IN OIL BAN

'Admiral Writes Letter Telling of Action Taken to Safeguard Beaches

Co-operation of the Navy in helping to keep Los Angeles clear of oil pollution was assured the Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday in a letter from Admiral W. V. Pratt, commander of the United States fleet, of Newport, R. I., in response to a letter sent recently by the playground department on the subject.

Admiral Pratt stated that he has forwarded a copy of the playground department's letter to the commander-in-chief of the Pacific battle fleet, now in port, with the request that he co-operate with Los Angeles in keeping the harbor clear of any oil from naval craft.

Port regulations requiring tankers and any other commercial craft to discharge water ballast beyond the three-mile limit do not apply to naval craft. Hence the request sent to Admiral Pratt for the necessary action.

The activity of the playground department on the subject is because of the oil which has been coming in on the Terminal Island Cabrillo beaches, which are under its jurisdiction.

FARE BOOST PHASE BOBS HEAD AGAIN

New Councilman Revives Move for City to Retain Untermeyer in Case

The scheme of hiring Samuel Untermeyer, New York lawyer, to represent the city of Los Angeles in the street-car fare-increase case before the United States Supreme Court was revived in Council yesterday by a resolution introduced by Councilman Williams.

The idea was broached by some members of the old Council just before election earlier this year and hung fire until vetoed by Mayor Cryer. It was proposed to pay Untermeyer $25,000. Several weeks ago Council sustained Cryer's veto, declaring the City Attorney and his staff are competent to handle the situation. The last word was said by Councilman Lewis, who declared it merely was a scheme to corral votes.

Yesterday's resolution did not set any compensation for Untermeyer. It was referred to City Attorney Werner.

All-Year Hotel Being Erected at Palm Springs

An all-year-'round hotel costing $350,000 is being built at Palm Springs by Fritzi Ridgeway, stage and screen actress and wife of Constantin Bakaleinikoff, celebrated musical conductor, it was learned yesterday. Slated for formal opening on November 15, next, the structure will be of tile and cement in the Hopi Indian motif, and will have accommodations for 100 guests. It is rising to completion from plans drawn by James I. Cavett, architect, and embodying many original ideas advanced by the actress-builder.

FRITZI RIDGEWAY

A patio measuring 85 by 65 feet will be one of the features of construction. From one of its sides will run an arcade leading to a complete shopping center, including a gown shop, haberdashery, beauty parlor, curio shop, barber shop, pool and billiard hall, market, delicatessen and service station. There also will be a swimming pool.

All the sleeping rooms, it is announced, will face either desert or mountain, and the roof of the second story will be devoted to private sun baths. Guests also will have the benefit of a diet kitchen and the adjacent hot springs with their baths of mud and steam.

BATHING BEAUTIES OF VALLEY MEET SUNDAY

More than fifty girls, it was announced yesterday, will compete in the first annual Lakeside Park bathing-beauty parade and Swim-Easy fashion revue Sunday afternoon at the new Lakeside Park swimming pool near the western end of Chatsworth Lake. The entrants will represent numerous San Fernando Valley communities. First prize will be a cabin site valued at $100; second, a bathing suit, and third, a pair of fancy bathing shoes and cap to match. The next ten named by the committee of judges will receive season tickets to the Lakeside Park pool.

STORY OF BEATING WINS WIFE DECREE

It was bad enough when Lawrence Trinkhaus ran around with other women, but when he used the family funds to entertain them it was just more than his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Trinkhaus, could bear, she told Superior Judge Yankwich yesterday when asking him to give her a divorce. Mrs. Trinkhaus also testified that her husband beat her when she went out to a theater with some of her girl friends. After hearing her story, Judge Yankwich granted her a decree.

SEWERING ASKED

A petition asking for the sewering of Violet Lane between Magnolia Lane and Beverly Glen Boulevard was filed with the City Council yesterday by property owners. It was referred to the City Engineer and Health and Sanitation Committee.

CADMAN WILL WRITE FOR BOLES

Norma Shearer's Leading Man is Robert Montgomery; Mrs. Raoul Walsh to Enter Talking Pictures; Helene Chadwick Has Lead in Lasky Film

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

No less famous a musician than Charles Wakefield Cadman, we hear, is to write an operetta for John Boles, to be produced via Movietone by Universal. Huston Branch is writing the book for the operetta.

JOHN BOLES

Boles's feature sensational success in "Rio Rita," when the film is released, has caused Universal officials to decide that no opportunity is to be lost in the revealing of the screen lover's remarkably magnetic voice.

There are some rumors abroad that Cadman is leaving Fox, to whom he is under contract, but could not be verified yesterday. In case he remains with that organization he will probably be loaned to Universal for the Boles engagement.

Cadman is America's most noted composer of a special type of music. Not only has he written world successes in the form of songs, but he has also written a number of operas.

NEW YORK MATINEE IDOL TO PLAY LEAD

Robert Montgomery, who is carving a new niche for himself in the talkies since leaving the New York stage, will play opposite Norma Shearer in "Their Own Desire," according to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

NORMA SHEARER

The juvenile, brought out from the East to appear in Sam Wood's college picture, starring Elliott Nugent, has just completed the leading male role with Joan Crawford in her dialogue debut, "Untamed."

In the Shearer picture, Montgomery takes the role originally assigned to Regis Toomey, who was borrowed from Paramount. Owing to delay in production schedules, Toomey was obliged to return to Paramount to meet previous cast requirements.

Montgomery will play the role of Jack Cheever in the picture, in the cast of which Lewis Stone, Belle Bennett, Helene Millard and Mary Doran are included.

E. Mason Hopper and James Forbes are codirecting.

Director's Wife on Screen

All the little film-struck girls who read this will have a hard time believing, no doubt, that there is a beautiful girl in the world who wouldn't like to go into the movies.

However, there is one who doesn't care a hang about a career, but is about persuaded by friends to take a chance in the talking pictures.

Mrs. Raoul Walsh, who before she was married was Miss Lorraine Walker, a society girl, is the lady in question. Singularly enough, even her husband, Raoul Walsh, is encouraging his wife to become an actress, actuated thereto, no doubt, not only by faith in her talents, but also by pride in her beauty, which is great.

Mrs. Walsh is a very lovely girl with a nice singing voice, and Fox officials as well as her husband feel that she should not hide her light under a bushel.

The young woman is just convalescing from an operation for appendicitis, returning home from the hospital yesterday.

Fox Opera Star Arriving

We shall soon have enough grand opera stars here to start a permanent grand opera company of our own.

The newest arrival, who is slated to arrive today in Hollywood, is Don Jose Mojica, star of the Chicago Grand Opera Company, and lately placed under contract by Fox.

The first picture in which Mojica will appear will be from a story by Harlan Thompson, musician and author of several plays and of "Married in Hollywood." Not only has Thompson written the story, but he is also collaborating with Dave Stamper in the writing of the music.

The story has a Spanish setting, and the role which Mojica will play is said to be one that will suit his talents most admirably.

Mojica was born in Mexico, but received much of his musical education abroad. He has appeared in several star roles in grand opera.

Helene Chadwick With Lasky

That charming actress, Helene Chadwick, has been signed for one of the two leading feminine roles in Paramount's talking-film version of George Kelly's play, "The Show-off," we learned yesterday. Hal Skelly is starred, with Frank Tuttle directing.

Helene Chadwick

Miss Chadwick is one of the best known of our screen actresses. Her most recent film roles have been featured parts in "Modern Mothers," "Say it With Sables," "Confessions of a Wife" and "Father and Son."

Neil Hamilton to Europe

Neil Hamilton left yesterday, accompanied by his wife, for a two-months' trip to Europe.

The actor is under contract to Paramount. He will travel through Spain, Italy, England, France and Germany.

Dixie Lee in Frolic

Every day or so Fox officials think of some pretty actress they want to put into their New Orleans Frolic.

Dixie Lee is the latest addition to the picture, in which will appear many noted players, including William Collier, Sr., Walter Catlett, and many others.

Miss Lee has of late been distinguishing herself in every role in which she appears. She was recently placed under long-term contract to Fox.

Our Gang's New Member

Hal Roach's Rascals yesterday welcomed a new member to their ranks. He is not another fat boy, or black boy, or blond girl, or yet a pup. He is Edgar Kennedy, character comedian, who has become popular in Hal Roach Comedies for his cop characterizations.

Hal Roach and Robert MacGowan, gang director, put their heads together and decided that the gang should have a cop on the beat to watch over juvenile activities. He isn't the club-swinging type, however, but a sort of guardian-angel cop.

PERMIT FOR GAS STATION IN BALANCE

Operator Named as Giving Short Measure Appears at Fire Commission Hearing

Charges by Deputy Sealers of Weights and Measures Parrish and Hoppes that Fred W. Nolting, operator of a service station at 3200 Venice Boulevard, charged them for seven gallons and gave them but six gallons of gasoline on several occasions, were aired before the Fire Commission yesterday, following Nolting's application for a permit to operate the station, which he admitted he had been operating under the permit of a former tenant.

The county officers, who stated that there are twenty-five deputies engaged in similar investigations, testified that through the mirror of their car they saw Nolting touch a lever so that a portion of the gas emptying from the glass container returned to the station's storage tank, instead of the full amount as shown by the register going into the automobile tank. The deputies stated that their car is equipped with two tanks, one hidden in the trunk for operation of the auto, and the other the regular gas tank, which they left untouched until the gas measurement could be taken afterward. In Municipal Court, they testified, Nolting pleaded guilty and was fined $25.

Nolting admitted pleading guilty, but said he did so to save the time it would take to fight the case. He denied that he knowingly "shorted" the amount of gas and could explain it only by the belief that "he must have touched the lever accidentally with his arm." The lever, it was explained, is for the purpose of returning gas from the glass contained to the storage tank in case of fire or when closing the station.

The commissioners took under advisement their action on Nolting's application for a permit, but revoked that of John Allen, former tenant of the station. They allowed Nolting to continue operations pending a decision.

CITY COURT NOT TO TRY SANITY CASE

Judge Bogue Rules That Convicted Japanese Must Face Superior Tribunal

Municipal courts have no jurisdiction in insanity cases, Municipal Judge Hogue declared yesterday in refusing to set the case of M. Kanomitsu, Japanese cafe proprietor convicted of possession of liquor, for trial on a sanity plea. Kanomitsu pleaded not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity, but was convicted of the liquor charge by Judge McLay and sent to jail for six months in addition to a fine of $500. Judge Bogue signed the jail commitment papers, ordering the Japanese to apply in Superior Court for his sanity trial.

The question was raised by Chief Trial Deputy City Prosecutor Eberhard, who pointed out that the law provides, in cases where the dual plea is entered, that the defendant be tried first for the offense and immediately afterward, by the same jury or another, for his sanity. The court ruled that, since it cannot commit a defendant to the State Insane Asylum in case he is found insane, it has no jurisdiction to try sanity cases.

TWO COLORED BANDITS USE BOTTLE AND KNIFE

Wielding a bottle and a long butcher knife, two colored bandits early yesterday morning slugged Ted Forceburg, 26 years of age, of 5236 Hubb street, and robbed him of $5, according to police. The robbery took place at Twentieth street and Central avenue. Forceburg, knocked unconscious by a blow of the bottle, recovered shortly afterward and walked to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital where he was treated for slight concussion of the brain.

"MARIANNE" DELIGHTFUL FILM FARE

Marion Davies Has Chief Role in Screen Feature at Mayan

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

The Mayan Theater, hitherto devoted to the so-called legitimate drama, last night came over to the talking pictures when "Marianne," starring Marion Davies, was shown. The panoply and glitter attendant upon first-night premieres in the film capital made the playhouse the mecca of a distinguished audience, who remained to see and hear a delightful screen musical comedy which might well have borne the subtitle, "Happy Days in the A.E.F."

A selected program of short subjects preceded the feature, which was still running close to midnight. Among them was an exceptionally funny Laurel and Hardy comedy, entitled "Their Perfect Day," as well as "The Doll Shop," a typical M.-G.-M. Colortone Revue, directed by Sammy Lee; and Fox Movietone News. Xavier Cugat's orchestra, picturesquely garbed in the uniforms of the French polilu, provided a sympathetic atmospheric background for the feature.

Miss Davies has never appeared to better advantage than as Marianne, a peasant sweetheart of the sort so dear to the hearts of movie producers. I will not, however, vouch for the authenticity of her fitful accent. The piece is palpably constructed around its star, who is allowed the majority of scenes in which to depict the changing moods and temperament of a volatile Gaul. And still there is opportunity for Lawrence Gray, as her American lover, to contribute what is undoubtedly his finest performance. With a voice that could not have been improved upon if it had been especially created for the film, Gray delivered the spoken lines and a song or two that were rewarded with rounds of applause.

The dialogue, in passing, is the work of Laurence Stallings and Gladys Unger—and it manifests the result of such a curious combination of talents. It is a far cry from the biting, trenchant Stallings pen which scratched out the novel "Plumes" about the scream of the shells, to that which painted an idyllic Army of Occupation on the Mayan screen last night. The Stallings touch is there, but guided, as it were, by a woman's hand—its highlights turned from brutality to grace by Miss Unger. Or perhaps it is true, what they say about time and all wounds.

Willy-nilly, there would have been no place for realism in "Marianne." There is comedy aplenty, thanks to Cliff Edwards and his ukulele, and to the irrepressible Benny Rubin, and several of the situations, notably those revolving around the affair of Anatole, Marianne's beloved porker, and that of the girl's visit to the American general and its sequel, were masterpieces of humor.

The popular collaborating team of Roy Turk and Fred A. Ahlert have never applied their abilities to the making of more satisfactory music than that which they wrote for this production. "You'd better Hang On to Me," "O-la-la," "When I See My Sugar," and particularly "Say You'll Be Mine," "Just You, Just Me" and the title number itself, inevitably will reap a rich harvest at the melody marts. These pieces are introduced in the conventional musical-comedy fashion, but there can be no objection to it because of the effortless manner in which they blend in with the story.

To return a moment to the players, a large supporting cast, consisting partly of Duke Martin, George Baxter, Emile Chautard, Oscar Apfel, Robert Edeson and Charles Crockett, acquits itself creditably, although Scott Kolk seems hardly the type for Lieut. Frayne, the M.P. who harries the lovers whenever the opportunity presents itself.

"Marianne" is one of the better starring vehicles. It escapes, in a larger measure than most of the talkies, the confinements imposed upon the moving-picture screen by its adoption of a stage technique which does not and never will belong.

Loew's Shows Film Version of 'Snatchers'

BY F. K. S.

Fox Films' "Imagine My Embarrassment" settled down to the business of a one-week run at Loew's State Theater yesterday, and turned out to be none other than a musical comedy version of our old friend "Cradle Snatchers." Fortunately for its new audience, this vulgar and persistent co-operative tour de force from the pens of Russell Medcraft and Norma Mitchell has been pretty thoroughly cleaned up. The spectacle of three matronly women and their giggles leaping through whoops and generally carrying on in a manner calculated to make one shout at them to act their age has never been one to draw encomiums from at least this playgoer; but surrounded, as it is currently, with youth, a lively esprit de corps, Walter Catlett and two rattling good tunes by Conrad, Gottler and Mitchell, it stands an excellent chance to make its way at last in the world.

Raymond Cannon directed this new singing version. It is a commendable first effort in the field of sound, cohesively built and revealing a thorough grasp of the medium's potentialities. If it lacks the hard brilliance of that rough-cut diamond, "Red Wine," with which Mr. Cannon made his debut as a producer for Fox, and which appeared briefly at this same theater as "Let's Make Whoopee," the blame may be laid to the material with which he had to work. At best it is a rowdy farce with musical interpolations, its tendency to wordiness sometimes defeating the one very quintessential of farcical comedy, which is pace.

Walter Catlett, who looks a good deal like the bespectacled Mr. Lloyd of greater fame, brings a rollicking sense of humor to the screen from the stage. With funnier lines—and if the present ones do not represent the ne plus ultra in wit, he has no one to censure but Walter Catlett, writer of dialogue—he should prove a valuable addition to the ranks of talking comics. In "Imagine My Embarrassment," he plays one of the three husbands who, deserting their wives to go "duck hunting" are later discovered by their estimable better halves making undignified merry with three ladies of the chorus at the Circus Inn in the mountains. Mr. Catlett's partners in crime are Jed Prouty and Gordon DeMain, both capable in their parts.

Ilka Chase, Dot Farley and Laura Hamilton contribute diversified portrayals of the wives. Miss Chase, I thought, was particularly amusing.

But to the boys and girls of the ensemble. They are Sue Carol, Dixie Lee and Jean Bary, as the chorus misses who step out with the three errant spouses; and Nick Stuart, David Rollins and Richard Keene as the wives' companions. Freshness and spontaneity go a long way to cover, in them, a deficiency in experience; if not adept farceurs, they are still guileless enough to be pleasing.

The theme songs are "Look What You've Done to Me," sung by Miss Carol, with the thankful assistance of Earl Burtnett's Biltmore Trio, and "Doing the Boom-Boom," evidently conceived as the same composers' successor to their erstwhile "Breakaway."

The picture is attractively photographed and recorded.

Expensive costuming is the distinguishing mark of "Drapes," the latest Fanchon and Marco idea at the State. Acrobatics and dancing feature the turn of Frank Melino and Company, and Gene Morgan returns to assume his role of maitre d'hotel.

Noted Player Has Leading Belasco Role

Edna Hibbard, who stars in the Vincent Lawrence comedy, "The Door Between," which starts at the Belasco Theater Sunday night, has made a splendid name for herself by her work in David Belasco's "Ladies of the Evening" and Edgar Selwyn's "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

Last season she scored in an entirely different type of play, the melodrama, "Tenth Avenue," presented at the Eltinge Theater, New York. Miss Hibbard was last seen in Los Angeles as the star of Rachel Crother's comedy, "Let Us Be Gay." In "The Door Between," she is said to have a role which not only shows her as a deft comedienne, but which also calls for some highly dramatic work.

The "Door Between" is by Vincent Lawrence, young playwright, who has to his credit "In Love With Love," "Two Fellows and a Girl," "Two Married Men," and others.

Talkies Called New Influence

Talking pictures create an illusion that is more penetrating on the adolescent mind than any absorbing literature ever conceived, and for this reason will essentially become a potent part of the future school curriculum, according to Wallace Smith, internationally prominent author who wrote the screen version of "Bulldog Drummond," now showing at the United Artists Theater.

The written version, Smith declares, will never be wholly replaced, since it supplys the detailed explanations necessary in every phase of education.

Noted Actress Returns in Comedy

Edna Hibbard

Enacts the role of Ethel Brooks in "The Door Between," a farce by Vincent Lawrence, which starts Sunday night at the Belasco Theater.

FILM ONE OF STRANGE CONTRASTS

My, what a dreadful time the poor rich have.

"Pleasure Crazed," now at the Boulevard Theater, tells the tale.

A young millionaire, good looking, charming, and thoughtful, has a wife who doesn't love him. A band of crooks harrass him in an effort to steal his jewels. Some poison is poured by mistake into the silver flask which he carries. Almost everything happens to him that could happen.

Which is, by the way, of saying that "Pleasure Crazed" is good old hokum melodrama. Set against a rich and luxurious background of the Santa Barbara locale, the picture, talkie in form, combines the best essentials of the early silent society "mellerdrammers" with pungent, witty dialogue.

It probably would have been a better picture in silent motion form. By the injection of dialogue, however entertaining, it has been considerably slowed up. Also, it seems dreadfully incongruous to hear smart lines coming out of the lips of people, forced by the limitations of the story plot, to act stupidly.

In fact, there are scenes reminiscent of the days of the "Perils of Pauline," while at the same moment there are scenes worthy of a smart, sophisticated play of the day. In all, the picture presents strange contrasts.

It is interesting in its presentation of a bright new leading man, Kenneth MacKenna, who reveals himself as not only possessed of a nice personality, but an excellent and pleasing voice. True, MacKenna has little to do other than be pleasant, but this he does in capable fashion.

Donald Gallaher and Charles Klein directed for Fox.

A Charley Chase comedy, the news reel and Lynn Cowan's stage show conclude the bill.

"FAST LIFE" WILL COME TO WARNERS

First National Film Deals With Problems of Youth; Cast Versatile

"Fast Life," a striking drama of modern youth and a production that is said to be a hit on Broadway, will start on the 16th inst. for an extended run at Warner Brothers Theater. This First National Vitaphone production establishes a precedent at the theater, which has shown nothing but Warner Brothers films since its opening.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Loretta Young are seen as an ultra-modern couple who are married secretly following a wild party. They are the leaders of a fast set of young persons, setting a terrific pace. Chester Morris, the boy who scored in "Alibi," also has a featured role.

Others in the cast of the production are Ray Hallor, Frank Sheridan, William Holden and John St. Polis. It was adapted to the screen from the original stage play by Samuel Shipman and John B. Hymer and directed by John Francis Dillon.

Stars Plan to See 'Youngest' at Vine-street

One of the most brilliant gatherings of the film colony will launch "The Youngest," the Philip Barry comedy-drama of suspense and mirth, on its run at the Vine-street Theater Monday night.

Three blocks of 100 seats each have been purchased for motion-pictures parties to attend the opening. Joan Crawford, film star and bride of Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who is to portray a droll and idealistic youth in the comedy, will act as hostess to a group of 100, and the other theater parties will be in the form of a reception honoring young Fairbanks.

"The Youngest," which won a Burns Mantle award when produced recently in New York, will be presented by Franklin Pangborn for the first time in the West at the Vine-street. Fairbanks, who will play the leading role, will be supported by an exceptionally strong cast, including Lurene Tuttle, Charlotte Stevens, G. Pat Collins, Claire Du Brey, William Lawrence, Franklie Raymond and Warburton Guilbert.

The fourth week of "Bad Babies" at the Figueroa Playhouse starts with the Saturday matinee. George Scarborough, author, states that he is writing a sequel to "Bad Babies," which will probably follow the run of the present vehicle. The author is gathering facts from the daily newspapers, he claims, and will present them in his new three - act drama.

CHANDLER IS BUSY

Lane Chandler, Clara Bow's former leading man and Paramount contract player, recently released, has completed an important role in "The Forward Pass," for First National, and will shortly commence work in the stellar role of "The Lightning Express," which Universal will produce as an all-dialogue serial production.

"LADY LIES" OFFERED AT PARAMOUNT

Unusual Treatment Given New Film; Walter Huston Has Leading Role

BY WHITNEY WILLIAMS

How two children still in their 'teens interfere in their father's relations with a lady of leisure, and the havoc they create is graphically depicted in Paramount's screen version of John Meehan's stage play, "The Lady Lies," which started yesterday for a week's run at the Paramount Theater. The theme is a somewhat different angle on the subject of modern love—and will be found fairly diverting.

Walter Huston is starred and Claudette Colbert appears opposite him in this picture, filmed in the New York studios of the Lasky organization. Miss Colbert, because of her unusual type of beauty and radiant personality, probably is the most interesting figure, and will, no doubt, score heavily as a popular favorite. She meets the subtleties of the role with an ease altogether charming.

Huston plays the part of a prominent New York corporation lawyer, the father of a motherless young son and daughter. When chance throws Joyce Rosmer (Miss Colbert,) a saleslady in an exclusive woman's shop, in his path, he strikes up an acquaintance that results in his placing a luxurious apartment at her disposal. Two years later, when the children are home from school for their vacations, they learn of the relations existing between their father and Joyce and immediately set about to break up the affair.

"The Lady Lies" is engaging not for its plot, but for its individual performances. Huston and Miss Colbert, of course, are outstanding, but they are ably assisted by Charles Ruggles, Betty Garde and Patricia Deering and Tom Brown. Ruggles in particular is amusing as the ever-intoxicated Charlie Tyler, friend of Huston's, and Patricia Deering, as Huston's 16-year-old daughter, displays ability that a far more seasoned actress might well envy.

The picture opens with a sparkling exchange of dialogue between Huston and Ruggles, with the latter giving his friend a million dollars' worth of advice concerning the relative care and vagaries of blonds and brunettes. Much of Ruggles's conversation thereafter is written in the same vein, though a more dramatic emphasis is placed upon the speech of the other members of the cast.

Many may see in "The Lady Lies" evidences of a problem play, but it is as well disguised that it will probably escape the halo of distastefulness that so often hovers over pictures of this sort. Hobart Henley, in directing, has treated the subject sympathetically. It may not appeal to the general public, however.

Recording is to be criticised, and the photography is a study in harshness. Both these factors tend to detract from a picture that needs every element in its favor.

Rude Vallee with his Connecticut Yankees makes his appearance on the local screen in a short subject titled "Radio Rhythm," that met with favor the opening day and Raymond Griffith in a Christie talking play, "The Sleeping Porch," gives a lively impersonation of a man obeying the doctor's orders. Milton Charles entertains on the pipe organ and the Paramount News completes the program.

Lillian Harmer Again With May Robson in Play

Lillian Harmer, who has been in all of May Robson's productions for the last fifteen years, will be seen as Lucinda, the maid of all work, when the character comedienne brings "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary" to the Hollywood Playhouse, starting Sunday. Miss Harmer was engaged as a private secretary by Miss Robson and stepped into a vacancy in the cast of the original production of "Tish."

The cast for "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," which brings the noted star back as guest player with the Henry Duffy forces, will include James Bush, recently seen at the same theater as Ronny Davis in "The Big Pond." Emily Lowry will make her first appearance here, and others include Kenneth Gamet, Fred Trowbridge, William Mahu, Frances Beranger, William Macauley, Myra Huber and Elizabeth Hiestand.

Guy Bates Post is now in his farewell week at the Playhouse in "The Masquerader" in which he enacts the dual role of Chilcote and Loder.

New Revue is Colorful and Entertaining

Jack Kay, shuffling blackface comedian, and Bud Averill, rotund master of ceremonies, keep the revue moving at a fast pace with their mirth and comic ditties. Other features of the program are Bill Brokaw's orchestra; Peggy Chan, specialty dancer; Dorothy Gilbert, eccentric comedienne, and Kathryn Myers, ballad singer. The Million Dollar show girls appear in an old-fashioned crinoline number, a medley of rain songs, and a ragamuffin dance.

The supporting screen bill includes "High Low-Brow," talking comedy, and the regular first-run release of Paramount Sound News.

GANGELIN ASSIGNED

Pathe has just assigned Paul Gangelin, the author of the "Racketeer," now being made on the Pathe lot, to the adaptation and dialogue of "The Big Shot," written by the noted team responsible for the "Front Page," Ben Hecht and Charles McArthur.

AQUEDUCT DATA SOON WILL BE IN

Greatest Survey of Its Kind Nearing Completion

City Engineer Crew Works Six Years at Task

Fifty Thousand Square Miles of Desert Covered

The Colorado River aqueduct survey, said to be the most extensive of its kind ever undertaken, will be completed in the near future, it was set forth yesterday in a statement issued by Frank E. Weymouth, chief engineer of the Metropolitan Water District.

Launched in 1923 by the Department of Water and Power, the survey work has continued over an area of 50,000 square miles in California, Arizona, Utah and Nevada. Recently the work was transferred from the department to the Metropolitan Water District.

H. A. Van Norman, general manager and chief engineer of the Department of Water and Power, under whose supervision the work was carried on for a number of years, states:

"Engineering data accumulated after continuous survey work which dated from 1923 were made available to the Metropolitan Water District at the time that municipal body was organized. When Frank E. Weymouth was made chief engineer of the district, the department's engineering forces, employed on this work were turned over to and placed under Mr. Weymouth's direction and their services made available.

DATA READY SOON

Mr. Weymouth announces that he expects to have all data in shape to deliver to the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water District not later than November 1. Actual construction of the great aqueduct will begin next summer, if bonds necessary for the work are approved, it is stated.

A. J. Wiley, Richard R. Lyman and Thaddeus Merriman, internationally known engineers comprising the board of review selected by the Metropolitan Water District board of directors, will receive the engineering data immediately after it is made available, according to W. P. Whitsett, chairman of the board of directors. The board of review, it is expected, will have its report ready by January 1. This report will recommend the most feasible route the aqueduct should take into Southern California.

One hundred and thirty men have traversed the hot desert country as far east as Central Arizona, as far south as the Mexican border and north into Utah, since the first survey party set out with E. A. Bayley, Department of Water and Power engineer, in charge. Almost 20,000 square miles of the 50,000 square miles covered had never been crossed by a surveyor's instrument.

THOUSANDS OF MAPS

Thousands of maps, 500 projections or locations, several hundred plane table sheets and 400 field sheets were made by the engineers from 1923 to the present. A staff of fifty-two men has been at work in the Los Angeles offices for the past two years collecting data to be assembled for the engineering experts to study in connection with the ultimate selection of a route the aqueduct will follow.

The aqueduct, which will bring water from the Colorado River to Los Angeles and other cities in Southern California, may receive water from any one of at least six points on the river, it has been pointed out by Mr. Weymouth. The route to be followed by the aqueduct from any of six possible intakes might have innumerable variations, he said.

For instance, he says, his engineers now are engaged in studying sixteen different routes that might be followed by an aqueduct with an intake at Boulder Dam. Included in these are several gravity routes, he points out.

Poor Health Forced Him to Sell Business

"I suffered with indigestion for fifteen years and constipation just about all my life. Then I started Sargon and Sargon Pills, and all my troubles are over. I have gained weight and feel twenty years younger.

"I wish I had all the money I have spent in the past fifteen years trying to get well. Finally, I became so weak and run down I had to sell out and quit business entirely. My digestion was so poor that I almost had to give up eating everything. High blood pressure came on and my gall bladder gave me a lot of trouble. I was dreadfully nervous and many a night would lie in bed until morning, unable to sleep, and wondering if I would ever be well and strong again. I lost weight and didn't have strength and energy enough for anything much.

T. W. HOFMAN

"I heard so many people talking about the Sargon treatment that I decided to try it. What a lot of money and suffering I would have saved if I had known about it sooner! I don't remember when I have felt as good as I do now! I have taken six bottles, eat anything in the world I want, and every bit of stomach trouble is over. It is a pleasure to go to my meals and I haven't slept like I do now since I was a boy. My blood pressure is down to normal, all trouble with my gall bladder is over and I have all the strength and energy that any man needs.

"For the first time in years my liver is stimulated, and constipation of many years standing is ended. I never saw such medicine as Sargon for building up a rugged out system or anything like Sargon pills for a sluggish liver and constipation. I have lived in Los Angeles since 1883. Lots of people know me and I talk this treatment to everybody I know, and feel like going from house to house and telling people about it."

The above statement was recently made by T. W. Hofman, retired hotel owner of 763 San Julian St., Los Angeles.

The special Sargon representative at the Owl Drug Co., 6th and Broadway, is personally meeting hundreds of people daily who call to learn first hand of its wonderful powers. Sargon may also be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.]

"I Can't Learn to Like You," She Says Husband Told Her After Wedding

It was the strangest thing that ever had happened to Mrs. Isabel Stevens, in her married career of exactly twelve hours, she told Superior Judge Crawford in divorce court yesterday.

Mrs. Stevens had been made the wife of Floyd A. Stevens the evening before, she testified in response to questions of her attorney, S. S. Hahn.

And on the first morning of their honeymoon, this is what she testified her new husband said to her:

"I've made a mistake; I don't believe I can ever learn to like you."

And Judge Crawford said:

"That is the cruelest thing I ever heard of a husband saying to his wife. Divorce granted on grounds of cruelty."

FIRE CORPS IN TRIBUTE TO WERDIN

Gratitude to Commissioner Expressed for Efforts in Department's Behalf

Gratitude of the Los Angeles Fire Department to President E. R. Werdin of the Fire Commission for the interest and efforts he has shown in assisting to bring the department up to its present standard of efficiency is contained in a handsomely engrossed testimonial presented to him yesterday by the officers of the department.

The testimonial, drawn up and passed at a recent meeting of the fire officers, follows:

Hon. E. R. Werdin, a member of the Board of Fire Commissioners of Los Angeles, has at all times and close contact with the fire department and its personnel, displayed an interest and spirit of friendship which is thoroughly appreciated by all concerned and

Whereas, the advice, counsel and generosity bestowed by Fire Commissioner Werdin, as well as his fairness to delinquents, have proved a factor in further promoting the harmonious and loyal conditions existing in the said department and producing greater efficiency in the ranks, and

Whereas, the personal interest manifested and administered by him in the welfare of the members and their families command our confidence and respect. Now, therefore, be it resolved that this testimonial be forwarded to Fire Commissioner E. R. Werdin as an expression of our appreciation of his friendship and efforts on our behalf and the assistance rendered in placing the Los Angeles Fire Department on the high standard which it now enjoys, and

Be it further resolved that we hereby freely offer our best wishes for a continuance of the peace, health and happiness which he now enjoys.

The testimonial is signed by Fire Chief Ralph Scott, Assistant Chief P. C. McDowell, and Deputy Chiefs J. H. Atwell, J. C. Baly, B. M. Blake, S. H. Dodd, F. O. Edwards, C. J. Howley, J. G. Johnson, George A. Kelly, E. C. Phelps and H. M. Wetherell.

In response, President Werdin stated that he would sooner be a fire commissioner in Los Angeles than Mayor of any city in the United States.

Court Petition Shows Writer Left No Will

H. C. Witwer, nationally known writer, left no will, it was revealed yesterday when a petition for letters of administration was filed by his widow, Sadie S. Witwer, 350 North McCadden Place. Allen Witwer, 16 years of age, is another heir.

Witwer, who died August 9, last, left an automobile worth $1000, interest in a store building worth $16,500, several manuscripts and a claim against Harold Lloyd for infringement on a copywright, which suit is pending in the United States courts.

GROCER BURIED

The funeral for David T. Rockhold, prominent grocer for the last twenty-three years at 1206 Spence street, was conducted yesterday at 10 a.m. at the Bede A. Johnson chapel, 3827 Whittier Boulevard. Interment was made in Inglewood Park Cemetery. Mr. Rockhold died one week before his eightieth birthday. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Lillie R. Rockhold, and one son, John Rockhold.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

The most elaborate program of entertainment ever shown in the Oaks Tavern Cafe, Fourth and Hill streets, will be presented tomorrow noon, then at 7:30 p.m., 10:30 p.m. and 1:30 a.m., it is announced. Walter Van will act as master of ceremonies and Cy Burnap's Yellow Jacket Band will supply the dance music.

Those included in the program are Ginger Britton, Dorothy O'Dair, May Ohlu Peace, Francis Davis, Bonnie Day, George Jeracos, Helen Miller and her revue of six sunkissed sweethearts.

PARENTS HONOR DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. De Long Barker of Hongkong will entertain in honor of their daughter Hortense at a dinner-dance tonight in Paul Perrot's Cafe on West Seventh street, opposite Westlake Park. Miss Barker has come to Los Angeles to attend the new University of California at Los Angeles in Westwood.

An elaborate fashion show will be staged in Perrot's Cafe tomorrow at 1:30 p.m., featuring the latest fall and winter models. Dancing also will be a feature of the luncheon.

COMMANDERS APPEAL

With Irving Aaronson's Commanders scheduled to close their engagement at the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel on Saturday evening, the 14th inst., celebrities of the film colony are making the most of the music and entertainment provided by this entertaining orchestra by almost nightly visits to the Blossom Room, it is reported.

TEA ROOM HIGH BRIDGE

Patrons of the Los Altos Tea Room, located in the Los Altos Apartments on Wilshire Boulevard, are taking advantage of the specially constructed bridge room on top of that fashionable apartment building by entertaining their clubs and friends afternoons. The hostess, Miss Myrtle Hazen, reports an average of six parties held there each week. The Los Altos Tea Room features luncheons and dinners.

BUFFET LUNCHEON

Eddie Brandstatter, well-known owner of the Montmartre, has inaugurated a buffet luncheon at his popular cafe in Hollywood which is served either hot or cold, and patrons enjoy the privilege of eating all they want. Free parking is allowed guests of the cafe on every day of the week except for the Wednesday and Saturday luncheons. An excellent table d'hote dinner also is a feature at the Montmartre.

FASHION PROMENADE

A fashion promenade showing the very latest fall styles in street wear, evening gowns, lingerie, hats, coats and wraps, displayed by beautiful live models, is now being featured during luncheon in Mme. Helene's Tea Room in J. J. Haggarty's New York Store, Seventh street and Grand avenue, every day except Thursday.

Representatives of the New York Store have for some time been in the eastern market buying merchandise which is shown to guests of Mme. Helene's immediately on its arrival in Los Angeles.

OPEN NEW STATION

Tonight with gala festivities the new KMIC broadcasting station in the Hollywood Knickerbocker will be officially opened, sponsored by Victor E. Dalton and Alfred C. Berghoff. It will be handled like a theatrical premiere with searchlights and loud speakers in front of the building, so that the throngs may enjoy the thrills of the event.

Mayor John Clinton Porter is to officiate in the formal dedicatory exercises, it is reported.

JEWELER TO GO EAST

Leaving today aboard the Los Angeles Limited, George C. Brock, Brock & Co. executive, will visit New York jewelry firms on an inspection trip. He will be in the East for a month.

Gas Meter Leads One Man to Jail

Drilling a hole through a plug which gas company employees had placed in his meter when he is said to have failed to pay his gas bill put Guy F. Woods of 2014 West Eighty-fourth Place in jail for three days yesterday when he was unable to pay the $15 fine imposed by Municipal Judge Bogue. Detective M. I. Ellison of the gas company and City Plumbing Inspector Bailey, who discovered the hole through the plug, testified that it enabled Woods to use the gas.

Woods entered a plea of guilty to tampering with the meter. It was the first case tried under the new city ordinance making it a misdemeanor for any person other than company employees to turn on a gas meter.

EAST VS. WEST

DEL MONTE, Sept. 5.—East vs. East and West vs. West tomorrow. And then an east-west final for the national amateur golf championship of these United States. It couldn't have worked out better if the gents heading the U.S.G.A. had arranged the situation thusly—that is, from the standpoint of the West.

Of course, the noble U.S.G.A. gents had no other thought in mind but an international final with Sir Cyril James Hastings Tolley, representing England, and Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., upholding the dignity and honor of these United States.

But when Johnny Goodman upset Mr. Jones yesterday and Oscar F. Willing, a Portland dentist, downed Sir Cyril, 4 and 3, this afternoon, the affair necessarily took on a different complexion.

That's why the Pacific Coast will send the winner of the H. Chandler Egan-Dr. O. F. Willing match against the east's choice of Francis Ouimet, a former champ, and Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston, who has never won a national title, but today showed the stuff of a champion by coming from behind to finally nail George Voigt 1 up on the thirty-ninth hole.

Egan is the man who architected the Pebble Beach links over which the championship is being played and the gentleman who as a student of fair Harvard back in 1904 won the crown which is the bone of contention this week.

Mr. Egan was a finalist in the State championship here last year and was beaten by Johnny McHugh, who failed to qualify for the national championship.

But Mr. Egan was a different man last year. He was suffering from a strained vertebra in his back. He had the shots it his bag, but it was torture for him to take certain stances and he found it hard to keep on line.

Now he appears to be right on his game, and the Portland doctor who made Sir Cyril James Hastings Tolley like it today will have his work cut out for him tomorrow.

ROOT FOR TOLLEY WIN

ALTHOUGH Yankee victories over the British lion are generally popular in our country this was not the case when Dr. Willing was acknowledged victor on the thirty-third green today. At least not to the gallery.

In fact it was noticeable to the spectators at large and the press representatives, of whom there are no few here from far and wide, that there was scarcely a cheer for the doctor's triumph.

It was Sir Cyril James Hastings Tolley who was getting the yips of applause whenever he made a good shot and for whom no doubt the atmosphere would have been rent had he emerged on top.

This sad state of affairs seems to have been due to the fact that the gallery "got" on Doc Willing for dashing up to his own ball several times when his opponent was away.

That and the fact that doc made Sir Cyril hole a one-footer on

Veteran Comes from Behind to Defeat Little

Voigt, Johnston Struggle in Overtime Tilt

Knowledge of Course Helps H. Chandler Egan

BY GEORGE VON ELM
National Amateur Champion 1926

GEORGE VON ELM

Francis trailed Little 1 down at noon and while he was within shooting distance most of the way, it wasn't until the fourteenth this afternoon that the break came and it was the same shot and on the same hole that removed Bobby Jones from the championship that contributed to Little's defeat.

Little pitched from the same spot to the same trap and lost to a perfectly played par 3. Ouimet was quick to press his advantage and while his tee shot to fifteen was in the rough, he reached the green with his second, and won the hole when Little was unable to play back after approaching over the green.

GREAT SHOT

The best hole of the day was the eighteenth. Ouimet, complete master with a 1-up lead when he stepped on the last tee, pushed his long wood into a trap. He made a creditable out, but was still 250 yards from the green. The greatest spoon shot of the week carried the flag all the way, Ouimet's ball stopping twenty-five feet from the pin.

Little is made of the stuff they claim is necessary in all potential champions. Little was just short of the eighteenth in two and chipped dead for a birdie 4 that would have won the hole and squared the match. Ouimet polished his glasses, studied his long putt carefully, then rammed home the most beautiful try of the day. A fitting climax to a truly great golf match.

George Voigt, leading Jimmy Johnston, 1 up, at noon, couldn't keep in front of that hard-hitting young man from St. Paul and went out of the tournament when he missed a twelve-foot putt for a half on the third extra hole, the thirty-ninth of the match. Johnston was safely on in 2, but Voigt pushed his approach into a trap. His recovery was twelve feet from the pin. Johnston laid his approach putt two inches from the cup and won the hole and match when Voigt missed a game try.

Chandler Egan was the only one of the remaining eight contestants to play golf this morning. Tolley used up eighty-two shots at the end of his first eighteen holes and was only two down to Dr. Willing's medaled 79.

George Voigt and Jimmy Johnston fought tooth and nail and at the end of the morning round Voigt, 77, was 1 up on Johnston, who was two strokes poorer. Francis Ouimet, 78, was 1 down to Lawson Little, 77, at the halfway mark.

Egan equaled par in his round

PEBBLE BEACH, Sept. 5. (AP)—The far west, host to the first Jonesless championship fight in six years, will fight it out with the east for the national amateur title crown.

This was assured today when two veterans from Oregon, Dr. Oscar F. Willing and Henry Chandler Egan, champion twenty-five years ago, swept into the semifinals, along with the sharpshooting Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston of St. Paul, and Francis Ouimet of Boston, titleholder in 1914.

DR. OSCAR WILLING

Willing and Egan will meet in the first thirty-six-hole semifinal tomorrow, starting at 10 a.m. while Ouimet and Johnston will battle it out in the other so that no matter what the outcome an intersectional final is assured for Saturday.

In a succession of sensational quarter-final matches today, Willing disposed of the last foreign threat when he conquered the big British champion, Cyril Tolley, by the decisive margin of 4 and 3, leading all the way after the first nine holes. Egan, in his first tournament appearance since 1923, scored an even

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5. (AP)—Ace Hudkins, "the Nebraska Wildcat," hooked the State Athletic Commission in the pocketbook with a $13,000 victory in the Superior Court today.

Superior Judge Walter Herzinger held that the commission had no legal right to withhold the money which represented Hudkins's share of the proceeds in his fight here with Charley Belanger last June. The commission held up the purses of both fighters charging that the fight was not a fight but a "walk" and a "hippodrome."

In his suit to recover the money, Hudkins contended the referee had

EGAN RESTORES CLASSIC IN ALL ITS BRILLIANCY

Veteran Coast Star Strokes Way to Victory Over Jess Sweeter to Enter Semifinals

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE
"Times" Staff Representative

DEL MONTE, Sept. 5. (Exclusive)—H. Chandler Egan today restored to the United States amateur golf championship in all its brilliancy the color thought to have been irreparably lost with the passing of Bobby Jones.

There is no more romantic figure in American golf than this 45-year-old stylist, who was a stripling of 20 when he won his first amateur crown at Baltusrol back in 1904.

HARRISON JOHNSTON

With the golfing of Walter Hagen, and the beautiful stroking of the ball so characteristic of MacDonald Smith, one of the greatest stylists of all time, Egan today played himself into the semifinals of the national amateur championship over Pebble Beach by soundly trouncing a former British and United States amateur king, Jess Sweetser of New York City, by a margin of 6 up and 5 to play in the thirty-six-hole quarter-finals.

COAST HAS EDGE

The Pacific Coast maintained its edge today by also placing Dr. O. F. Willing of Portland, Or., in the semifinal round as the result of a scintillating thirty-six hole victory over the British amateur champion, Cyril James Hastings Tolley, who yesterday was considered an even bet to carry the American title back to "Merrie" England.

Noted for his bull-dog tenacity,

Roy Carlyle's Pinch Homer With Two on in Eighth Gives Oaks 6-4 Win Over Hollywood

OAKLAND, Sept. 5.—Roy Carlyle, Oakland outfielder, who has been warming the bench while nursing a sore elbow, broke into today's ball game at Emeryville long enough in the eighth inning to do some pinch hitting for Monroe Dean, and he helped the Oaks to a 6-to-4 victory over Hollywood by poling out a home run with two men on the bases.

The long wallop spoiled a chance for the Stars to make it three straight wins over the Acorns.

ROY CARLYLE

George Hollerson outpitched Jim Edwards for the first seven innings, and had a 4-to-1 edge when Jack Fenton started an eighth-inning rally with a single.

A triple to center by Verges scored Fenton. Ernie Lombardi was purposely walked and Frazier scored Verges with a single, his third hit of the game. Then Carlyle went to bat

HOLD UP PURSES OF CHRISTNER, RISKO

CLEVELAND, Sept. 5. (AP)—Purses of Johnny Risko and K. O. Christner, whose scheduled twelve-round bout was stopped in the ninth round last night when Referee Patsy Haley declared Christner the winner on a foul, were held up by the City Boxing Commission today.

The commission announced that its action was due to fouling tactics of both fighters and that they would not be paid pending the commission's meeting Monday.

Risko said he had planned to retire after last night's fight, but now feels good for five or six years more. He asserted he would "fight Christner again next week" if permitted.

Christner had about $7100 and Risko $7800 due for the fight.

Howard Jones to Build Plays Around Halfback

Wesson Unleashes Volume of Grid Statistics

Hunter Returns from Camp; Jones to Catalina

BY BRAVEN DYER

Those who expect to see Ernie Pinckert, the San Bernardino battering ram, do nothing but clear the way for Troy's ball carriers this fall are due for some surprises, despite the fact that Pinckert is to be employed at the outside halfback position, a post which, under the Jones system, has called for little other than blocking.

ERNIE PINCKERT

Pinckert will be a threat because he looms as the most dependable punter in Southern California's varsity ranks. Last year Capt. Jess Hibbs and Don Williams did most of the kicking. Both are gone. Jones's tentative first-string backfield of Russ Saunders at quarter, Edelson and Pinckert as halfbacks, and Musick in the fullback spot does not include a good punter other than Ernie. Musick did some kicking last year on the frosh but the bulk of the booting fell to Pinckert.

Inasmuch as Pinckert normally would not do much ball carrying from his outside halfback position, it is a cinch that Jones will now build some plays around him. Either that or there won't be any deception once Pinckert moves into the back position to kick, and he it known that Jones went in for deception with a capital D last year.

Ernie will fit into the scheme of things very nicely. He can pass splendidly and can also carry the ball with the best of them. In fact it seems too bad that he is to be "wasted" as an outside halfback, but that's another story. Ernie is a terrific blocker and that, to Jones, is more than half the game so Pinckert is valuable.

Between golf games Al Wesson, demon publicity purveyor at U.S.C., has managed to get out a tentative roster of varsity gridders. It includes a flock of names, most of which mean something. Glancing over the long line-up it is to be noted that there are fifteen letter winners among the number, which is something of a barometer as to Trojan chances.

At first all the dope, including age, weight, height and previous condition of servitude of the players. There are some large gentlemen on the roster. Jones, if he so desired, could put a line on the field consisting of seven players all standing 6ft. tall or better. It would include Kreiger, 6ft. 1½in., and Arbelbide, 6ft. 1in., as ends; Anthony, 6ft 1½in., and Hall, 6ft. 2½in. as tackles; Shaw, 6ft. 1in., and Barragar, 6ft., as guards, and Williamson, 6ft. 1in., as center.

Then there's Bill Seitz, tackle, 6ft. 3in.; Ward Bond, tackle, 6ft. 2in.; Whittier, guard, 6ft. 1in., and Jurich, end, 6ft. 1in.

Whittier, a sophomore, is the heaviest of the lot, weighing 251. George Dye, center, comes next, 224, followed by Hall, tackle, 216. One of the surprises of the lot is the weight of Tony Jurich, end, given as 200 pounds. May have to watch out for that chap.

Willis O. (Bill) Hunter, director of intercollegiate athletics at U.S.C., returned yesterday from Catalina, where he has been spending the summer conducting his boys' camp. As Bill returns Howard Jones is preparing to leave for the magic isle. Jones goes tomorrow for his last vacation in several months. Howard claims he might as well enjoy life while he can. If the 1939 season is anything like last year's (do we hear Jones saying, "God forbid?") there will be plenty of grief.

What with football in the air and everybody talking about the golf tournament at Pebble Beach, Sam Barry, new Trojan basketball coach, isn't able to get in much chatter about his pet sport. Sam has some new ideas he'll try out at U.S.C. and they sound great. Barry is a genial big fellow and should be very popular with Trojan players and fans. He is to assist Jones in football.

Speaking of golf, it begins to look as if the best method of selecting the winner at Pebble Beach would be to pick the two least-known players (now Johnston and Willing) flip a coin and let it go at that. Jones, Barry, Wesson and the writer were playing at Flintridge yesterday. "Jock" Adams, veteran professional, was busy extolling the chances of Cyril Tolley, British ace, in the tournament. "He looks like the money," said Mr. Adams, who knows plenty about the game of golf. Taking Mr. Adams at his word, we hustled back to the office, dug up a fine large picture of the Britisher and then received the news that he had been soundly thumped by Dr. Willing, 4 and 3.

Saw Orv Mohler at the Olympic fights Tuesday night. In case you don't know your football, he's the most publicized prep football athlete ever turned out in Southern California. Put Alhambra on the top of the heap in Southern California last year. Passes like a pitcher throws strikes. Orv says he weighs 173 pounds now, which shows he is growing. Watch him perform for Aubrey Devine's frosh eleven at U.S.C. this year and then keep him in mind until 1940, when Howard Jones will probably find work for him to do. Orv has been a flying pilot all summer, but plans to cut it out for the time being.

Thurston Tops Coast League Mound Parade

Hollis Thurston, San Francisco's slugging pitcher, tops the Coast League hurling averages to date with nineteen victories to his credit and eight defeats. Frank Shellenback, the Stars' best moundsman, is right behind Thurston with twenty-two wins and ten losses. Auggie Walsh of the Angels and Bert Cole of the San Francisco Missions are tied for third position with twenty victories and ten defeats.

HOLLIS THURSTON.

Leroy Mahaffey, the Portland Ducks' iron man, still leads the league in games played, having sixteen victories to his credit and twenty-one defeats for a total of thirty-seven games. His nearest rival is Shellenback, who has competed in thirty-two games.

SEEKS REVENGE

You are looking at Tony Stabineau, young hard-hitting heavyweight, who meets Vigo Doman in the main event tonight at the Hollywood Legion Stadium. One month ago Doman knocked Stabineau flatter than Pa's bankroll after the family had taken their vacation. Tony claims he will even the score tonight.

of Wade and Almada to leave the three Tribesmen stranded.

The Angels chased Smith to the showers with a six-hit barrage in the home half of the fifth, five runs crossing the plate. After Schulmerich went out, Ray Jacobs greased the skids for Smith by clouting a home run over the left-field wall. Jones followed with an infield hit and took second on Hannah's out. Horne aided his own cause by singling to center, Jones tallying with the tying run. Haney and Statz also hit safely, filling the bases, and then Smith walked Webb to force Horne in with a run. Berger followed with a single to center that scored Haney and Statz. Andy House then replaced Smith and fanned Schulmerich for the third out.

Horne apparently tired from the fifth inning on but prevented any further scoring until the ninth when the Indians chased across four runs and had the tying and winning tallies on base before Doc Crandall ended the inning. Muller singled infield to start the rally and Knothe followed with a hit to center. Wade clouted one over the leftfield wall, just inside the foul marker on the leftfield wall, to account for three of the Tribe's four runs in the inning. Berger snagged flies hit by Almada and Eckhardt for two outs, but the rally started again when Taylor singled and Falk worked Horne for a walk. Lelivelt at this juncture lifted Horne and sent in Crandall. Steinecke ran for Falk. Barbee, batting for Cox, greeted Crandall with a single to center that scored Taylor and sent Steinecke to third with the tying run. Things looked bad for Crandall when his first three offerings to Pinch-hitter Johnson were balls, but the Seattle skipper elected to hit the 3-and-0 ball and grounded to Webb for the final out.

SETTLED IN SECOND

The second game might just as well have been called after the second inning, for in this big round the Seraphs pounded Rudy Kallio out of the box and ran up seven big runs. Two home runs, one by Walsh with the bases bulging and the other by Webb with a man on, figured prominently in the downfall of the eccentric Mr. Kallio.

Berger began the wild rally with a single to left and then Kallio walked Schulmerich. Jacobs sacrificed the runners along. Kallio purposely walked Jones to fill the bases, but Sandberg spoiled the strategy by slapping a single off the Seattle pitcher's glove to score Berger. At this juncture Walsh leaned on one of Kallio's offerings and the ball soared over the left-field fence, Angie trotting over the plate behind Schulmerich, Jones and Sandberg. Haney drew a walk and stole second. Statz's infield out put the Seraph shortstop on third, from where he walked home when Webb larruped a mighty circuit clout over the center-field brick barrier. Sahlberg then replaced Kallio and Berger greeted him with a double off the left-field fence for his second hit of the round. Schulmerich ended the slaughter by popping to Taylor.

The Angels picked up another run off Sahlberg in the fourth when Statz doubled down the right-field line, continued to third when Almada bobbled the ball, and scored while Webb was being thrown out at first.

GOLFERS MEET IN SEMIFINALS

Chandler Egan Will Play Dr. O. F. Willing

Harrison Johnston Tackles Francis Ouimet

VOIGT BEATEN.

The smashing climax of the day was put on by "Jimmy" Johnston when he vanquished George Voigt, the New York favorite, 1 up, in a spectacular match that went three extra holes, decided on the thirty-ninth green. This followed the victory of Ouimet over the 18-year-old San Francisco star, William Lawson Little, Jr., in another ding-dong battle, decided on the thirty-sixth green, where Ouimet sank a twenty-foot putt for a birdie to halve the hole and win by a margin of 1 up.

These two tussles were by far the most exciting, desperately fought from start to finish, but the real hero was the veteran Egan, holder of the crown in 1904-05 and staging a sensational comeback at the age of 45, eight years after his last national tournament appearance. At St. Louis in 1921, Egan failed to qualify. He returned to the battle this year to help the Far West be host to the event for the first time and also because he had a big hand in designing Pebble Beach's famous layout. He remains a semifinalist now for the first time since 1909, and is playing as brilliantly as any of the quartet remaining in the hunt for the title relinquished so unexpectedly in the first round by Bobby Jones.

Egan was 2 up on Sweetser at the end of nine holes, increased his margin to 6 up at the close of the first round, as he shot close to par golf all the way, and ended the contest on the thirty-first green. The big New Yorker, champion himself in 1922, made a game fight, winning the thirteenth hole when he was dormie 7, and hitting the back of the cup with his bid for a birdie on the last hole, only to have the ball bounce out, giving Egan the half he needed to settle the match.

Tolley, after his par-crashing rally of the first two rounds, was a big favorite to go on to the finals, but he was wild as a hawk today and no match for the steady, at times brilliant, play of the battling dentist from Portland. One of the most deliberate performers in the game, Dr. Willing took even extra caution with his shots today, sighting his putts fore, aft and sideways as he played every stroke with meticulous care. The result was to give him a lead of 2 up after the morning round. He was 3 up at the twenty-seventh and ended the match on the thirty-third hole of the afternoon play, resisting all of Tolley's courageous challenges. Seldom has Tolley been any wilder than he was off the tees, finding the rough, the traps or the trees on at least half his drives and saving himself from an even worse beating only by some miraculous recoveries or good putts. Willing left few loopholes as he went out in the afternoon in 35, one under par, and played the last fifteen holes in even par, a sharp contrast with the morning round when the Oregonian was around in 80 and Tolley in a mediocre 82.

Voigt and Johnston, a pair of seasoned campaigners, put on a battle worthy of their mettle, a nip-and-tuck duel that had a big gallery thrilled all the way. Until the twenty-ninth hole of the afternoon, Voigt held the edge most of the way and appeared to be headed for victory. The New Yorker, 2 up at the twelfth, was only 1 up at the end of the first eighteen holes but he was 2 up at the twenty-seventh. There the tide shifted again and in quick succession, Johnston captured the twenty-eighth, where he sank a twelve-foot putt and the twenty-ninth, where Voigt got into a trap.

CLOSE MATCH

All square now, they fought on even terms to the thirty-second, where Voigt again caught a trap with his third shot to this 555-yard layout and wound up with a six as "Jimmy" got his par five handily. The next two were squared, but on the thirty-fifth, both hit poor tee shots, Johnston going over the sand bank, back of the green, and Voigt into a trap in front.

"Jimmy" came out so strong that his ball skidded all the way over the green and George barely exploded to the green. Johnston's putt was short by three feet and he missed an attempt to slice around a partial stymie laid by Voigt's first putt. The New Yorker won, 4 to 3, and they went to the home hole all square. Both were on in three but Johnston's putt of twelve feet stopped on the lip of the cup, and they halved in par fives.

They fought each other to a standstill on the first two extra holes, both getting birdie fours on the thirty-eighth where Johnston sank a fifteen-foot putt, but on the thirty-ninth Voigt's second shot landed in a trap to the right of the green. He exploded ten feet beyond the pin and missed his putt only by two inches, taking five while Johnston bagged the par four that gave him the match.

Bobby Jones spent most of his day following this struggle, receiving an ovation from the gallery when he strode up in the morning, and he stayed to the last putt.

Like Johnston, Ouimet made an uphill battle to put out the sensational San Francisco youngster, Little, who had scalped Phillips Fnlay in the first round and put out the conqueror of Jones, Johnny Goodman, in the second round yesterday. Little was 3 up at the eighth, 2 up at the turn and only 1 up at the end of the first eighteen, as Ouimet began to overhaul his rival. The western youth was 2 up again at the twenty-seventh. But he began to lose control after that, finding trouble as Ouimet, growing steadier, finished the last nine in even par to win.

The Bostonian squared the match finally at the 555-yard thirty-second hole, where Little got into the same trap that proved so costly to Voigt. Ouimet also won the thirty-third, to go one up, as Little got into the woods. Halving the next two holes, it took a great finish by the ex-champion to divide the last hole. His drive, partly topped, found a trap and he needed a fine spoon shot to reach the green in three, twenty feet from the cup. Little sent two smashing woods to within thirty yards of the green and then chipped to within three feet of the cup, dead for a birdie. But the veteran had a great stroke left and rammed his long one home for a birdie himself to end the match.

SEALS SLAUGHTER DUCK OUTFIT, 15-4

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5. (AP)—Climaxing a rousing sixth inning during which they made eleven runs, San Francisco today slaughtered Portland, 15 to 4. It was a merry circle around the bases for the Seals in that hectic sixth, when they made only seven hits, but took eleven runs. Thurston made two homers for the Seals, and Jolley a third. Fullerton, pitching for Portland, allowed four bases on balls. He was charged with the defeat. Score:

Big Six

By the Associated Press

The entire Big Six program yesterday gave way to rain, leaving the great duel for the lead between Babe Herman and Frank O'Doul as unsettled as ever. It was scheduled for a decision in a meeting between the Robins and the Phillies, but Old Man Weather decreed that they should remain separated by only a small fraction of a percentage point for one more day at least. The American League half of the Big Six was not scheduled for action.

WINTER GARDEN TO OPEN TUESDAY NIGHT

Preparing to launch one of the greatest ice-skating and hockey seasons in history, the Winter Garden Ice Palace will be reopened in a blaze of glory Tuesday night, when a program of speed skating, fancy skating and barrel jumping is given.

Among the participants will be some of the foremost skaters in the world, including Paul Wilson from St. Moritz, great winter resort; Margot, greatest woman fancy skater; Emilie Biggs, Ive Palent, Buster Morens and Emil Penner. The latter two are barrel jumpers who will risk their necks.

With the rink overhauled, Winter Garden officials promise one of the greatest hockey seasons in history, with both amateur and professional hockey.

FIELDS'S MANAGER TO BACK AL ISOZ IN GO

Al Isoz, Rockford (Ill.) welterweight, who battles Leo Hernandez, Mexican favorite, tomorrow night at the Main-street Athletic Club, will have Gig Rooney, manager of Jackie Fields, in his corner. Fields leaves tonight for San Francisco to continue training for his 23rd inst. engagement there with Gorilla Jones.

Rooney and Isos will go north Sunday. Rooney believes the Swede puncher, who is undefeated after twenty-one professional fights, will stop Hernandez.

NEW OXY COACH APPOINTED

Bill Anderson to Mentor Tiger Baseball Team in Place of Wilkie Clark

Appointment of Bill Anderson, who for the past five years has been a member of the Occidental coaching staff, as varsity baseball coach to succeed Coach Wilkie Clark was announced yesterday by the Occidental board of athletic control.

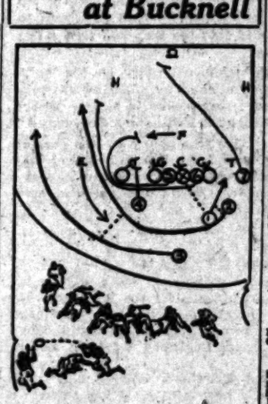
His appointment is in line with a policy announced by the board two years ago, which indicated that all major sports in the future would be coached by regular full-time members of the faculty. In announcement the Occidental board expressed regret at the passing of Wilkie Clark, who has been one of the most successful of all Tiger mentors. He coached the Tigers for six seasons and during that time brought home four conference baseball championships.

BILL ANDERSON.

The newly appointed Tiger baseball coach graduated from the Illinois State Teachers' College in 1913, after playing three years of football, basketball and baseball. He then went to the University of Illinois and played three years of varsity baseball in addition to three years of football under Coach Bob Zuppke. After graduation from Illinois he played three years of semi-pro ball, during which time he coached football and baseball at a high school in South Dakota.

Anderson came to Occidental in 1925 as trainer for Sid Nichols. That year he coached the freshman basketball team and the next year took over the first-year baseball squad, which position he has held successfully for the past four years. He is now serving as assistant football coach to Eddie Kienholz and also as trainer.

Lateral Pass First Tried at Bucknell



BY SOL METZGER

When Coach Carl Snavely brought this lateral pass play to Bucknell a few years ago, after using it with unbelievable results in high-school coaching, he little realized that it would work just about as well in college football.

Against a strong Washington and Jefferson eleven it kept Bucknell in the game until near its close. Later, that same year, it scored twice on Heinie Miller's raging lions from Temple. It was so well thought of by Miller that he used it himself next season against Bucknell in a game that ended in a 7-7 tie. Temple's score resulted from this play.

No. 1 receives the ball from center and plunges at the defensive left tackle, slipping the ball to back No. 2 as he passes him. No. 2 swings wide to the left behind the two guards, Nos. 5 and 6. No. 2 runs well to to the rear of No. 2, No. one, as is the style in lateral pass plays, bothers with the defensive right end. The play breaks according to what this individual elects to do. If the end drives in to tackle No. 2. No. 2 lateral passes to No. 3. If not, Nos. 2 lateral passes to on in their respective positions until a defensive back goes for No. 2. When he does the lateral pass to No. 3, is made.

California has a somewhat similar play, only it's a forward pass. It worked like sixty against Georgia Tech in the Tournament of Roses game last New Year's. I'll describe it tomorrow.

REDS TAKE THIRD TILT IN ROW OVER SOLONS

STOCKTON (Cal.) Sept. 5. (AP)—The Missions made it three straight over Sacramento this afternoon by rallying in the eighth to win, 3 to 1. The Senators broke through Herman Pillette's tight pitching for a run in the seventh on doubles by Backer and Koehler. In the following frame, "Deacon" Jones walked Finn and Boone after two were out and Fuzzy Hufft came through with a triple to right that pushed his team mates across.

SAM MANDELL MEETS VINCENTINI TOMORROW

CHICAGO, Sept. 5. (AP)—Sammy Mandell, who is finding it increasingly difficult to make the necessary lightweight poundage, is through with the so-called "kerosene circuits" and is out after gold. The "Rockford Sheik" expects to throw up his title frequently during the coming season. He engages Luis Vincentini, the rough one from Chile, in a nontitular ten-round skirmish at the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night.

The lightweight champion is casting an eye toward Jackie Fields's welterweight crown. He defeated Fields once and is confident of turning the trick [illegible]

Seven-Run Rally in Third Ruins Red Team

Heavy Hitting of Winners Features Battle

CINCINNATI, Sept. 5. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates completed their solution of the mystery of Red Lucas today by hammering the Cincinnati pitcher from the mound and winning their last game of the season in Cincinnati, 10 to 5. The victory, following one scored last Sunday, completely shattered the spell Lucas had held over the Pirates since June, 1927.

Ervin Brame, Pittsburgh moundsman, started the seven-run rally that brought the Pittsburgh victory in the third inning by bouncing a home run into the right-field bleachers. It was followed by a double, three triples, two singles and a wild throw.

Lucas lasted through this storm, but gave way to Jakie May in the fourth when Lloyd Waner smashed a triple with one on base.

The Reds started by hammering Brame for four hits and three runs in the first inning, but did not score again until the ninth, when an error, followed by a triple by Pinch-hitter Walker, paved the way for two runs. Score:

CLEVELAND COP

DETROIT, Sept. 5. (AP)—Ken Holloway, a former Detroiter, held his ex-team-mates to two hits in five innings today and gave Cleveland a 4-to-0 victory and a clean sweep in the two-game series. The game was called in the first half of the sixth inning because of rain and the score reverted to the fifth.

The Indians hit Phil Page, recently recalled from Toronto, hard and often, while the game lasted. They pounded out four hits and three runs in the first inning, added one more in the fifth and put over three runs which did not count in the sixth frame before the deluge halted the contest. Three of Cleveland's seven hits were for extra bases.

Holloway fanned three Detroit batsmen and gave but one walk in hurling the shortened shutout. Score:

UPLIFTERS PLAY SERVICE SQUAD

Game Sunday Will be Last Between Rival Teams

Eleventh Cavalry Horsemen Won Opening Clash

Will Rogers, Hackley Added to Local Four

Army polo, that pell-mell, breezy style game, will be pitted against the brand played by civilians Sunday afternoon for the second time in two weeks at Rustic Canyon Field, when the Eleventh Cavalry horsemen from the Presidio, at Monterey, cross mallets again with the Uplifters' Club players. Last Sunday the service polo-ists rode rough shod for a 9-to-8 victory over the Uplifters. They rule favorites to repeat their triumph this week-end. Uplifters, however, have made several chang-es in their line-up and they claim they will take the pace away from the army and ride off the field with a victory.

Will Rogers and young Scott Hackley, two ball-pounding for-wards, will be shot into the game against the army this Sunday. Hal E. Roach will play No. 2 for the local team, while Snowy Baker has been switched to the back position. This team has worked out all week at Rogers's private field and they feel they can break the army defense down and crash over for a victory. Hackley and Rogers did not play in last Sun-day's game.

The army polo ponies, which were in splendid shape in last Sunday's game, seem to thrive on the hard going and are in the pink again for the clash this week-end. Capt. D. S. Wood will again command the service players in action. Wood, a noted army polo player, may steal a good deal of the spotlight Sun-day. Last week his No. 2 man, Lieut. Thornburgh, did most of the damage to the local players. Lieut. Hines, the sharpshooting No. 1, is another player the army counts on to star this week. Capt. Falck at No. 3 is expected to keep the game wide open with his long hitting.

The action starts at 2:30.

Stecher Signs for Title Go With Champ

Joe Stecher, instead of Ed (Strangler) Lewis, will meet Champion Gus Sonnenberg in a best-two-out-of-three - fall finish title match at the Olympic, the 16th inst., Promoter Lou Daro announced yes-terday.

Although Lewis defeated Stecher for the right to meet Sonnenberg in a close, tough match at the Olympic Wednes-day night, the punishment that the Nebraskan inflicted on Lewis's right ankle during the closing minutes of the match was found to be serious enough to force the headlock artist to cancel his next appearance here.

Following an examination by Dr. Lloyd Mace, State Athletic Com-mission physician, of Lewis's injury, held before his manager, Billy Sandow, and Promoter Daro, it was announced that the wrestler would not be able to place his full weight on the injured foot for some time to come. The foot, it was re-ported, had swollen to twice its normal size. Whether a bone in the ankle had been chipped, or one or more ligaments torn, was not known. An X-ray examination of the foot is expected to be made today.

Buster Crabbe and Clapp to Swim Sunday

The names of Buster Crabbe, fa-mous Hawaiian swimmer, and Aus-tin Clapp of the Hollywood Athletic Club have been added to the list of natators entered in the Deau-ville-Sea Breeze ocean grind slated for next Sunday afternoon. Crabbe is the talk of the country since his four victories at San Francisco. He placed first in The Times pre-Olympic race at Venice last Sun-day. Clapp was second in this event and it looks as if the two would battle it out again this week-end.

Distance of the race is approxi-mately two and one-half miles. Walter Spence of Philadelphia is another nationally known swimmer entered in the afternoon's race.

RABBIT PUNCHES

the seventh hole when Sir Cyril had been kicking away longer putts and conceding them to the doc.

However, the doc played nice golf this afternoon and he kept the three-up margin he went to lunch with intact at all times. He was one over 4's for fifteen holes this afternoon, and that is pretty hard golf for anybody to beat.

Even the advantage of his Los Angeles invented putter failed to avail Sir Cyril today, mainly because his woods were off. He was hooking 'em all over the place, sending some into the ocean—and worse.

On the finishing hole, for example, Sir Cyril crashed one into the trees not over 100 yards from the tee, which showed plainly something—the dormie state of the match or the gloomy weather or his opponent—was disturbing him.

However, when it was all over, the doc removed his cap for some reason or other, perhaps because Sir Cyril has more names than the doc, and warmly shook the Englishman's hand.

RED-HOT SCRAPS

BOTH the Voigt-Johnston and Ouimet-Little matches were battles all the way.

Johnston went to lunch one down and so did Ouimet.

Johnston was never up until the thirty-second hole, and then a peculiar bit of fortune gave him the hole.

His pitch to the green was wild and the ball struck a tree, bouncing down to strike a sky-gazing spectator on the back and roll on to the green. He won the hole with a five to Voigt's six.

However, Voigt got it back at the seventeenth, and both played beautifully without a stumble on the extra holes until they went to the thirty-ninth. Here Voigt pitched into the trap and took a five while Johnston was down in four.

Johnston's battling spirit comes by him naturally. He has quite a war record, and they tell the story of the time when he was four down with five holes to go and shot four birdies in a row. Today on the extra holes he had two pars and a birdie for a finisher.

Lawson Little, the San Francisco boy who aspires to be a general some day, was deliberate enough about all his shots to have won six-teen matches today. Next to Tommy Armour I don't believe anybody takes more time in studying his shots. Ouimet finally won because he has more golf in his system.

A REAL SPORTSMAN

WHILE Bobby Jones's unwillingness to play off his medal tie with Eugene Homans was a kick in the pants for the Del Monte hotel folks, it was indicative of his real qualities as a true blue sportsman.

Jones knew as well as all the experts gathered here that the play-off would have made the semifinals or the finals of the tourney look like a loose tire.

The gallery would have followed Jones and Homans and let the other boys go gallagher. That would have been a terrible travesty on the battle for the national amateur championship which developed into a free-for-all scramble the minute Mr. Jones was unfortunately eliminated by Johnny Goodman.

Jones had no precedent for refusing to play off the tie. In fact, the precedent was the other way around. In 1923 he and Chick Evans tied for the medal at Flossmoor, and they fought it out to a decision in an extra eighteen holes.

But Jones is such a real guy, as the boys say, from the bottom of his shoes to the top of his head, he saw the situation at a glance, and the agreement between him and Homans was mutual. An extra medal will therefore be struck off for the occasion.

JONES REGISTERS COMPOSURE

SOME of the boys suspected yesterday that Mr. Jones was mad enough at himself to have chucked his clubs in the near-by ocean.

But the only indication of this disturbed condition of mind was a certain high color that mounted in his face, and later in the day he displayed an utter disdain for having been licked by gallerying the Goodman-Little battle.

And today he was the referee of the Harrison Johnston-George Voigt match. And he was cheered to the echo by the crowds every time he approached a green.

One of them is Jess Sweetser, the ex-Yale man who won the national title back in 1922.

He was the victim of a tough break now and then in his morn-ing round with H. Chandler Egan, a grand old sportsman and a fine shot maker, and he registered considerable petulance over the matter.

It looked as if the six down margin he finished the morning round with was largely traceable to the fact that he was was permitting uncontrollable situations to get his "goat."

JUST A GOLF CROAK

ON THE sixteenth hole, for example, he was the victim of a most unfortunate bit of bad luck.

Egan had put a fine second shot on the green ten feet above the pin. Sweetser's ball was on the left edge of the green. He rolled his approach putt to within eight inches of the cup, dead for a four. Egan pulled his putt ever so slightly from a downhill rolling lie and it hung on the lip of the cup for a stymie. The six-inch card was passed be-tween the balls, which put it up to Sweetser to chip the ball into the cup for a four. It was an almost impossible shot, and Sweetser missed.

His expression of disgus when Egan's ball stuck in his line of play and the manner in which he struck Egan's ball away after the miss did not down well with the gallery.

Jones had far more reason to be sore when he lost the match with Goodman, an unsung ex-caddy, than Sweetser in losing to Egan, a former national champion in 1904 and 1905.

PULLS FOR EGAN AND OUIMET

JOY NOTE: Mr. O. B. Keeler, Atlanta journalist pal of Mr. Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., showed up today and announced he was pulling for Chandler Egan and Francis Ouimet to come through in the semifinals tomorrow.

It will then be the man who won his last title in 1905 against the man who captured his last in 1914.

Mr. Keeler has bravely put the Jones defeat behind him and has decided to root valiantly for the old-timers.

A last-minute announcement tonight was that the U.S.G.A. may ask Jones and Homans to play off their medal tie Sunday in spite of the previous statement to the contrary.

AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

NOTABLE PERIOD ON PORT DOCKET

Week-end Traffic Marked by Unusual Situation

Flagships of Five Fleets to Arrive or Depart

Liner H. F. Alexander Due at Head of Procession

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

The flagships of five of the great-est steamship lines serving Los An-geles Harbor will be in evidence here this week-end, a period for vol-ume and variety of services seldom equaled by the port.

Admiral Line's flagship H. F. Alexander starts the parade, with her arrival with 500 travelers from Seattle and San Francisco today. Tomorrow will see the Lasso flag-ship City of Los Angeles out for Hawaii with 300; Nippon Yusen Kaisha's greatest liner, Taiyo Maru, of a fleet of 200 ships, departing with 150 travelers for the Orient; the Panama Pacific flagship Vir-ginia in from New York with 600, and the Dollar liner President Lin-coln in from the Orient.

Nippon's serious bid for trans-Pacific business is illustrated by the presence of three liners, which in-clude besides the Taiyo Maru the Ginyo Maru, out today for Japan from South America, and the O.S.K. motor liner Santos Maru, picking up 130 travelers, bound around the world.

Other off-shore passenger car-riers include the Italian motor liner Pella, sailing today for the Medi-terranean and the sister ship Cel-lina, arriving from the Mediter-ranean; the Australian motor liner Tsnaren, sailing today for Austra-lia, and the Dutch motorship Bin-tang, sailing for Java tomorrow via San Francisco, after two weeks' repairs here.

SUCCESSOR TO LINER SAN JUAN ARRIVES

Replacing the liner San Juan, which sank a week ago off San Francisco, the steamer Wapama arrived with a dozen passengers from San Francisco yesterday noon to enter the regular service of the Los Angeles and San Francisco Navigation Company.

She is a wood steamer, 205 feet long, built at St. Helens, Or., in 1913, and has accommodations for sixty passengers and possesses a speed of eleven knots.

She is under charter from a lum-ber company and will run opposite the Humboldt, each vessel making a round trip weekly between Los Angeles and San Francisco. She sailed north last night with a score of travelers and several hundred tons of freight. Capt. J. A. Johan-son is her master.

Just because they like the ship and the voyage, Mrs. Sarah A. Bleeker, 80 years of age, and her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Echart, of San Gabriel, have made two round trips to Hongkong every year for the last ten years. That means crossing the Pacific forty times and every voyage has been on the Taiyo Maru of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and in the same cabin. They re-turned on that ship yesterday morning.

The liner disembarked ninety-three passengers, others including Dr. John G. Hill, director of the department of religion and archae-ology at the University of Southern California, after a five months' tour of the Orient; Maj. W. W. Hol-land, British cavalry officer, and F. X. D'Almada, pioneer British at-torney in Hongkong, returning in three weeks.

The Taiyo Maru will embark 100 passengers and load 1000 tons of freight before sailing back tomor-row. She is commanded by Capt. S. Hirata, formerly on the Hakone Maru, who succeeds Capt. G. Shina-mura, commander of the new liner Asama Maru, due here next month.

Admiral Line's flagship H. F. Alexander will discontinue her Los Angeles-San Francisco-Seattle run on her arrival at San Francisco Oc-tober 31, but will haul one football excursion here early in November, according to R. B. Schutten, South-ern California manager. She then will lay up at the Bay City until the next summer season. The Ruth and the Emma Alexander will con-tinue their Seattle-to-California run, but will stop regular trips to Ensenada October 1 for the season. Meanwhile, the Admiral Evans and the Admiral Watson will begin the run south out of Seattle in Novem-ber, continuing to San Diego. San Diego, however, will be scratched from the schedule of the Portland-California service in November by the Admiral Peoples, Admiral Ben-son, Admiral Farragut and the Ad-miral Schley, which will turn around at Wilmington each Satur-day.

A. L. Jiminez arrived yesterday overland from San Geronimo, in the Mexican State of Oaxaca, to visit his family in San Pedro. It is his second trip since the Tide-water Oil Company, which he rep-resented here, merged three years ago with the Associated Oil Com-pany, sending him to represent the company in Mexico. He is busy clearing timber off 260,000 acres, preparing to drill for oil, and will return on the liner Venezuela via Mazatlan the 14th inst.

The little motorship Camina sailed yesterday for San Blas with a full cargo of building materials for Boco de la Tomates, where Cuyamel Fruit Company is develop-ing a banana terminal. She brought her record cargo, 7000 bunches of bananas, north last trip, and will repeat. The plantation in from Boco de la Tomates already has 1000 acres of the elongated fruit under cultivation and soon will be ship-ping in greater volume.

The ninety-five-foot fishing boat Nisshin has been sold by George Kobayashi to Manuel M. Medina and documented with her home port as San Diego, where she will fish for Van Camp Sea Food Company. She was built in 1925 by Al Larson and has been delivering to Half-hill Packing Company at Long Beach.
